MEDICAL TRANSFER AND PARTNERSHIP.

30, Bucklersbury, Cheapside.

Mr. ORRIDGE, Medical Transfer Agent and Referee, in offering his services to the Profession, takes leave to point out that the instrumentality of his extensive connexion enables him to afford particular advantages in the furtherance of their respective objects, both to gentlemen who are disposed to RELINQUISH either wholly or in part, and to those also who contemplate COMMENCING Practice.

He has the honour of being permitted to refer to the testimony of gentlemen of the first respectability between whom he has been concerned in matters of transfer and partnership,—a fact that he presumes will be esteemed a satisfactory proof of the sincerity of his endeavours to conduct these transactions in an honourable and straightforward manner.

He is fully aware of the evil of an INDISCRIMINATE publicity in negotiations regarding Medical Practice, and every care is taken that particulars entrusted to him are submitted only to suitable applicants; the private nature of the information given being strictly enjoined.

Gentlemen about to commence, who will communicate (confidentially) the nature and extent of their wishes regarding purchase, can be apprised of appropriate opportunities as they occur.

On occasions where ADVICE is required in forming a correct conclusion as to the worth or eligibility of a practice, Mr. Orridge trusts that his familiarity with the various contingencies that govern value will be found of considerable service to those by whom he is employed.

SPLENDID PRESENTATION BOOK.

Complete in Nine Fasciculi: imperial 4to, 20s. each; half-bound morocco, gilt tops, 9l. 15s.

PATHOLOGY OF THE HUMAN EYE.

Illustrated in a series of coloured Plates from Original Drawings.

By JOHN DALRYMPLE, F.R.S., F.R.C.S.

A work reflecting credit on the profession has been brought to a successful conclusion. Had Mr. Dalrymple's life been spared but for a few short months, the chorus of praise which now greets the completion of this great work would have fallen gratefully on his ear. The Publisher may well be proud of having issued such a work."—London Journal of Medicine.

The satisfaction with which we should have announced the completion of this splendid work is overclouded by the regret which we feel, in common with all who were acquainted with its distinguished and estimable author, at his early death. The value of this work can scarcely be over-estimated: it realizes all we believe it possible for art to effect in the imitation of nature."—British Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.

The Publisher would draw attention to the following facts:—

Only forty copies of this Work remain unsold. The stones being worn, the Plates cannot be reproduced.

The sale of the Work has been principally to Germany and the United States, so that comparatively few copies are to be found in this country.

The price prevents many individuals from becoming purchasers, but the Publisher would respectfully urge upon Hospital Libraries and Societies to secure a copy of so valuable and splendid a Book, an opportunity will soon be lost of referring to a Work—a monument alike to the Author's memory, and of the perfection of Art in our country.

On the 1st of January, 1855, Fasciculus VII., Second Edition, imperial folio, price 5s.

LETTESOMIAN LECTURES ON INSANITY,
Delivered at the Medical Society of London.

By FORBES WINSLOW, M.D., D.C.L., late President of the Society.
8vo, cloth, 5s.

"The Lectures are three in number, each being highly interesting and suggestive. The first is devoted to a treatise on the 'Psychological Vocation of the Physician,' in which is vividly described how great is his responsibility. The second refers to the 'Medical Treatment of Insanity;' and the third, to the all-important subject of 'Medico-legal Evidence in Cases of Insanity.' This, with the other two, contains an amount of matter invaluable of its kind, and well worthy of its eminent writer, whose untiring labours in promoting the increased well-being and welfare of the insane entitle him to hold a high rank among the philanthropists and bright lights of the age."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal of Medical Science' for November."

THE SAME WORK; Illustrated with finely-executed Engravings on Steel, accurately Coloured. 8vo, cloth, 30s.

"The work is very considerably improved in the present edition. Of the plates it is impossible to speak too highly. The representations of the various forms of cutaneous disease are singularly accurate, and the colouring exceeds almost anything we have met with in point of delicacy and finish."—'British and Foreign Medical Review.'

In every respect this work, as an anatomical guide for the student and the practitioner, merits our warmest and most decided praise."—'Medical Gazette.'

PORTRAITS OF DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Folio. Fasciculi I to XI. Containing Four highly-finished Coloured Plates. 20s. each.

"May be truly designated a splendid performance, surpassing, in the artistic beauty of its delineations, and fully equaling in their fidelity to nature, anything which has yet been brought out in this country or on the continent. We can scarcely speak too strongly of the merits of this work."—'British and Foreign Medical Review.'

By W. R. WILDE, F.R.C.S.I.,

Surgeon to St. Mark's Hospital.

"We have no hesitation in expressing our opinion, that the book is by far the best treatise on 'Aural Surgery' which has yet appeared in any language."—Medical Times and Gazette.

"A very excellent work, which we have placed on our shelves beside other standard treatises, the works of good, clear-headed, observing men, not 'specialists,' but sound, scientific practitioners, entitled to the confidence of the Profession."—Association Medical Journal.

"Of this valuable monograph we may most unhesitatingly say, that it will fill a void in our medical literature which has long been felt, and which no work published in this country has ever been adequate to fill. It is emphatically a good book."—Philadelphia Medical Examiner.

"Practitioners who occupy themselves with diseases of the Ear will find here the most useful information on this branch of Pathology."—Annales d'Oculistique.

ON SOME DISEASES OF WOMEN ADMIT- TING OF SURGICAL TREATMENT. Plates, 8vo, cloth, 10s. 6d.

By ISAAC BAKER BROWN,

Surgeon-Accoucheur to St. Mary's Hospital.

"We can recommend Mr. Brown's volume to the Profession as the best treatise in our language on the diseases of females admitting of surgical treatment."—Edinburgh Monthly Journal.

"Mr. Brown has earned for himself a high reputation in the operative treatment of sundry diseases and injuries to which females are peculiarly subject. He now brings before the Profession, in a collected form, his views on the various subjects of practical interest to which his attention has been especially directed; and we can truly say of his work that it is an important addition to obstetrical literature. The operative suggestions and contrivances which Mr. Brown describes exhibit much practical sagacity and skill, and merit the careful attention of every surgeon-accoucheur."—Association Journal.

ELEMENTS OF PSYCHOLOGICAL MEDICINE.

An Introduction to the Practical Study of Insanity. Adapted for Students and Junior Practitioners.

By DANIEL NOBLE, M.D.,

Physician to the Clifton Hall Retreat, near Manchester.

Post 8vo, cloth, 7s. 6d.

"We have great satisfaction in being able warmly to recommend Dr. Noble's little treatise, as extremely well-adapted to supply the desideratum which we have long felt and lamented."—'British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.'

"The book is, indeed, full of instruction. Every student and every practitioner who reads it will be charmed with the cleverness and elegance of the diction. No one can close it without forming a high estimate of the intellectual capacity and the soundness of the practical views of the author."—'The Lancet.'

"There is an earnestness of purpose and love of truth, in every page, that win the attention of the reader, and are well calculated to excite in the mind of the student a taste for the study of this class of diseases."—'Dublin Medical Press.'

THE MODERN TREATMENT OF SYPHILITIC

DISEASES, both Primary and Secondary. Comprising the Treatment of Constitutional and Confirmed Syphilis, by a Safe and Successful Method. With numerous Cases, Formulæ, and Clinical Observations.

By LANGSTON PARKER,

Surgeon to the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham.

Third Edition, 8vo, cloth, 10s.

"Those who have to contend against this most frequent disease cannot do better than consult Mr. Parker's very useful work. His treatment appears to us highly judicious."—'British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.'

"We have no doubt of its efficacy."—'London Journal of Medicine.'

"The third edition of Mr. Parker's valuable treatise may be almost regarded as a new work, so much is it extended and improved. It contains the result of twenty years' experience in the treatment of syphilis, during which period the author states that he has personally treated more than eight thousand cases. In it the Profession is presented with an admirable collection of cases, carefully tabulated and indexed. Mr. Parker's opinions are moderate and judicious, and we consider that he takes a sound view of the mercurial and non-mercurial treatment of the disease."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal of Medical Science.'

JACKSONIAN PRIZE TREATISE OF THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS.

STRICTURE OF THE URETHRA, ITS PATHOLOGY AND TREATMENT.

BY HENRY THOMPSON, F.R.C.S., M.B.,
SURGEON TO THE MARYLEBONE INFIRMARY, &c.

With Plates, 8vo, Cloth, 10s.

"Mr. Thompson has produced a most judicious and excellent work; and any further eulogium would be superfluous, as the volume possesses a substantial merit which cannot fail to insure it success."—'British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.'

"Mr. Thompson deserves no small credit for the dispassionate manner in which he has executed his task, and for the calm, discriminating judgment displayed in appreciating the various methods of treatment. The book is calculated to be most useful to the Profession, and to reflect great credit on Mr. Thompson, both as an author and as a practical surgeon."—'Edinburgh Monthly Journal.'

"We now take leave of Mr. Thompson's treatise, and we cannot better express our approval of it than by stating that, for accuracy, perspicuity, and methodical arrangement of the different departments of the subject, it surpasses any on the pathology and treatment of stricture which we have ever perused. * * * Added to the work is an appendix of many pages, containing most excellent instruction, both pathological and practical."—'Dublin Quarterly Journal.'

"Mr. Thompson has given the Profession by far the most complete treatise on urethral strictures that it possesses, and has produced a monograph that, for laborious pathological research and originality of investigation, does him infinite credit, and establishes his character as one of the ablest pathologists of the day in that department of surgical practice which he has undertaken to elucidate. It is a work that ought to be in the library of every surgeon."—'The Lancet.'

"An elaborate essay, embracing all points connected with the important disease in question."—'Medical Times and Gazette.'

"We cordially recommend to our readers the monograph before us as the most comprehensive, accurate, and practical treatise, on the whole subject of urethral stricture and its consequences, which has yet been presented to the Profession. It will naturally become the text-book to this important department of urinary pathology."—'Ranking's Abstract.'

"An excellent summary of all that is known relating to stricture of the urethra and its treatment."—'Association Journal.'

"Un œuvre vraiment à part pour la valeur et le nombre des documents originaux sur les quels ses conclusions se trouvent appuyées."—'Gaz. Hebdom. de Paris.'

THE PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE OF OBSTETRIC MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

By F. H. RAMSBOTHAM, M.D.,

Physician to the Royal Maternity Charity.

With 120 Illustrations on Steel and Wood, 8vo, cloth, 22s.

"This new edition of Dr. Ramsbotham's work forms one of the most complete and thoroughly useful treatises on midwifery with which we are acquainted. The entire work has undergone a careful revision, with additions. We have already given specimens of the work sufficient to justify our hearty recommendation of it as one of the best guides that the student or practitioner can follow."—British and Foreign Medical Review.

"It is the book of midwifery for students—clear, but not too minute in its details, and sound in its practical instructions. It is so completely illustrated by plates (admirably chosen and executed), that the student must be stupid indeed who does not understand the details of this branch of the science, so far at least as description can make them intelligible."—Dublin Journal of Medical Science.

"This is one of the most beautiful works which have lately issued from the medical press, and is alike creditable to the talents of the author and the enterprise of the publisher. As a work conveying good sound practical precepts, and clearly demonstrating the doctrines of obstetrical science, we can confidently recommend it either to the student or practitioner."—Edinburgh Journal of Medical Science.

"This book forms a very handsome volume. Dr. Ramsbotham has treated the subject in a manner worthy of the reputation he possesses, and has succeeded in forming a book of reference for practitioners, and a solid and easy guide for students. Looking at the contents of the volume, and its remarkably low price, we have no hesitation in saying that it has no parallel in the history of publishing."—Provincial Medical and Surgical Journal.

THE PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICE OF SURGERY,

Illustrated by numerous Engravings on Wood.

BY WILLIAM PIRRIE, F.R.S.E.,

Regius Professor of Surgery in the Marischal College and University of Aberdeen; Surgeon to the Royal Infirmary, &c.

Thick 8vo, cloth, 21s.

"Professor Pirrie has produced a Work which is equally deserving of praise as an admirable text-book for surgical pupils, and as a book of reference for experienced practitioners. We rejoice to find that the chair of surgery is so ably filled in Aberdeen."—London Journal of Medicine.

"This Work deserves to be made generally known, in consequence of its remarkable merits as a treatise on the principles and practice of surgery. It is due to the Author to say, that he has been at great pains to place before the reader faithful descriptions of surgical diseases and injuries, and to explain, upon the most approved principles, the treatment required by each. The accounts of the several operations are given with clearness and ability."—Edinburgh Medical and Surgical Journal.

"Any attempt to analyse such a Work would be tantamount to the criticism of modern surgical literature. Dr. Pirrie seems to us to have executed his task with diligence, fairness, and success. He has collected a large amount of information, arranged it in a convenient form, and expressed it in distinct language."—Edinburgh Monthly Journal of Medical Science.

"The Author has performed his task well and creditably. He has presented a text-book on Surgery which will be acceptable, not only to his own pupils, past and present, but useful in the hands of all who affect the literature, as well as the practice, of Surgery." The value of the Work is enhanced by its numerous woodcuts."—Medical Times and Gazette.

"We have much pleasure in giving it as our deliberate opinion, that by far the greater part of the Work is most carefully, judiciously, and ably written; and Mr. Pirrie has, for the most part, fully succeeded in his endeavour to combine simplicity of arrangement, and conciseness and clearness of description, with the elucidation of sound principles and practice."—British and Foreign Medico-Chirurgical Review.

REYNELL AND WEIGHT, LITTLE PULTENEY STREET.

P R E F A C E .

AFTER ten years of unwearied industry and labour, the "London and Provincial Medical Directory" may be said to have acquired a national character, and achieved a position among works of reference which no rivalry can ever hope to disturb. In the ranks of the Profession its entire recognition is best illustrated by the fact that the lists of the various Colleges and Licensing Bodies are now so rarely called for as to render their annual publication an annual loss, whilst there is scarcely a library or reading-room in the kingdom in which the "Medical Directory" does not find a place. This success has been earned by unceasing toil, and an unrestricted expenditure of money, in collating the materials necessary for the compilation. To the very numerous members of the Profession who have so generously aided us in the undertaking, our most hearty thanks are due, and we can only hope, now that our labours are, for the tenth time, brought to a conclusion, that our reward will be increased patronage and support.

The contents of a Medical Directory can vary but little, though the plan may be sometimes changed with advantage. In the present volume it will be seen that the practitioners of town and country no longer appear in separate lists, but run on alphabetically—an arrangement offering greater facilities for reference. In other departments of the "Directory" changes have been effected, superfluities expunged, and new matter introduced, all with a view to the practical purposes of the work ; among others may be noticed the population of the various towns and villages, by reference to which practitioners may the better estimate their chances of success in the selection of new localities for practice.

More than ordinary pains have been taken to insure the correctness of the present volume, and should here and there an error be discovered, such errors may be in almost every instance charged upon the members of the Profession themselves, through their neglect in returning the Annual Circular. Wherever the dagger is prefixed to the names, the editors cannot be held responsible for the correctness of the particulars which follow—we cannot therefore too strongly impress on the Profession the importance of returning the Annual Circular, for it is only by an annual communication with every individual member of the Profession that accuracy can be insured and the correctness of the “ Directory ” maintained.

To enumerate the advantages the Profession enjoy by the establishment of the “ Medical Directory ” will be deemed by many a work of supererogation ; nevertheless, it is due to ourselves to call attention to the claims we have upon public and professional support.

1st. The “ London and Provincial Medical Directory ” provides, what the Profession never possessed until it was established, an authentic annual register of the name, address, qualifications, &c., of every man practising in the kingdom.

2nd. The “ London and Provincial Medical Directory ” gives, at one view, a Medical Almanac, an account of all the Hospitals, Medical Schools, Charitable Institutions, Scientific Societies, Universities, and Examining Boards connected with the Profession ; it also gives a list of all Assurance Societies, and Asylums for the Insane, with their medical officers, together with other valuable general information.

3rd. The “ London and Provincial Medical Directory ” provides a means of communication between the members of the Profession who are widely distributed throughout the country, and who are thus knit together by a common bond of professional fellowship. Until this "Directory" was established, there were no facilities by which one member of the Profession could trace the "whereabouts" of another, and old friends, whom circumstances had unexpectedly divided, remained as much apart and estranged, though only residing in adjoining counties, as if they had been separated by half the circumference of the globe. The publication of the "Directory" resoldered the broken links, and revived lost friendships: it also introduced to each other men who had no other bond of union beyond that of a common Profession, and was the most effectual means ever devised of eliciting and cherishing an esprit de corps in our ranks.

4th. The "London and Provincial Medical Directory" carefully excludes every unqualified man from its register: it thus offers an instant means for discovering such irregular practitioners, and for bringing them to justice. In this respect, it entirely supersedes the Collegiate Registers, which, in most cases in which a prosecution is desirable, are practically useless; and it anticipates a State Register, which in the opinion of every enlightened medical reformer is deemed the corner-stone upon which the fabric of medical legislation must be raised.

5th. The "London and Provincial Medical Directory" is also an accurate and permanent guide in all professional matters for the public, who, by simple reference to its pages, are put in possession of whatever information they may require, with respect either to individuals or institutions. In this way it has been effectual, on many occasions, in bringing into contempt the arts of charlatans, whose unlicensed pretensions it has exposed, and whom it has thus stripped of the false plumage in which they had been endeavouring to impose on public credulity. The numerous occasions on which the "London and Provincial Medical Directory" has been appealed to in law courts, and in the newspaper press, are sufficient proof of its eminent utility in this respect. Further to show the great importance of the "Directory," as regards the information it supplies to the public, it may be observed that it is the book of reference in relation to the Profession in all respectable scientific and commercial institutions in the country.

6th. The "London and Provincial Medical Directory" exercises an important influence in raising the tone of the Profession, and in promoting the scientific qualification of its members; it also induces gentlemen having only foreign degrees, and other imperfect qualifications, to obtain some British diploma to enable them to be registered in the "Directory" as British practitioners; many instances having occurred of gentlemen who have resumed their studies to qualify themselves for examination in this country, after their names had been refused admission into the "Directory."

7th. The "London and Provincial Medical Directory" thus exerts a powerful moral influence, directed to the exposure of quackery, and to the elevation and amelioration of the Profession, by the motives it offers for uniformity of qualification, by the facilities of intercommunication which it affords, and the bond of union, strength, and good-will which is thus formed between all sections and orders of the Profession.

THE EDITORS most earnestly and respectfully request that Gentlemen will return the "CIRCULAR," which is annually sent to them in August, IMMEDIATELY on its receipt, without reference as to whether any alteration be required or not; the accuracy of the DIRECTORY mainly depending on the Annual Returns being duly and carefully made.

SUPPLEMENTAL LIST

OF THE

LONDON AND PROVINCIAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY.

The following is a list of persons practising the medical profession in the provinces, who have not made any return of the nature of their qualifications, in reply to repeated applications.

To those gentlemen in the list who may be legally qualified, we beg to express our regret at being compelled to omit them, for the reasons above mentioned, from the list of those who have made their qualifications known.

None can, with the slightest show of reason, complain, as it is from their own neglect or omission that we are unable to set forth their qualifications; and all must admit that it would have been inconsistent with the professed object of the work to include them in a "list of known qualified practitioners." CONTINENTAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY.

The incompleteness of this List will be at once evident to every Reader ; nevertheless, it is permitted to appear, with the conviction that in time the information in which at present it is deficient will be supplied. The whole history of the Directory, in the compilation of every new feature, shows the impossibility of perfecting a list in the outset.

THE PROVINCIAL MEDICAL DIRECTORY. 1855.

* * Where the limit of a Parliamentary City or Borough differs from that of the Municipal, the population of the latter has been preferred, in order to approximate as near as possible to the TOWN population.

The population of both Parliamentary and Municipal limits is given, where the population of the former differed considerably from that of the latter, as in the case of some of the principal Cities and Boroughs.

NOTE.—In some few cases the population is not inserted after the name of the place, as it was not distinguished at the Census of 1851; but the name and population of the Parish, &c., in which it is situated, is inserted in brackets, except in a few instances where it could not be ascertained.

The orthography of the names of places, as well as their designation, as Towns, Parishes, Villages, Tythings, &c., is generally that which was adopted at the Census of 1851.

The Appointments of Assistant-Surgeons rest with the Director-General, Dr. Andrew Smith. A Board of Medical Officers examines all Candidates for Appointments in the Medical Department of the Army, as to their Professional Qualifications for the Service. In addition to the subjects mentioned in the subjoined Regulations which are imperative, they are expected to be particularly well acquainted with—1st, Tropical Diseases, and Diseases to which Soldiers are most liable; 2nd, Military Surgery; 3rd, Diseases of the Eye; 4th, Cutaneous Diseases; Willan's Classification of this branch of Medicine, and Cullen's Nosology of Diseases are referred to: because the Army Medical Returns are made in conformity with their modes of nosological arrangement. They are required to translate, vivâ voce a passage from a Greek or Latin Author, to have in their possession the most approved modern books on the various branches of Medicine and Surgery; those which are commonly met with in the Service are the Works of Hunter, Hennen, Guthrie, Cooper, Milligan, Ballingall, and Marshall on Examination of Recruits and Invalids; and those of Chisholm, Gregory, Bancroft, Blane, Burnet, Johnstone, and Annesley; and Mason Good, on Medicine and Diseases peculiar to warm Climates. They are required to produce such works, with their names inscribed therein, in order the better to satisfy the Examiner that they are bonâ fide their own property. Blank forms to the following effect must be filled up at least to the extent of regulations, and sent in one clear week before the Candidate can be admitted for Examination.

Promotions in the medical department of the army are regulated in the junior classes from assistant-surgeons to surgeons, according to seniority; but promotions in the higher grades of the service are selections from the whole body of medical officers.

The average number of years' service is from nine to ten, before an assistant obtains a full surgeoncy. No army medical officer can realize any sum of money on his commission, like the purely military officer, as he, in no instance, purchases his commission.

Sir W. Burnett, M.D., &c.

The appointments of the assistant-surgeon in the Royal Navy are made by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, upon the recommendation of the Director-General, Sir William Burnett. All allowances for children are discretionary.

Medical officers are rated — Inspectors, Deputy-Inspectors, Surgeons, Assistant-Surgeons, in lieu of the former titles which have become obsolete, excepting so far as regards those who are enjoying half-pay under the old grades. Their privileges as commission-officers commence only from the date of their appointment of assistant-surgeon, which is consequent on their becoming qualified for it. [The chances of promotion, as in the army department, are very precarious; many ameliorations in the duties, attended with elevation in grade, and some increase of pay, have lately taken place in the service; but in this respect it still falls short of the same department in the army. Vide "Pay of Army Departments." The greatest drawback both to promotion, and thereby to increase of pay, is constituted by those contingencies which so frequently remove the naval officer from full-pay service, and, consequently, reduce him to half-pay, which is not rated.]

*ORDNANCE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Woolwich.

Master-General. Lieut.-General The Right Hon. Lord Raglan.—Director-General of the Army and Ordnance Medical Department, Dr. A. Smith.—Inspector-General, J. Stewart. Deputy Inspector-General, Dr. J. Verling.

The age of every individual must be verified by a certificate of his baptism, if it can be procured; but if not, by a solemn declaration of one of his parents, or of some other person who can attest the date of his birth.

The pay is regulated to that of the army service in general.

*THE EAST INDIA COMPANY'S MEDICAL SERVICE.

DEPOT AT WARLEY, ESSEX.—Commandant, Col. E. Hay.

Surgeon, Dr. A. R. Jackson.

LONDON.—Examining Medical Officer, Dr. Scott.

The appointment of assistant-surgeons of the East India Service is in the individual patronage of the directors, exactly as all the appointments of their civil, military, and clerical services are. When a nomination is obtained from a director, a form of certificate printed expressly for the purpose of the blanks being properly filled and signed previously to the assistant-surgeon being nominated, can be obtained by application at the Cadet-office, East India House. Mr. Clarke, of the Cadet department, East India House, registers both the military cadets and assistant-surgeons, the medical being considered a branch of the military department. All assistant-surgeons going out are under military law, and are lent to the civil departments of Government when required. Assistant surgeons, with these certificates, duly signed by the person who obtained their nomination from the director, are desired to present themselves to Mr. T. R. Clarke, by ten o'clock in the morning, in order that they may have their nominations prepared against either the meeting of the committee, or the arrival of the nominating director.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF CHEMISTRY, 315, OXFORD STREET.

The Royal College of Chemistry has recently become the property of the Government, and its spacious and well-furnished Laboratories are now used for the instruction of the pupils of the Metropolitan School of Science applied to Mining and the Arts. The instruction in this Institution is under the superintendence of Professor A. W. Hofman, Ph. D., and consists of—

- I. A course of Practical Analysis in the Laboratory.
- II. A series of Lectures on General Chemistry.

The Laboratory instruction, which is divided into a qualitative and quantitative course, is necessarily adapted to the previous knowledge of the student, such as he may have acquired by attending the chemical lectures delivered at the Institution. The course commences with experimental exercises, calculated to make the pupil practically acquainted with the properties of the simple substances. The next subjects of his study are analytical properties of the elements, and of their most important compounds. The knowledge thus acquired is subsequently put into practice the performance of a series of analyses, so arranged as to lead the student, step by step, from the simplest to the most complicated cases, both qualitative and quantitative analysis. Particular attention is paid to the use of the blow-pipe, and the various methods of commercial testing, alkalimetry, chlorimetry, &c.

Fundamental studies in Practical Chemistry are the same for all students, how different the future pursuit may be to which the knowledge thus acquired will be applied. It is only after the most important methods of dissolving, separating, and estimating substances have been mastered, and sufficient practice and skill in experiment have been acquired, that the course of each student diverges into some special line. This will necessarily vary with his abilities and his ultimate objects.

In the laboratory student works independently; there are no classes. Demonstrations are superintended by the Professor and his assistants. A laboratory with drawers, cupboard, and shelves, is appropriated to every pupil. The institution supplies gas, fuel, and re-agents. Larger and more expensive instruments, such as air-pumps, thermometers, barometers, condensing apparatus, large evaporating dishes, &c., may be had on loan from the library. The student has to provide himself only with the apparatus required in the Laboratory Regulations.

Walsh, 42, Half-moon-street, Piccadilly; Collector, C. Tidbury, 53, Berners-street; Bankers, Messrs. Sapse, Barnbury, and Co., 77, Lombard-street.

This Society was formed in the year 1778, by Dr. T. Denman, Dr. R. Denison, Dr. A. Douglas, Dr. J. Sims, Dr. J. Squire, W. Chamberlain, and T. Randall, with the object of establishing a fund for relief of those Widows and Orphans of deceased Members who might need and be deserving of assistance.

The Society's affairs are managed by a President, twelve Vice-Presidents, three Treasurers, and twenty-four Directors, who are elected by the Members annually, and whose services are gratuitous.

The permanent efficiency of the Society depends on the maintenance of a due proportion between the available income and the claims made on the funds. Computations have been made by experienced actuaries on such points as are susceptible of calculation by way of average.

The proportion of Members whose families may become claimants for relief scarcely admits of calculation; but the experience of sixty years has proved the wisdom and benevolence with which the Society was planned, and the prudence and efficiency with which its affairs have been conducted.

The Society is enrolled among Friendly Societies. The capital Stock is invested in Government securities, chiefly with the National Debt Commissioners, and amounts to more than 50,000*l*. More than 46,000*l*. has been distributed among persons eligible to receive relief.

106 Widows and 164 Children have been relieved since 1798. 32 Widows and 24 Children are now receiving relief, which amounts to about 1,600*l*. per annum. The Society contains—Life Members, 233; Annual Subscribers, 141—total, 374.

A General Meeting of the Members is held twice a year—viz., in April and October.

A Court of Directors is held on the first Wednesday in the months of March, June, September, and December, when Members are admitted by Ballot.

All legally qualified Medical Practitioners residing in any part of the County of Middlesex, or within seven miles of the General Post Office, St. Martin's-le-Grand, are eligible as Members.

The Secretary attends every Wednesday from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Office of the Society, 53, Berners-street. Laws, Lists, and Forms of Proposal may be obtained at any time on personal application, or they will be forwarded on enclosing a postage-stamp for each.

MEDICAL BENEVOLENT FUND—Established 1836. — President, Sir J. Clark, M.D.; Trustees, Sir C. Hastings, M.D., of Worcester; Sir

J. Clark; W. Newnham, Farnham; Mr. Toynbee; Treasurer, W. Newnham, Farnham; Joint Honorary Secretaries, Dr J. Bright and Mr Toynbee.

An earnest appeal on behalf of this Fund is now made to the profession at large, in the confident expectation that such appeal cannot be in vain. Instituted in the year 1836, it has pursued its unwearied course of usefulness and efficiency; it has passed its day of small things, and now stands before the public as one of the most useful of the medical charities. Its income has increased from an average of 50*l.* a year for the first five years, 718*l.* 6*s.* in the last year; and the number of cases relieved has augmented from an average of three, in the first five years, to the fearful number of sixty-four during the last year; and, besides this casual relief, the Benevolent Fund distributed 170*l.* in annuities, thus making a sum of nearly 900*l.* a-year actually expended in the relief of misery. The Benevolent Fund is distinguished by doing much and promising little. The Committee meet at 11 New Burlington-street, on the last Tuesday of every month, to receive, and when need be, to relieve the necessitous. In five months of the past year, twenty-five cases were relieved, and several are now waiting for consideration,—ay, waiting for the means of relief, because the present funds are fearfully inadequate to the relief of the sick, the aged, the infirm, the poor, the orphan, the widow, the aged practitioner, the aged and infirm, and want, and sickness, and sorrow, and destitution, which are daily presented to the Committee. And is it possible that such a fact should be made known to the profession at large, and not meet with a corresponding answer? Is it possible that the tear of the widowed mother—the cry of the hapless orphan, shall be heard in vain? Is it possible that the wants of the aged practitioner, disabled from practice by disease of a vital organ, shall be made known among upwards of 20,000 brethren, and that they should reply, “Be ye warmed, and be ye filled,” and yet should refuse to give of their substance to supply these wants? Oh! let it be said that the cold heart of man is inaccessible to this appeal in his starving brother!

W. NEWNHAM, Treasurer.

THE LONDON AND PROVINCIAL MEDICAL PROTECTION AND BENEVOLENT SOCIETY, 43, LINCOLN'S-INN-FIELDS.—President, J. Probert; Trustees, J. Bowling, Hammersmith; N. Clifton, Islington; H. Day, Isleworth; J. Probert, New Cavendish-street; Dr. Webster, Dulwich; Treasurer, J. Ince; Bankers, Messrs Gosling and Sharp, 19, Fleet-street; Secretary and Superintendent, J. Capes.

The objects of the Society are—

1st. To provide a safe and efficient medium by which the Medical Profession may secure more certain and regular payment for their services; with every consideration for the convenience of those who are willing, but unable exactly to discharge their liabilities; with rigour for those who are able, and have not the disposition, to remunerate Medical men.

These ends to be accomplished without interfering with the valuable labours of the Members of the Profession, or exposing them to the unpleasantness which necessarily attends applications for money, or the uncertain results of employing private collectors.

2nd. With the machinery necessary for carrying out the foregoing purposes, to establish a means of privately negotiating the transfer of practices and partnerships, and the providing of assistants and pupils.

3rd. To raise a Benevolent Fund by devoting to that object the profits arising from the general operations of the Society,

The Society consists of qualified Medical Practitioners only. An Subscription, One Guinea; a firm consisting of two partners, a Guinea a half; a firm of three partners, Two Guineas.

The general business is carried on by a Staff of Officers at the office, 43, Lincoln s-inn-fields, together with trustworthy agents appointed in Town and Country, the whole of whom are under the direction and superintendence of the Committee.

The Metropolitan Members of the Committee, with the Trustees, are responsible for all moneys received by the Society.

Propert, 6, New Cavendish-street; Secretaries, Rev. D. Laing, D.D.; D. Finney, W. C. Meates; Bankers, Messrs. Goslings and Sharpe, 19, Fleet street.

The Medical Benevolent College has been founded to provide: First, An Asylum, in which 100 Pensioners, who must be duly qualified Medical Men, or their Widows (possessing incomes of at least 15*l.* a year), shall be provided with three furnished rooms each, and with such additional assistance and accommodation as the funds may permit. The Council, however, confidently hope that the Society will be enabled wholly to support a few deserving persons not possessed of the required income. Secondly, A School, in which a liberal education will be given to 100 boys, the Sons duly qualified Medical Men; three-fourths of whom will pay 30*l.* a year each for education, board, lodging, and washing; while the rest will be Orphans educated and maintained entirely at the expense of the Society. Thirdly. To grant Annuities, and occasional pecuniary assistance to distressed Members of the Medical Profession or their families, as the funds of the College may from time to time permit.

The manner in which the Profession throughout England and Wales have responded to the call, shows how urgently the want of the proposed Institution is felt, while it proves the warm sympathy and liberal generosity with which the claims of the less fortunate Members of the Profession are met. But the undertaking, though professedly Medical, claims aid and countenance from that Public, in whose service the Medical Man spends his days, for whom his time and energy, and too often his life, are sacrificed; from a Public which, dazzled by the stars of the Profession, overlook those lesser lights which humbly, earnestly, truthfully, and unselfishly, study to benefit their race by the diffusion of the blessings revealed by science. From no class of men does the country derive so much advantage, at so little cost; there is no body of men who, with so little regard to aggrandisement, and under so heavy a load of moral responsibility, physical discomfort, and actual danger to themselves and their families, do so much unknown and unrequited.

This is not the place to display the secret annals of the Profession. But let those who doubt that there is a large debt of gratitude on the part of the general Public towards the Medical Profession, remember that the scourge of Small Pox has been all but removed by the labours of Medical Men; let them call to mind the Sanitary agitation, and ask themselves whom they have to thank for the blessings it has wrought—who commenced, and who promoted it? Who insisted upon the removal of churchyards from populous neighbourhoods? Who taught the importance of ventilation, of watering, of sewerage? and the bearing of these and allied reforms upon our health and happiness? Who but those very men, who might have been prompted to hide, had they listened to mercenary whisperings, these blemishes of the body politic, rather than expose them for correction? It is with a consciousness that the medical profession have deserved well of their country, that their labours meet with scanty acknowledgement, and that their noblest achievements fail to secure for them rewards that crown the honourable ambition of other professions, that they do not hesitate to ask their friends out of the profession to support the "Medical Benevolent College." It is hoped that this may be viewed as an opportunity for our countrymen to testify their approbation of the good deeds of the medical practitioners as a body; that, by aiding in the speedy completion of the College, they will offer to the members of a toiling and anxious profession the proudest reward to which an Englishman can aspire—the assurance of his country's gratitude.

The project is now starting into life; the first stone has already been laid in a salubrious and elevated spot of one of our loveliest counties, in the vicinity of Epsom; the contract for the part of the edifice first to be completed has recently been signed, and in the ensuing spring we may confidently hope to see the walls rising from the ground. But already the original estimates have been far exceeded; the necessary extension of the plan, and the progressive rise in the price of labour and material, influences the "Medical Benevolent College" to such an extent that considerably more than the amount originally thought sufficient will now be required. Unless the public at large admit the claim we have feebly urged, unless our fellow-countrymen respond to this appeal with their wonted liberality, it is scarcely possible that the medical profession will possess the means to carry out the plans to the full. Here, then, is an opportunity for each friend to the profession—and who has not individually to thank some medical friend for an act of devotion to himself?—to discharge his share by word and deed, of what may not unjustly be termed a national obligation.

Donors of ten guineas are life governors of the College; subscribers of one guinea annually are governors during the continuance of their subscription.

Any information with regard to the details of the Institution will gladly be communicated to parties addressing inquiries to the secretary, at the offices of the College, 37, Soho-square, by whom, as well as by members of the council, subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received; and also by the treasurer, and the following bankers:—Messrs. TRAINING INSTITUTIONS FOR NURSES.

The frequent inconveniences to which medical men are subjected, in being unable to provide at a short notice suitable nurses for their patients, has induced us to furnish the address of two Institutions, at present in successful operation, devoted to the purpose of training women to the various duties necessary to make good and efficient nurses. We do so with the more pleasure from the fact, that after a perusal of the last "Report of the Institutions" in question, as well as the "Rules and Regulations" established for their government and guidance, we are convinced that they merit all the support that can be extended to them; and that, moreover, in a moral point of view, they are calculated to be of great benefit to the community at large. We regret that want of space will not permit us to give their prospectuses.

THE TRAINING INSTITUTION FOR NURSES IS SITUATE AT 3, QUEEN-SQUARE, WESTMINSTER.

Its government consists of a President (the Lord Bishop of London, for the time being), a Council, a Master who must be a Clergyman, and a Lady Superintendent, whilst its present establishment consists of Sisters, Nurses, and Probationers in process of training. It is partly supported by subscriptions and donations, and partly from funds arising from the hire of nurses by those who can well afford to pay for the services rendered them; but it is to be remarked that one important feature of the Institution is that its advantages are extended to the poor gratuitously. Nurses are not provided for lying-in cases except in cases of emergency. Communications may be addressed to the Rev. the Master or to the Lady Superintendent,

THE INSTITUTION OF NURSING SISTERS, 4, DEVONSHIRE-SQUARE, BISHOPSGATE.

This Institution was established in 1840, and appears to be at present progressing very satisfactorily. It is under the supervision and government of a Committee of ladies, of whom Lady Inglis is the President, with Treasurer and Secretaries, also ladies. Its rules and regulations, as well as its objects, are so identical with those of the previously-mentioned institution, that it is unnecessary to recapitulate them.

MEDICAL PRIZES.

[At the suggestion of several Subscribers, and in order to make the DIRECTORY as completely as possible the Handbook of the Profession, we have grouped together here the various Medical and Surgical Prizes open to competition to the Profession from year to year. We do not profess to give all the Scientific Prizes, or the list of those, for instance, in France, where a large number open to the world are offered yearly for competition; it seems more desirable to limit the list to those purely of English Schools, and to confine the number to those exclusively Medical and Surgical.]

FEES CLAIMABLE BY MEDICAL WITNESSES.

Coroner's inquest for attending and giving medical evidence, in obedience to order framed according to schedule A of the 6 and 7 William IV, cap. 89, only called "The Medical Witness Act" 1*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.*

The witness has also, by direction of the Coroner, according to the like made a post-mortem examination of the body of the person deceased, on attending the inquest, and giving evidence thereon, the witness is to receive a fee of 2*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

Order to make a "post-mortem examination" comprehends a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach, if such be necessary, as well as an analysis of any other fluid or substance placed in the hands of the witness by order of the coroner, under suspicion that it was concerned in the demise of the person deceased; the chemical analysis is a part of the autopsy, and no extra or additional fee is recoverable for such analysis. A medical witness whose skill a post-mortem examination is confided, is presumed to be competent to make every portion of a pathological or anatomical inspection; or, to derive aid in his investigation from a professed chemist, or other suitably accomplished person, he must himself prove at the inquest all the substances detected at the autopsy.

For attending to give medical evidence at trials in the criminal courts and at assizes at law 1*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* to 2*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

Medical witnesses who, at inquests, are bound over by the coroner to appear at sessions or assizes to give evidence at a trial for manslaughter or murder, are paid for attending at the trial, in addition to the payment at the inquest, a sum per day not fixed by law, but varying according to the custom of the county. The sum is probably nowhere less than a guinea per day. When a medical witness is examined at a police court, or before a bench of magistrates, he obtains no fee for his evidence there, and is remunerated only at the criminal court where the trial of the prisoner takes place. This is so in principle, as it opens a temptation to strain evidence against the prisoner at the preliminary enquiry. The medical witness on such occasions should obtain from the committing magistrate or justices a certificate of his appointment to be paid at the trial, and present it at the office of the clerk of the court, or other place where the fees of witnesses for attending the criminal trial are paid.

A surgeon, called by a police officer to treat an accident, or a person in a state of insensibility, has a legal claim upon the patient, or his or her friends. However, if he be summoned by the police to attend a sick person at the police-house, he is allowed 3*s.* 6*d.* for a visit in the day-time, and 7*s.* if after 6 o'clock at night. These fees are paid by the police authorities.

The statute is so very precise in relation to the attendance and claims of medical gentlemen at coroners' inquests, and it is so necessary that it should be clearly comprehended, in order to save them needless trouble, that we join the following exposition of the law:—

First and chiefly it should be understood, that to entitle a medical witness to receive a fee in the coroner's court, he must have received an order to attend the court, or to open the dead body, signed by the coroner, framed in the following terms:—

FEES CLAIMABLE BY MEDICAL WITNESSES.

For a coroner's inquest for attending and giving medical evidence, in obedience to the order framed according to schedule A of the 6 and 7 William IV, cap. 89, commonly called "The Medical Witness Act" 1*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.*

If the witness has also, by direction of the Coroner, according to the like order, made a post-mortem examination of the body of the person deceased, and, on attending the inquest, and giving evidence thereon, the witness is entitled to receive a fee of 2*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

A medical witness whose skill a post-mortem examination is confided, is presumed to be competent to make every portion of a pathological or anatomical inspection; or, if he derive aid in his investigation from a professed chemist, or other specially accomplished person, he must himself prove at the inquest all the appearances detected at the autopsy.

For attending to give medical evidence at trials in the criminal courts and suits at law 1*l.* 1*s.* 0*d.* to 2*l.* 2*s.* 0*d.*

Medical witnesses who, at inquests, are bound over by the coroner to appear at the sessions or assizes to give evidence at a trial for manslaughter or murder, are paid for attending at the trial, in addition to the payment at the inquest, a sum per day not fixed by law, but varying according to the custom of the county. The sum is probably nowhere less than a guinea per day. When a medical witness is examined at a police court, or before a bench of magistrates, he obtains no fee for his evidence there, and is remunerated only at the criminal court where the trial of the prisoner takes place. This is just in principle, as it opens a temptation to strain evidence against the accused at the preliminary enquiry. The medical witness on such occasions could obtain from the committing magistrate or justices a certificate of his claim to be paid at the trial, and present it at the office of the clerk of the gaols, or other place where the fees of witnesses for attending the criminal court are paid.

A surgeon, called by a police officer to treat an accident, or a person in a state of insensibility, has a legal claim upon the patient, or his or her friends.

However, if he be summoned by the police to attend a sick person at the workhouse, he is allowed 3*s.* 6*d.* for a visit in the day-time, and 7*s.* if after nine o'clock at night. These fees are paid by the police authorities.

The statute is so very precise in relation to the attendance and claims of medical gentlemen at coroners' inquests, and it is so necessary that it should be clearly comprehended, in order to save them needless trouble, that we subjoin the following exposition of the law :—

First and chiefly it should be understood, that to entitle a medical witness to receive a fee in the coroner's court, he must have received an order to attend the court, or to open the dead body, signed by the coroner, framed in the following terms :—

"Coroner's inquest at the in the parish of in the county of upon the body of

"By virtue of this my order, as coroner for you are required to appear before me and the jury at the place aforesaid, on the . . . day of one thousand eight hundred and . . . at . . o'clock on the noon to give evidence touching the cause of the death of the aforesaid person; and make, or assist in making, a post-mortem examination of the body, (with an analysis of the contents of the stomach, if such be necessary,) and report thereon at the said inquest.

"To Mr. "A. B. coroner."

When any legally qualified medical practitioner has attended upon any inquest in obedience to any such order, as aforesaid, of the coroner, the said practitioner shall, for such attendance at any inquest in Great Britain, be entitled to receive such remuneration or fee as is mentioned in the table marked B in the "Table of Fees."—Section III of the Act.

At the same time that it provides for the payment of medical witnesses who previously had no security for payment, the Act throughout indicates that the summoning of witnesses to make post-mortem examinations and give medical testimony, shall rest with the coroner himself, expressed by the "order" above printed, and not be subject to the whim or discretion of any officer of Police, constable, beadle, or headborough; and without the possession of the "order" in question, a medical witness cannot legally claim the payment of the fee. The statute, however, does not exonerate medical gentlemen from the duty of obeying a common summons signed by the constable, under the warrant to assemble the inquest, since it may happen that professional men may be the proper persons to testify to facts that do not possess a medical character, and they are in law as fully bound to obey that summons as the express medical order of the coroner.

OBITUARY.

ACKLAND, EDWARD, M.D. at his residence, Amiens-street, Dublin. (Date of decease unknown.)

AIKIN, ARTHUR, F.L.S. at his residence, 7, Bloomsbury-square, aged 80. (Date of decease unknown.) Although not a member of the medical profession, Mr. Aikin has been connected, as Professor of Chemistry, with one of our chief Medical Schools, and during a period of 30 years had taken an active part in the education of members of the medical profession. He was one of the founders of the Geological Society, and in 1814 was its Secretary. From 1817 to 1839, he acted as Secretary to the Society of Arts, and to its "Transactions" contributed several papers of great value. In 1821, he with the late Mr. W. Allen occupied the chair of Chemistry at Guy's Hospital, and continued to discharge the duties of his office until 1851, when on account of increasing infirmities he was compelled to resign. Chemistry was his favourite study, and in this branch of science he excelled; he was also well versed in botany, and a good classical scholar. Mr. Aikin was greatly esteemed and beloved, and his decease has caused much regret.

ALANSON, THOMAS GEORGE, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1845 (of Walton-on-the-Hill, Liverpool), in London, on July 2. Mr. Alanson had held the appointment of Honorary Surgeon to the Liverpool Dispensary.

ANDERSON, DAVID, M.D. Edin. Second Class Staff Surgeon, at the Military Hospital, Scutari, on Nov. 4. The deceased gentleman was a son of A. Anderson, Esq., of Whiteside, Dumfriesshire, and had, as Assistant-Surgeon (1844) of the 9th Foot, borne his share in the dangers and privations of the Sutlej campaign, in which he served at Moodkee, Ferozeshah, and Sobraon. His premature death is deeply lamented. He was an accomplished physician, a skilful surgeon, a dexterous operator; zealous, humane, and unremitting in his attention to the sick and wounded. In performing an operation he sustained an injury of the hand, in consequence of which his general health suffered, and inflammation of the chest following soon after, carried him off in the prime of life, and from a sphere of usefulness in which his services of late have been invaluable. He may be said to have fallen on the Professional battle-field.

ARMSTRONG, C. E., Surgeon, at his residence, Twyford, Bucks, on Sept. 14, aged 74. Mr. Armstrong had not practised for more than twenty years, but employed his time, energies, and worldly goods, in the alleviation of the sufferings and necessities of the poor, by whom he was greatly beloved.

ASKHAM, WILLIAM FRANCIS, L.S.A. 1834, at Eckingham, Derbyshire, on March 1.

BABINGTON, WILLIAM F., Staff-Surgeon, at Poonah, on May 10, aged 38. The deceased was a son of the late Stephen Babington, Esq. of the Bombay Civil Service.

BACON, JOHN FERGUSSON, late Surgeon of the Bengal Medical Establishment, at Exeter, on July 14.

BALFOUR, HUGH MELVILLE, M.D., Assistant-Surgeon to the 84th Regiment, on Dec. 29, 1853, at Edinburgh.

BALLANTINE, J. G. G., on the retired list, at New York. (Date of decease unknown.)

BARCLAY, DAVID, M.D. St. Andrew's, 1821; L.R.C.S. Edin. 1815; at Ceres, Fifeshire. (Date of decease unknown.)

BARNETT, HARRY FREDERICK, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1847; L.S.A. 1849; at Trinidad, in Dec., 1843, aged 30. The deceased resided many years in Birmingham, and formerly held the appointment of Assistant-Surgeon to the Southern Hospital, Liverpool, and afterwards as House-Surgeon to the Birmingham Lying-in Hospital.

BARTON, ZEPHANIAH, M.D. Erlangen, 1840; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1801; on Nov. 17, at his residence, Market Rasen, Lincolnshire, aged 74. Mr. Barton passed through life with the acknowledged esteem and friendship of a very numerous acquaintance. He suffered much for some years past, particularly during the last twelve months, from disease of the prostate gland. Having had a large country practice for fifty-three years, he was necessarily much on horseback: and he considered an injury received in the saddle as the cause of his complaint. Mr. Barton was a governor of the Lincoln Lunatic Asylum, and also for several years the Secretary and Treasurer of the Lincolnshire Medical Benevolent Society, which acknowledged his services by a very handsome present on his retirement from office. On February 17, 1852, he received, from his friends and patients in the neighbourhood of Market Rasen a very handsome silver salver, and a purse containing 250*l.*, as a testimonial of their esteem. Mr. Barton was a member of the Council of the Provincial Medical and Surgical Association.

BASTOW, JOHN, Surgeon, at Hardcastle-lane, Bradford, on February 5, aged 62.

BATT, —, upwards of twenty years Resident-Surgeon of the Reading Dispensary, at Whitchurch, Hants, on May 14, aged 80.

BAYLEY, EDWARD, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1836; L.S.A. 1841; of Cheswold, Drayton, Salop. (Date of decease unknown.)

BEARDMORE, FREDERICK JOSHUA, Surgeon, at West Maitland, New South Wales, on Dec. 8, 1853, aged 39.

BECKWITH, HENRY, Assistant-Surgeon in the 49th Regiment, on Oct. 1, at Sebastopol. He died of cholera, after a few hours' illness, having been in good health (although he had gone through great fatigue) up to the previous day, when he was attacked with this fatal disease. He prosecuted his medical studies for several years in the city of York, under Mr. William Anderson, and was a distinguished and esteemed student of the York Hospital and the York School of Medicine. During this time, he was well known to, and much noticed by, the principal families of York and the neighbourhood, not only for his gentlemanly and pleasing manners, but as being the eldest son of the late highly-respected Rev. — Beckwith, of Collingham, one of the vicars-choral of York Cathedral. Had his life been spared, there is every probability that, from his superior abilities, he would have been raised to a high post in the medical staff of the army.

BELL, ADAM, M.D., at Venice, on his way to India, on July 9.

BELL, DANDISON COATES, M.D., late Inspector-General of Hospitals in the service of the Hon. East India Company, Bombay, on Aug. 26, at No. 1, Darnaway-street, Edinburgh, aged 61.

BELL, JOHN, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A., at Scotland-place, Liverpool, aged 85. (Date of decease unknown.)

BELLAMY, JOHN CREMER, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1834; L.S.A. 1833; on Mar. 12, at George-street, Plymouth, aged 41. The deceased gentleman acted as Curator to the Plymouth Institution, and the Devon and Cornwall Natural History Society; he was also the author of several works, viz.: "The Natural History of South Devon," "A Thousand Facts in the History of Devon and Cornwall," "The Fisheries of Devon and Cornwall," &c.

BENTLEY, JOSEPH, M.D. St. Andrew's, 1825; at Wharf-road, Grantham, on March 19, aged 67. Dr. Bentley was highly respected in his profession, and his loss much regretted by his numerous patients.

BETSON, GEORGE, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1797, on Nov. 29, at 29, Red Lion-street, Wapping, aged 85. He was several years a Surgeon of Stepney Union. A man of strict integrity, and of highly respectable family, his father having been a practitioner in the same parish as many years as himself. He was born within a few doors of the house where he resided nearly all his life. Having outlived all his relatives, he has for several years existed in great obscurity, in receipt of parochial relief, the bounty of a few old neighbours, and, latterly, a small annuity from the Medical Benevolent Fund.

BIGGS, ROBERT JOSEPH, Surgeon, of Kingswood Hill, at Clifton, Bristol, on May 30, aged 48.

BIRD, GOLDING, A.M. and M.D. St. Andrew's, 1838; L.R.C.P. Lond. 1840; F.R.C.P. 1845; at his residence, Camden Park, Tunbridge Wells, on Oct. 27. The career of this distinguished physician, though short, was brilliant. He was a man of wonderful talent, and will ever remain an example of what may be accomplished by persevering industry and skill. When but a youth, he obtained a thorough knowledge of botany and chemistry, and even engaged in controversy with some of the most distinguished chemists of the day. Sir Astley Cooper enlisted his assistance in the compilation of his standard work on "Diseases of the Breast." Indeed the Court at the Apothecaries' Hall awarded to Dr. Bird its honours (knowing that an examination was superfluous) and also recommended him to the authorities of Guy's Hospital, by whom he was soon afterwards appointed to the chair of Natural History in that school. He then graduated at St. Andrew's, and became a Licentiate of the London College, to the Fellowship of which he was soon raised. In 1840 he was elected Physician to the Finsbury Dispensary, and took up his abode in Myddelton-square, Clerkenwell, where he resided ten years, and during which time his practice increased from fifty to four thousand guineas per annum. But all this was obtained at the sacrifice of health. Constant study, day and night, year after year, soon shattered a frame naturally weak, appointments that he obtained he was obliged to resign, and when he removed to Russell-square, and his private practice became still more extensive, it soon was painfully evident to his friends that his time was at hand. His constitution, however, was so completely broken up, that he soon succumbed, and died ere he had reached his 40th year, and was interred in Tunbridge Wells Cemetery. As a physician, Dr. Bird was remarkable more particularly for the rapidity with which he was able to bring all his former experience to the investigation and treatment of the case before him. As a lecturer, he was popular, clear, persuasive, and fluent. As an author and contributor, no one in this country has done so much to render chemical pathology a general study among medical men as Dr. Bird. Lastly, must we speak of him as one not only eminent in science, but eminent in piety. Religion to him was not a holiday garment, merely to be exhibited on great occasions, to be publicly displayed, or degraded by subserving professional advancement. It influenced him through life, and as his health yielded beneath the pressure of bodily suffering, it so sustained and comforted him that no word of complaint, no murmur, either in sickness or on his bed of death, ever escaped him. Words of thankfulness, of hope, and of reliance on Divine mercy, proved the contentment of a mind which remained undisturbed and happy to the last moment of life.

BISCHOFF, —, M.D. the esteemed Professor of Botany at the University of Heidelberg, on Sept. 11.

BLACKWELL, —, M.D. one of the Coroners for the County of Louth, on March 29, at Dunleer, aged 25.

BOYD, DAVID, late Surgeon-General of the Madras Army, on Oct. 25, at No. 26, Drummond-place, Edinburgh, aged 61.

BRADY, CHARLES, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1840 ; L.S.A. 1826 ; from an attack of laryngitis, on Nov. 27, at his residence, 194, Blackfriars-road, aged 48. Mr. Brady was a brother of John Brady, Esq., the Member of Parliament whose able advocacy of the rights of the medical profession is well known.

BRAMWELL, J. BYROM, M.D. Edin. 1844 ; M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1843 ; at his residence, Dockwray-square, North Shields, on March 30, aged 63. Dr. Byrom was one of the surgeons to the North Shields and Tyne-mouth Dispensary ; and a member of the Royal Physical Society of Edinburgh.

BROOKS, GEORGE, M.D. of malignant cholera, on May 28, at Spanish-town, Jamaica, aged 45. On the day previous to his decease Dr. Brooks had been in constant attendance upon the sufferers of this terrible plague and, as is frequently the case, had himself become affected with the premonitory symptoms. At five o'clock in the afternoon, he was called to the bedside of a person dying of cholera, and whilst discharging his duty, the disease had gained such a hold of his body, that he was compelled, though very reluctantly, to return home. He gradually became worse, and expired the following day at two o'clock.

BROWNE, RICHARD, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1826 ; L.S.A. 1825 ; formerly Gutter-lane, Cheapside, at Croydon, aged 58. (Date of decease unknown.)

BRUCE, PRIMROSE, Surgeon, at Glasgow, on April 6.

BUCKLEY, —, M.D., at Sidney Avenue, Blackrock, Dublin, aged 60. (Date of decease unknown.)

BUNNETT, EDWARD CHARLES, Surgeon, on May 10, at Mount Moreland near Spanish-town, Jamaica, of cholera, aged 35. The deceased was the youngest son of Dr. Henry Jones Bunnett.

BURD, HENRY EDWARD, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1818 ; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1849 ; on July 22, at his residence, Belmont, Shrewsbury, aged 64. Mr. Burd was the son of a respectable land-agent in the county of Salop, and commenced his professional education at an early age under Mr. Taylor, of Middlewich, with whom he served his apprenticeship. He afterwards became an assistant of that much respected and eminent surgeon, Mr. Hughes, of Stafford, and there greatly profited by the very extended opportunities afforded him of acquiring much practical information in his profession. Mr. Burd subsequently pursued his studies at the London and St. Bartholomew's Hospitals, and at the latter was a constant follower and favourite pupil of the late Mr. Abernethy. In 1815, he was appointed House-Surgeon to the Salop Infirmary, which appointment he held for seven years, when he was elected Surgeon to the Institution and commenced private practice. As an operator he was firm and decided, skilful and humane—he twice performed, and on both occasions successfully, the operation for ovariotomy by the large incision, one of which cases, a very remarkable one, is recorded in the Transactions of the Medico-Chirurgical Society. As an accoucheur he was eminently successful, his maxim being, "Meddlesome midwifery is dangerous." He continued a Medical Officer to the Salop Infirmary until his decease. On announcing that event the local press thus speaks of his worth :—"He was in the year 1822, elected Surgeon to the Salop Infirmary by a large majority of the trustees present, and by his attention and skill, during the last period he filled the office, he fully sustained the high character he had previously earned, and by his valuable services greatly tended to preserve the charity the high professional character it maintains. He was unobtrusive and unostentatious in character—not seeking professional distinction but the records of the Infirmary, and the annals of medicine, afford ample proof that he was entitled to high rank as a medical practitioner, and as a skilful operating surgeon. He was remarkable for unremitting perseverance in the discharge of his professional duties, even when frequently from ill-health and feebleness of frame he as greatly needed relief as did those whose sufferings he administered. In the various relations of life—as husband, father, and friend—he was beloved, respected, and esteemed, not less for the kindness and gentleness of his manners than for high integrity of mind. He gained the confidence and affection of a large circle of friends, both professional and non-professional, who deeply deplore his loss. He is succeeded in practice by his son Dr. Edward Burd."

BURNSIDE, J., the able and well-known Surgeon of Dumfries, on October 18th. After a professional visit on Saturday, the 14th of October, he was seized with paralysis, under which he rapidly sank, and breathed his last on the following Wednesday. Mr. Burnside studied at the University of Edinburgh, commenced as a practitioner in Maxwelltown, and subsequently settled in Dumfries. Besides his private practice in this town and vicinity, he acted as medical officer under the parochial Boards of Troqueer, Terragles, and Irongrey, and his time and energies were thus mainly absorbed by the laborious duties of his profession. Though this was the case, he found occasional leisure to devote to the recreations of art and literature. The kindly qualities, combined with his skill and experience, rendered him a most acceptable visitor of the sick, to whom soothing words and gentleness of demeanour are sometimes of more use than medicine, and can rarely be well spared from a doctor's recipe. Mr. Burnside has descended to the grave deeply deplored and lamented by the wide circle of friends and acquaintances amongst whom he lived so usefully and honourably.

CALLANDER, JOHN, late Surgeon of the 7th Hussars, on July 26, at 26, Duke-street, St. James's, aged 69.

CAMPBELL, ALEXANDER DEWAR, B.A. and B.M. Oxon, 1842; F.R.C.S. Edin. 1842; at his residence, 4, Picardy-place, Edinburgh, on Nov. 15, 1852. Dr. Campbell was Physician Accoucheur of the Royal Dispensary of Edinburgh; and had succeeded his late father, Dr. William Campbell, as Lecturer on Midwifery at the Edinburgh Medical School. He was also a member of the Obstetrical Societies of Berlin and Edinburgh, and the Author of "A System of Midwifery." (We regret that a notice of this gentleman's decease was omitted from our last Edition.)

COOPER, JOHN THOMAS, after a long and painful illness, at his residence 82, Blackfriars-road, aged 64. (Date of decease unknown.) Educated in the Medical Profession, Mr. Cooper for a short period pursued his course as a general practitioner; but, finding himself unequal to the fatigue and anxiety of general practice, he relinquished it early, and devoted himself to the pursuit of chemistry.

COOPER, PETER, L.R.C.P. 1845; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1838; L.S.A. 1839; at July 6, at Appleby, Leicestershire, aged 41.

COOPER, THOMAS BEALE, M.D., on August 22, near Evesham, Worcestershire, aged 81. Dr. Cooper had been for many years the Mayor of Evesham and feeling a deep interest in the welfare of his native city, had devoted much of his time and attention to public matters, though not to the entire relinquishment of the duties connected with his profession. During the few years of his useful life he lived comparatively retired, probably on account of his age and increasing infirmities.

COOPER, THOMAS C., M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1835; late of Stowbridge, Worcestershire, on Feb. 3.

CÖRY, EDWARD AUGUSTUS, M.D., late of Clark's-terrace, London, at Banstead, Surrey, on July 8.

COWIE, M. B., M.D., on April 10, at Horsham.

COWLEY, GEORGE, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1831; L.S.A. 1830, of Winslow, Bucks, on Aug. 28, in London, after an illness of only fourteen hours.

CROUCH, WALTER ROBERT, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1849; L.S.A. 1848, at Birkenhead, Cheshire. (Date of decease unknown.) Mr. Crouch held the appointment of Surgeon to the Birkenhead Hospital, and though he complained of slight indisposition for several days previous to his decease, yet continued to discharge his duties as Surgeon to that Institution. At four o'clock in the morning he was found dead, much to the surprise and grief of his friends who were not prepared for such a melancholy event. His remains were accompanied to their resting place by nearly the whole of the medical practitioners in Birkenhead, and the Committee of the Institution which he had the honour to represent.

CUMIN, WILLIAM, M.D., at his residence, 11, Cavendish-crescent, Bath, on Jan. 17, aged 69. "Dr. Cumin was the son of Dr Patrick Cumin, Professor of Oriental Languages in Glasgow College. After serving for a considerable time as a medical officer in the Army, he settled as a practitioner in Glasgow; and, on the demise of Mr. John Towers, and after the withdrawal of Dr. Robert Lee, obtained—through interest with the late Lord Melbourne—the chair of midwifery in the University; but finding the office too laborious for his state of health, he retired to Bath, where he had resided for a number of years. The duties of the Professorship have in the mean time been fulfilled by Dr. Pagan, who now succeeds to the whole emoluments. We understand that Dr. Cummin had been, for several years previous to his death, deprived of sight from amaurosis. While resident in Glasgow, he contributed several valuable papers to the medical periodicals, and to the 'Cyclopædia of Medicine.' He possessed an extended and minute acquaintance with the literature of his profession."—Med. Times and Gazette.

CUMIN, W., Half-pay Assistant-Surgeon to the 3rd Veteran Battalion. (Date of decease unknown.)

CUNNINGHAM, —, Surgeon, on Jan. 24, by the wreck of the 'Tayleur,' emigrant ship, bound to Australia, off the Isle of Lambay. He was remarkable for his efforts in endeavouring to save, first the lives of his own wife and child, and then the lives of his fellow passengers. When the vessel struck, amid the confusion and dismay that prevailed, Surgeon Cunningham was seen everywhere trying to restore confidence and courage among the passengers, and endeavouring to preserve order and coolness. He was next seen crossing the perilous means of escape (a rope and plank), with his little child on one arm, supporting the infant still more securely by holding its dress in his mouth. The ship heaved on the surge of the sea, the rope swerved, he was swept from his hold, and his child was torn from him by the force of the sea, and perished. He himself sank twice, but at last made good his grip on a projecting point of rock. While in this precarious position a drowning woman swept by him—he grasped her, and was observed to raise her up, and hold her above the water. He put back her hair from her eyes, and seemed to encourage her; but a heavy wave tore her from his grasp, and she perished. Mr. Cunningham then seized hold of a rope-ladder hanging over the side of the ship, by which he lifted himself on board, hand-over-hand, and soon after appeared, carrying his wife for the purpose of rescuing her. He had nearly succeeded in getting her across the spar by means of the rope, when another heavy wave swept off this devoted man and his wife, who were drowned in sight of the survivors. The daily papers well observe, "He deserved a better fate!"

In the wider sphere of general literature, Mr Evans was distinguished for his acquirements as a Welsh scholar, and he was ardently engaged in promoting and disseminating medical knowledge amongst the Welsh-speaking portion of the population. In this department he has contributed several valuable and interesting papers on the translation of scientific terms. Led, by his position as the medical attendant on large masses of the working population, to sympathise with the ills to which their condition was more particularly subject, he converted his knowledge of the vernacular language of the country to useful ends, by his contributions to Welsh periodicals on sanitary and other socio-medical subjects. His professional career was marked by skill and humanity, calculated to cause his removal to be felt as the loss of a friend, by the workmen entrusted to his care.

FORBES, EDWARD, F.R.S., F.G.S., Regius Professor of Natural History in the University of Edinburgh, on Nov. 18, at South Cottage, Wardie, Edinburgh, aged 39.—“We are satisfied that no event which has happened for some years will excite more surprise, and create a more profound feeling of grief in the scientific world, than the demise of Professor Edward Forbes, on Saturday, in the 39th year of his age. When a student in Edinburgh, twenty years ago, he gained distinction for his ardent cultivation of the different branches of natural history, and was the centre of a group of young men, all of whom have since risen to eminence. In him were united social, literary, artistic, and scientific qualities, rarely met with in one individual; and his numerous friends, from an early period, predicted for him a most brilliant career. After visiting Norway, Sweden, France, Germany, and other continental countries, in order to extend his knowledge of natural history, he gave a course of lectures on his favourite science in the extra academical school of this city. But, hearing of a scientific expedition about to proceed to Asia Minor, under the auspices of Government, he was induced to join it in the capacity of naturalist. During his absence of two years, he made a multitude of observations and discoveries in the botany, zoology, and geology of the Mediterranean Sea, islands, and coasts. Many of these are embodied in a remarkable account of his voyages, which he published in conjunction with Lieutenant Spratt. During his absence, the Professorship of Botany in King's College, London, became vacant, and his friends applied for it in his name. He was appointed, and returning a few days afterwards, immediately entered upon the duties of the chair. His vast knowledge of natural objects was soon appreciated, and he became Secretary and Curator to the Geological Society of London, when he commenced arranging the museum of that institution, and thus extended his knowledge of fossils and of palæontology. Here also he began to form friendships with all the most distinguished geologists and men of science in the metropolis, and of which probably no man living could boast of a larger number. When the Government School of Mines and Designs, and the Economic Museum in conjunction with it, was founded by Sir E. de la Beche, Forbes was placed at the head of the palæontological department. To him the museum is indebted for the laborious arrangement and display of the British fossils, now seen in the magnificent institution in Jermyn-street, London; and science is no less indebted to him for a series of splendidly illustrated monographs of new species. To enter, however, at any length upon his numerous contributions to science, or on a description of his well-known works on the Star Fishes of Britain, his British Conchology, and the many papers he published in the scientific transactions and journals of the day, is, in this necessarily hurried sketch, obviously impossible. It is enough to say that, when the veteran Jamieson died last April, Forbes was universally recognised as the only man in Great Britain who was worthy to succeed him. The writer of this hasty sketch knows that the Chair of Natural History in the University of Edinburgh was with Forbes the highest object of ambition; and that, had his life been spared, it would have been dedicated to extending its already great reputation, so that no school probably in the civilised world would have equalled it in greatness. With this view he had formed gigantic and most able plans, which, through his great influence with the Government, would have been liberally supported, and, we have no doubt, ultimately carried out. But, arrived at the culminating point of his ambition, and at the commencement of his long-matured schemes of usefulness, he has, by a mysterious dispensation of Providence, been removed from us, when we were beginning to appreciate his worth. A chronic disease, contracted when in the East, re-excited and rendered violent by a severe cold caught last autumn on a geological excursion, and which burst out with uncontrollable fury about ten days ago, was the immediate cause of his premature death." —Caledonian Mercury.

As a surgeon of the 43rd, throughout the Peninsular war, he was present with the Light Division at various affairs of outposts and minor actions, such as Sabugal and the Coa; besides the battles of Vimiera, Corunna, Busaco, Fuentes d'Onor, Salamanca, Vittoria. the Pyrenées, Nivelle, Nive, and Toulouse, the siege of Ciudad Rodrigo, and storming of St. Sebastian (as Medical Officer to the volunteers from the Light Division). For these services Dr. Gillkrest received a medal with twelve clasps. On the close of that war, in 1814, he embarked with his regiment for America, and served in the affairs which terminated with the fruitless assaults of the American intrenchments below New Orleans. In 1815, his regiment rejoined the army under the Duke, on the advance to Paris. In 1827, he accompanied the expedition to Portugal under Sir W. Clinton. In 1828, he served in Gibraltar during the yellow fever epidemic of that year, and was shortly after promoted to the rank of Deputy-Inspector, and placed on half-pay. In Paris, during the three days of July, 1830, he gave the benefit of his mature experience as military surgeon to the wounded of both parties. In 1832, during the prevalence of cholera in London, he was indefatigable in his exertions among the poor, and, in a series of letters to the Times, gave a graphic sketch of the progress of that epidemic. In 1833, he was recalled to active service as principal Medical Officer at Gibraltar, where his experience in cholera became again available during its prevalence in that garrison in 1834.

At the request of Mr. Hodgson himself, a post-mortem examination took place, and a rupture of the sinuses, contiguous to the right auricle of the heart, was discovered, with a vast efflux of blood into the cavity of the pleura on that side. The heart appeared healthy, though imbedded in fat, no doubt greatly disabling its action, if not mechanically impeding the due circulation of the blood.

HUNT, FREDERICK KNIGHT, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1840; on Nov. 19. It is with great regret we announce the death of this gentleman, so well known from his long connexion with the London and provincial press. Mr. Hunt commenced the study of the profession at an early age, and during his pupilage started the Medical Times, the profits of which journal soon enabled him to complete his medical education, and on the 13th of November, 1840, he was admitted a member of the College of Surgeons, but instead of practising his profession he became a zealous and active member of the "fourth estate," seeking and obtaining constant and lucrative employment on the London and provincial journals. The midnight consumption of oil soon began to exhibit itself in a naturally delicate constitution; and having disposed of his journal, and resigned his "press" engagements, he left London for Norfolk, where for a short time he practised his profession, but the drudgery of a general practice in the country ill accorded with his active mental habits. he accordingly returned to town, and soon became "Our London Correspondent" to several provincial papers, as well as editor to the Pictorial Times. As an illustration of his indomitable energy it may be mentioned that in addition to the great literary labours thus entailed on him, he started and conducted the London Journal, and wrote or compiled innumerable Guide Books. On the establishment of the Daily News he became its sub-editor; the increasing duties of this rapidly increasing paper compelled him to resign his more active labours on the former journals. So highly was he appreciated by the proprietors of the latter paper, that on the retirement of its late editor he was unanimously appointed his successor. How he discharged his duties is well known to the profession and the public at large, to none more so than to the writer of this short notice, who was long and intimately connected with him from his first connexion with the press to the time of his decease. Mr. Hunt expired at his residence, Forest-hill, Sydenham, at the early age of 41, leaving a widow and four children, together with a large circle of friends, to deplore the loss of that "most noble work of God an honest man."

He had been very successful in his treatment of yellow fever in Jamaica, and of cholera in Malta and the Ionian Islands. In 1850, whilst attending the troops at Malta, who were suffering from the latter disease, he, with three other medical officers, received the thanks of the late Duke of Wellington. Being greatly attached to his profession, he was ever zealous in the discharge of his duties, and many of our brave soldiers will remember with gratitude the kind and prompt attention which he always paid to them in their sufferings.

KAY, WILLIAM THOMPSON, M.D., Assistant-Surgeon to the Plymouth Division of Marines, on Dec. 28, 1853. In public life it but too often happens that the service of those only who have achieved striking and splendid success are deemed worthy of record. Merit, however great, if unobtrusive, and virtue, however real, if unostentatious, are generally allowed to pass with the departed to the tomb. It is with the view of in some degree rescuing from this general fate the memory of a life which, although short, was remarkable for worth and true usefulness, that the following brief memoir has been written. Mr. Kay entered the Naval Service as Assistant-Surgeon of Melville Hospital, Chatham, in Aug. 1842, and in the following year he was appointed to H.M.S. Tyne, which proceeded to the Mediterranean. While the ship was on this interesting station, Mr. Kay on all occasions employed himself usefully and beneficially to science, as well as to his own profession, of which some valuable papers on Mediterranean topography, published some years back in the Medical Times, bear ample and satisfactory evidence. While the Tyne was lying at Beyrout, Mr. Kay accompanied the captain (Glascok, the well-known writer) in a journey through the Holy Land, during which he made sketches, and gave descriptions of the most celebrated places visited. On the return of the Tyne to England, Mr. Kay received the responsible appointment of Assistant-Surgeon of the Plymouth division of Royal Marines. It was then that the most laborious and most valuable part of Mr. Kay's life commenced. While his hands were full of work among the families and children of the officers and men of the Marines, his active mind would not allow him to throw aside his taste for literary and scientific pursuits. To St. George's Hall—one of the finest buildings ever devoted to educational purposes—Mr. Kay early became, not only a subscriber, but a most zealous and able supporter, delivering lectures from time to time on various subjects connected with science and the arts. He also about this time communicated various papers to the Family Friend and Family Tutor, which were well received by the public. One of the series of Naval Medical Reports we published in our last volume was from his pen, and showed how zealously he laboured in the cause of sanitary improvements. Arduous public duties, with incessant mental exertion, induced disease, which brought the life of this excellent and valued officer to a premature close. He died of dysentery, at the Marine Barracks, Stonehouse, and was interred with military and other honours, his remains being attended to their last resting place by the Marines, the military in garrison, the principal members of the Scientific Institution at Plymouth, the Masonic body, and others of all ranks.—Med. Times and Gazette.

(Date unknown.) On his admission to the membership of the Académie des Sciences, he gave up the Professorship at Montpellier, that he might be enabled to reside in Paris, and devote his time and attention to his academical duties. Lallemand was an active member of the Society of Surgery in that city, and was instrumental in bringing before the Profession M. Pravaz's experiments of injecting perchloride of iron into the blood, since applied to the treatment of aneurism, nævus, &c. He was also the author of the following works, which have acquired great reputation, viz., the "Encephalitis," "Pertes Seminales," and "Maladies des Organes Genito-Uriinaires."

LOVELL, JAMES, Surgeon, on Oct. 13, at Wye, Kent, aged 31.

LYNN, GEORGE DOUGHTY, M.D., on May 11, after a few hours' illness, at Norwich, aged 74. The deceased gentleman had for some time previous to his decease filled with great credit the office of Magistrate in Norwich; and on account of his amiable disposition and his public and private benevolence, was much beloved and respected by both rich and poor. He formerly for many years practised at Woodbridge in Suffolk, where he acquired great reputation, and on retiring from his professional duties, fixed his abode at Norwich. His death was somewhat sudden; he had called on his son-in-law, Major Cockburn, with whom he remained a short time, and on his way home was seized with faintness; medical aid was summoned and he rallied for a short time, but was again attacked in the night, and before his physician could arrive, he expired.

MACFARLANE, ROBERT, C.M., Glasgow, 1839; of Byer's-green, Bishop's Auckland, Durham, on Aug. 27, through an accident at Spennymore. The deceased gentleman, who was very assiduous in his professional duties, and greatly beloved for his public and private virtues, while returning home at a late hour from visiting his patients, was thrown from his gig with such violence as to produce concussion of the brain. Medical aid was instantly procured, but he gradually sank, and expired on the afternoon of the following day. Mr. Macfarlane was the Medical Officer of the Auckland Union, and a Member of the Sydenham Society.

MACGREGOR, ANGUS, M.D., Edin. 1850; L.R.C.S. Edin. 1849; at his residence, 21 Elder-street, Edinburgh, on July 11. Dr. Macgregor was a Member of the Obstetric, and Medical, and Chirurgical Societies of Edinburgh.

MACKAY, JOHN, M.D., Edin. 1845; L.R.C.S. Edin. 1844; after a few hours' illness, on Oct. 6, at his residence, 17 Nelson-street, Edinburgh. The deceased gentleman held the appointment of Parochial Surgeon of the North-Western District of the Edinburgh City Parish; and was formerly the Medical Officer of the 3rd District of St Cuthbert's Parish. Dr. Mackay was also a Member of the Royal Medical, the Medical, Chirurgical, and Obstetric Societies of Edinburgh, and the Parisian Medical Society.

The deceased gentleman was one of the surgeons of the Northern Infirmary, Inverness, and formerly House-Surgeon of Gray's Hospital, Elgin, and Surgeon of the Elgin Pauper Lunatic Asylum. Mr McKenzie was also a member of the Glasgow Ophthalmic Society.

MACKENZIE, RICHARD JAMES, M.D. Edin. 1842; F.R.C.S. Edin. 1844; (late of Abercromby-place, Edinburgh), at Balbec, in the Crimea, on Sept. 26, aged 33. This distinguished gentleman, whose loss is universally lamented, fell a victim to the cholera consequent upon fatigue and anxiety whilst attending the wounded soldiers at and after the battle of Alma. He was a few months back engaged in discharging the duties of Lecturer on Surgery at the Edinburgh Extra Academical School, and also as a Surgeon of the Edinburgh Infirmary. His amiable manners and sympathising attention had won the esteem and affection of his patients and friends; and his natural talent and cultivated intellect, combined with an ardent love for, and practical knowledge of, his profession, had won the admiration and respect of all the students under his care and instruction. He had a lucrative and extensive practice; but, possessing an inquiring mind, he wished to add to his knowledge a practical acquaintance with "Military Surgery." With this view, he resolved to set out for the scene of conflict in the East, and having obtained a recommendation from the Prime Minister to Lord Raglan. Dr. Mackenzie, on his arrival in the Crimea, was at once appointed a temporary Surgeon to the 79th Highlanders. During the march to Alma, when the troops were suffering so severely from the cholera, his attentions were unremitting. During and after the fearful conflict on the Alma, he was in constant attendance upon the wounded soldiers, and it is said that, in addition to extracting numerous balls and dressing a multitude of wounds, he himself performed twenty-seven capital operations, including two amputations at the hip joint. The Regiment to which he was attached requested permission to give three cheers as they saw him ascending the hill, proving how much he was esteemed and his skill and kindness appreciated. But his extreme fatigue and anxiety which his duties involved predisposed him to that fearful disease which has lately swept away so many thousands. He died after a few hours' illness, as much lamented as any man who fell at Alma.

MACKEY, PETER, M.D., Staff-Surgeon, on Oct. 5, at Balaklava, in the Crimea.

MACLEOD, —, M.D.—We regret to record the death of Dr. Macleod of Steat, in Skye, which took place under the following circumstances (although we are not aware of the date):—He had, notwithstanding the unseasonableness of the weather, crossed over to the mainland to see a shepherd who had broken his leg. Leaving Kyles late in the evening, the night being very dark, it is supposed he missed his way, as his non-appearance the following morning excited suspicion; and, on a search being made for him, his lifeless and shattered body was found at the foot of the precipice, over which he had fallen the height of 150 feet. There are few men in Skye whose loss will be more poignantly felt, especially by the poor, than that of this unfortunate gentleman, who was ever zealous to relieve distress and suffering.—Inverness Advertiser.

MACQUHAE, SAMUEL, L.R.C.S. Edin. 1816; (of Crogo Bridge, Corsoe Dumfries) on Jan. 17, at Crockettford, aged 60. The deceased was Medical Officer of the Parochial Board of Partan, in the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright.

MACWHIRTER, JOHN, M.D., late of the Hon. E. I. Company's Service at Bengal, on Dec. 13, 1853, at his residence, 50, Moray-place, Edinburgh.

MALCOLMSON, —, M.D. Surgeon of the 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry, on July 16, of pneumonia, at Nusseerabad. The deceased gentleman entered the service in 1828, and at the time of his death was expecting to be nominated as Staff-Surgeon of the Rajpootana field force, in the place of Dr. Collier. The death of Dr. Malcolmson will cause the promotion of Assistant-Surgeon T. W. Ward.

MARLEY, MILES, M.D. Heidelberg, 1836; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1820; F.R.C.S. 1852; L.S.A. 1825; late of Cork-street, Burlington-gardens, at Port Isaac, Cornwall, on Nov. 15. Dr. Marley was the Senior Surgeon to the Institution for Aged and Infirm Journeymen Tailors, and also the author of a Treatise "On the Most Frequent Diseases of Children."

MARTIN, JOHN, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1813; on Nov. 13, 1853, at Shoreham, Sussex.

MARTIN, THOMAS, L.R.C.S. Edin. 1807; at West View, Holmirth, Yorks. (Date unknown.) The deceased was in practice prior to the Act of 1813.

MASFEN, JOHN, F.R.C.S. (Nom.) 1843; M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1816; at his residence, Stafford, on June 7, aged 58. Mr. Masfen was born at Cannock, in Staffordshire, in Sept. 1795. His professional studies were begun at an early age, under the guidance of the late Dr. Somerville of Stafford, and afterwards continued in London, at St. Bartholomew's Hospital.

Here he became dresser to the late Mr. Abernethy, and was afterwards on very friendly terms with him. Almost immediately after the peace in 1814, Mr. Masfen went to Paris to complete his education in the Anatomical Schools of that city. On his return he intended to settle in London, but was persuaded by his late Master to join him in partnership in Stafford, which he eventually did. In 1828, he was in a very gratifying manner appointed Surgeon to the Staffordshire General Infirmary, which office he held till his death. He rapidly gained one of the most extensive general and consulting practices in the kingdom, and when the Municipal Reform Act came into operation, he was unanimously chosen by the Town Council as the first Mayor of Stafford. During the last few years of his life, ill-health incapacitated him for the more active duties of his profession, but though gradually more and more enfeebled, he continued to practise until his death.

In his domestic relations, Mr. Masfen was in an exemplary manner kind and affectionate, his patients were strongly attached to him, his numerous pupils and apprentices regarded him with the greatest esteem and respect, while, in general society, his courteous, gentlemanly bearing, combined with a certain naiveté, made him a general favourite.

As a surgeon he was characterised by sagacity, decision, and a thorough knowledge of his profession, and although he never published, yet he kept pace fully with the rapid strides which medical science was making, and frequently arrived at a new mode of treatment from his own observations and deductions at the bed-side, which was afterwards published as new in the medical literature of the day. He had discarded for many years the practice of bloodletting, except in a peculiar isolated case occasionally; and during the whole of his Infirmary career, which extended over a period of nearly thirty-two years, he was distinguished for that conservative system of surgery which thinks a damaged limb is better than none at all, and which is only now beginning to receive general adoption. He had emphatically the faculty of curing, and his off-hand remarks, in obscure cases, have on numerous occasions been verified in a remarkable manner. Mr. Masfen leaves a widow and numerous family to lament his loss, and we cannot better terminate this brief memoir than in the words of the Staffordshire Advertiser, that his death is recorded "with feelings of unfeigned sorrow."

MAXWELL, WILLIAM, Surgeon, on April 7, at Jarrow, aged 43.

MAYSON, JAMES, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1840; on Oct. 23, at his residence, Wimslow, Cheshire. Mr. Mayson was a Union Medical Officer.

MERRIMAN, JAMES NATHANIEL, M.D., Giessen, 1844; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1828; L.S.A. 1827; on Nov. 6, at his residence, 7, Kensington-square. Dr. Merriman was the third and youngest son of the late John Merriman, Esq., a highly respectable general practitioner for many years, whose active benevolence and uniform kindness secured to him the affection of a large circle of friends, by whom his memory is still fondly cherished. The late Dr. Merriman had just completed his 48th year when he fell a victim to chronic pneumonia with repeated attacks of pleuritis, terminating in empyæma, which found vent through the bronchi. He has, like his father, left behind him a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends. Dr. Merriman was an Apothecary Extraordinary to the Queen, and General Medical Attendant on Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent.

MILES, JOHN, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1826; L.S.A. 1825; on March 7, at Salisbury, Wilts.

MORRIS, DAVID THOMAS, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1851; on Aug. 21, at his residence, Hounslow, aged 29. The deceased gentleman was a Fellow of the Medical Society, and a young man of promise. He had been for three years previous to his death the principal visiting assistant to Messrs. Frogley and Hall, Surgeons, of Hounslow, and it is said that his position and circumstances had for a long time preyed heavily upon his mind, and in consequence of some unpleasantness transpiring between him and his employers he took a large quantity of prussic acid from a phial, and drank it in the presence of his wife. His death was almost instantaneous. He was very popular in Hounslow, and his death quite cast a gloom over the town.

MORRISON, WILLIAM, F.R.C.S. on Oct. 13, at Hong Kong, from abscess of the liver. Mr. Morrison was appointed Surgeon to the Colony, and arrived there in November, 1847, and from that period up to the commencement of his fatal illness, his services met the entire and cordial approval of the local Government. The Hong Kong Register says:—"The attendance at his funeral obsequies of sisters of charity and of priests displays, what we could but badly describe in words,—that he was a man who lived esteemed and died regretted by all who knew him."

MOORHOUSE, THOMAS, Surgeon, on May 8, at Duke-street, Liverpool, aged 45.

MOWER, THOMAS G., one of the Senior Surgeons in the United States Army, on Dec. 7, 1853, at New York, after a painful illness of many months, aged 62.

NACQUART, M., President of the Académie de Médecine, at Paris, after an illness of only three days, aged 74. (Date unknown.) The cause of his death was an acute pneumonia, complicated with pericarditis. A week previously he was apparently in good health, having at that time taken his place as President at one of the Academy's meetings. Though well known as an excellent practical physician, M. Nacquart had written but little; his only productions being, "A Treatise on the Physiology of the Brain," and some articles in the Dictionnaire des Science Médicales.

NEWPORT, GEORGE, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1835; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; F.R.S., F.L.S., on April 7, at his residence, 55, Cambridge-street, Hyde-park-square, aged 51. This devoted disciple of science and distinguished naturalist, more particularly in the department of Entomology, was born in Canterbury, and from early demonstration of a taste for natural history, he was appointed Curator to the Museum in his native city on its first institution—an appointment which he only held a few years, as a wing desire for natural knowledge made him anxious to belong to a profession where this taste could be fully indulged. He was accordingly apprenticed to Mr. Weeks, a Surgeon, of Sandwich, with whom he remained several years, cultivating, at the same time, medicine and natural history. At the expiration of his apprenticeship he came to London, and for several years attended the Medical Classes at University Hospital, then called "The University of London." While continuing his medical studies, he devoted all leisure time to his favourite pursuit of insect physiology; and it was at that time that his first paper was published in the "Transactions of the Royal Society," on the anatomy of the sphinx ligustri. Upon becoming a Member of the College of Surgeons, he obtained the office of House Surgeon to the Chichester Infirmary, through the influence of Dr. Forbes (now Sir John Forbes), who was at that time one of the Physicians to the Infirmary, and whose friendship he retained to the end of his life. On leaving Chichester, he came to London and entered into general practice, in which he continued for several years, with but little success, as his heart was in purely scientific pursuits. A small pension from government, conferred upon him for his labours in natural science, induced him to resign practice entirely, reserving occasional attendance upon a few patients who were attached to him.

In 1846, he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society, and a year or two later a Fellow of the Linnean Society. To both these learned bodies he contributed many valuable papers; and from the former he had the honour twice receiving the Royal Medal. He was acknowledged by all men of science as one of the most faithful observers, and most cautious in drawing inferences. His reputation was fully as high among the naturalists and zoologists on the Continent as in his own country. In private life he was one of the strictest probity and honour, and as rigidly honest in his dealings with the world as in his scientific investigations. He may be said to have fallen a martyr to science, as the fever of which he died originated in a severe cold caught in the marshy grounds about Shepherd's Bush, while securing his annual supply of living animals for his physiological investigations. Mr. Newport was an Honorary Foreign Member of the American Philological Association; Corresponding Member of the Philomathic Society of Paris; Member of the Physical Society of Erlangen, and Linnean Society of Lyons. Amongst the many papers which he contributed may be reckoned the following: "On the Nervous System of the Sphinx ligustri," 1832; and 1834; "Respiration of Insects," 1836; "The Temperature of Insects," 1837; "The Organs of Reproduction and Development of Myriapoda," 1841; "The Nervous Circulating System of Myriapoda and Arachnida," 1843; "Production of lost parts in Insects and Myriapoda," 1844; "The Immaturation of Ovum in Amphibia," Trans. of Roy. Soc., 1851; "Monograph on Myriapoda, Natural History and Development of the Oil Beetle," Meloe; "Generation of Aphides," 1846; "Formation and Use of the Air Sacs in Insects," 1847; "On the Vapour Expelled from Beehives," 1846; "On the Anatomy of Pteronaveys regalis," 1848; "The Anatomy and Development of Chalcididae and Tenebrionidae," Trans. Linnean Soc.; article "Insecta," Top. of Anat. and Physiol.—Medical Times and Gazette.

OLDHAM, GEORGE, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1835; L.S.A. 1825; of Alferton, Derbyshire, on May 29. On the evening of this day, a storm of a fearful character visited Derbyshire, and in many places caused the greatest alarm on account of the proximity of the electric fire to the earth. Mr. Oldham was driving in his gig to the neighbouring village of Morton, and when near that place he was struck by the fluid and killed instantaneously. His horse was so much injured that it became necessary to put it to death; but a little boy who was riding with him, and was covered by the same umbrella, escaped entirely unhurt. Mr. Oldham leaves a widow and eleven young children to lament his loss.

O'LEARY, T., Assistant-Surgeon of the 68th Regiment, on Oct. 18, by shell, in the trenches before Sebastopol.

O'NEILL, BERNARD, C.M. Glasgow, 1847; of cholera, on Sept. 3, at Glenarm, Co. Antrim, aged 32. The deceased obtained his surgical diploma at Glasgow, and practised very successfully at Coatbridge, in Scotland, three years, when his health became impaired, and necessitated his removal to Glenarm in 1849, at which place he had a successful and remunerative practice during the five years which preceded his death. On the first outbreak of cholera his duties as medical attendant and nurse tender became oppressive, that his bodily and mental energies were prostrated, and he became a victim to the ravaging disease. The loss the community sustained in his death was well attested by the unfeigned grief of the people, who admired and loved him for his kindness of demeanour and philanthropy.

O'SULLIVAN, EUGENE, M.D. at his residence, Liscreagh Cottage, Co. (Date of decease unknown.)

PAGET, JOHN STEVENSON, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1815; on Jan. 21, at Savile Row, Newcastle. Mr. Paget held the appointments of Senior-Surgeon to the Lying-in Institution, and operating-surgeon to the Hepworth Colliery, Durham.

PALMER, SHIRLEY, M.D. Glasgow, 1814; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1807; at Teworth. (Date unknown.) Dr. Palmer was the author of "Popular Illustrations of Medicine," 1829; "Pentaglot Dictionary of Medicine," 1831. He was also the Editor of the New Medical and Physical Journal, from 1814 to 1816; of the Medico-Chirurg. from 1816 to 1818; and of the Medical Repository, from 1818 to 1821.

PARKER, THOMAS, M.R.C.S. Eng., and one of the earliest Members of the Apothecaries' Company (of Woburn, Beds), at Aspley Guise, on Nov. 9, in the 93rd year of his age. Few men have reached this patriarchal age more favoured with the blessings of health and a uniformly cheerful disposition than this lamented surgeon. A pupil of the late Mr. J. Hunter, an enthusiastic admirer of his principles and opinions, Mr. Parker commenced practice early in life, assisted very materially in any difficulty the counsel and friendship of his respected master. Of this he always retained a grateful remembrance, as several letters from Mr. Hunter, still extant, sufficiently testify. During the active duties of his long life, Mr. Parker was fortunate in securing the esteem and good opinion of his patients and medical neighbours generally, perhaps beyond most men. He was of inflexible integrity, and never compromised an opinion for the sake of temporary advantage or applause. In this he had his reward. A regard to truth on all occasions enabled him to surmount much temporary opposition in his profession as a younger practitioner, and from this sort of his greatest trials often became comparative blessings. At the close of his laborious and useful career, extended to the age of 92, he enjoyed the satisfaction of having intentionally made no one his enemy. He lived, he died, in peace with all men; and amongst those who knew him well, he left behind a good name and an unblemished reputation. "Multis ille bene flebilis occidet."

PITCAIRN, GEORGE KINCAID, M.D., Staff-Surgeon, first class, on Aug. 2, in the camp, near Varna, Turkey. Dr. Pitcairn was formerly Surgeon of the 5th Dragoon Guards, from which he was promoted to the post he held at the time of his decease. Like Dr. Shegog, who expired a few days after, he fell a victim to the arduous duties connected with his professional attendance upon the soldiers suffering from cholera.

REID, ALEXANDER ROTHNEY, M.D., Assistant Staff-Surgeon to the Forces, on Oct. 5, at Balaklava, of cholera, aged 24.

REID, JAMES, M.D. Edin.; M.R.C.P.; at his residence, 29, Brook-street, Grosvenor-square, on Nov. 5, aged 51. Dr. Reid was born in Scotland, and educated at the University of Edinburgh. In 1824 he became a member of the Apothecaries' Company, and, in April of the following year, of the College of Surgeons. Soon after the latter date he commenced practice in Charlotte-street, Bloomsbury, where he resided several years. By strict attention to his duties, and kindness of manner to his patients, he gained an extensive practice, and won not only their confidence in his skill, but also their esteem and affectionate regard. As his practice was rapidly increasing he removed to Bloomsbury-square, at which place also he remained several years, and during which time he was, as before, engaged as a general practitioner. But it appears that his attention was chiefly devoted to the study of midwifery, for which branch he, in 1841, relinquished general practice, and became a member of the Royal College of Physicians. In 1848 he removed to Brook-street. where he was zealously patronised by several influential members of his own fraternity ; and always assiduously attending to those who were placed under his care, professional engagements so augmented that, at the period of Dr. Reid's decease, he had every prospect of being soon a fashionable and much employed physician-accoucheur. But death cut short his prosperous career. About a month previous to his decease, Dr. Reid took a brief pleasure trip on the Continent, and on his return felt slightly unwell from a bilious attack. This, however, was followed by jaundice and ague. The liver latterly seemed seriously diseased, being attended with considerable swelling in the region of that viscus, which, on dissection after death, contained hydatids. The death of Dr. Reid has occasioned considerable regret, as he was much esteemed by both patients and friends. His contributions to literature were as follows :—1. "A Manual of Midwifery;" 2. "On Infantile Laryngismus," "Cases and Statistics in Midwifery," "Jacksonian Prize Essay on Bronchocele," "Puerperal Mania," "On the Duration of Pregnancy," "On Tubular Expectoration of the Bronchi," "Description of a Womb Supporter," &c., &c. Dr. Reid held also the following appointments:—Physician to the united parishes of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, and St. George's, Bloomsbury; Examiner in Midwifery at the College of Surgeons; late Physician-General of the Lying-in Hospital, &c.; late Lecturer on Midwifery at the Webb-street School of Medicine; a Fellow of the London and Royal Medical and Chirurgical Societies.

RIGG, JOSHUA, probably the oldest Physician in Cumberland, on Nov. 21. at Woodrow, near Wigton, aged 85. Dr. Rigg was the only child of the late Surgeon Rigg, of the Abbey of Holme Cultram, and was born on the 13th June, 1771. He studied medicine in Edinburgh, and on his return home assisted his father in his very extensive practice. On the death of his father, in 1808, he was induced to settle in Wigton, where his fame as a practitioner had already become known. He continued in general practice at Wigton till 1831, when he took his M.D. at one of the Scottish Universities, and became a Consulting-Physician. Woodrow, three and a half miles from Wigton, now became his residence, and being pretty near the centre of the wide and extensive field which he occupied as a practitioner, frequent and numerous were his consultations throughout the west, and a part of East Cumberland, including Carlisle. Integrity and honour were leading principles with him in every relation of life, and no man denounced more strongly the hypocrisy and shams of the age. He was kind and courteous to his juniors, and educated numerous pupils. Of those who took a leading position in Carlisle, the respected names of Dr. Barnes and Mr. Anderson may be cited. This life of usefulness over a period of two generations terminated very abruptly, and, happily, without suffering. He had walked to Wigton on the 4th in good health, was quite well on the morning of the 6th, when a paralytic seizure caused him to fall on one side. Next day a second attack and he became comatose and insensible. He died on the 10th, and was interred at the Abbey on the 13th.

ROBERTSON, PATRICK GERARD, M.D.; suddenly, on April 17, while at his way to the town of Portland, Victoria, Australia.

ROBINSON, RICHARD RADFORD, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1828; F.R.C.S. 1831; L.S.A. 1827; on March 31, at his residence, Camden-row, Camberwell, aged 48. Mr. Robinson was an ex-member of the Court of Examiners of the Apothecaries' Company, late Surgeon to the London Dispensary, and late President of the South London Medical Society; Fellow of the London, the Royal Medical and Chirurgical, and member of the Pathological Societies. Author of—1. "Essay on Fracture of Ribs, Sternum, and Pelvis," which gained the Jacksonian Prize, 1831; 2. "Essay on Formation, Constituents and Extraction of Urinary Calculi," Jacksonian Prize Subjects, to which a premium was awarded, 1833. He had also contributed papers—"On Congestion of the Brain, and upon Deficiency of Blood in that Organ," Med. Gaz. vol. iv.; "Lond. Disp. Reports," Ibid. vols. xiv and xv; "Observations on some of the Complications of Hernia," Lond. Med. Journ. 1831;

"Observations on Obstructions of the Intestine within the Abdomen," Idem, 1851; "A Case of Fibrous Tumour of the Uterus, in conjunction with Pregnancy, Laceration of the Peritoneum, and Hæmorrhage into the Abdomen," Assoc. Med. Journ. 1853. The deceased was eldest son of the late Henry Robinson, Esq., of East Dulwich.

ROGERS, SAMUEL. Surgeon, formerly of Hendon and Kilburn, at 26, Bedford-street, Covent Garden, aged 92. (Date unknown.)

RONAYNE, CHARLES, M.D. Edin. 1837; formerly of York-place, Leeds; at Harrogate, Yorks, on May 31, aged 45. The deceased was Physician to the Leeds Public Dispensary.

ROUPELL, GEORGE LEITH, M.D. Cantab. 1828; F.R.C.P. 1826; F.R.S., at his residence, 15, Welbeck-street, Cavendish-square, of cholera, on September 29. Dr. Roupell was the descendant of a wealthy family, and was born in 1798. His professional education was commenced under the charge of Dr. Burney, of Greenwich. Subsequently he resided at Caius College, Cambridge, where he held one of the Tancred Medical Scholarships, and of which he was ultimately elected a Fellow. After passing through a complete course of medical instruction at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, and obtaining his diploma from the London College of Physicians, he devoted a considerable portion of time to Continental travel. On returning to London and establishing himself in practice, he was shortly afterwards elected Physician to the 'Dreadnought' Hospital-ship, and from the observations there collected resulted his well-known work on fever. The "Short Treatise on Typhus Fever" insisted upon several doctrines in relation to the disease which were then novel, but which subsequent experience has fully confirmed; among which may be mentioned the specific nature of the affection, and the very frequent occurrence of a rash on the skin. Dr. Roupell was indeed the first English physician who termed typhus fever, what it is now generally acknowledged to be, an exanthem. In 1833, Dr. Roupell gained the election of Physician to St. Bartholomew's, his competitor for the post being his subsequent colleague, Dr. Burrows. The same year produced his "Illustrations of the Effects of Poisons," in the bringing out of which he was assisted by Mr. M'Whinnie. On account of the great expense involved, the illustrations of the rarer kinds of poison were deferred, and have never yet been published. Though thus incomplete, it is still the standard work on its subject. In 1833, also, Dr. Roupell gave the Croonian Lectures before the College of Physicians, choosing for his subject the fell disease to which he was ultimately himself to fall a victim. The Lectures were subsequently published; and, more especially in the part devoted to therapeutics, exhibit in a strong light the sound judgment of their author. Dr. Roupell was subsequently appointed Lecturer on Materia Medica at St. Bartholomew's Medical School, a post which he continued to hold to the time of his death. He was four times elected Censor of the College of Physicians, and delivered the Materia Medica lectures there. As a lecturer, he could not be considered eloquent, his compositions being rather distinguished by the soundness of their subject-matter than any more attractive qualities. In the wards he was always accessible to the students, ready to communicate, and full of practical knowledge. His public life had ever been that of an upright and honourable man, and, in private, he had been known as courteous, kind, and generous almost to a fault. Nor was it only in the qualities which concern the heart, and throw lustre round the moral character, that the Physician whom we have lost excelled. Habits of close industry, together with deep interest in the subjects of his study, stood him in the place of brilliancy of intellect, and furnished him with a rare extent of professional knowledge. Few men have been better read in the literature of Medicine than was Dr. Roupell, and few have devoted more attention to investigations at the bedside. Dr. Roupell's death was from cholera, and occurred after an illness of only twenty-six hours. He had been over to Boulogne, to visit a near relative, then ill with that disease, and had returned suffering from a slight diarrhoea. His premonitory symptoms were, however, so slight, that on the morning of his attack he went through his usual duties at the Hospital and seemed in good health and spirits. During the whole time of his illness his colleague, Dr. Baly, remained in the house with him, and did everything that friendship could dictate or skill suggest. He was also seen by Dr. Latham, Mr. Stanley, and Mr. Paget. St. Bartholomew's has sustained in him a loss which she will not easily supply, and all who wish well to our art must mourn over his too early grave.—Med. Times and Gazette.

ROUX, PROFESSOR, of the Hotel Dieu, at Paris, on March 23, after lingering about a fortnight from an attack of apoplexy, at the advanced age of 74. The career and the surgical life of M. Roux may be cited as one of the longest and the most distinguished upon record. Born 1780, at Auxerre, he acquired at the early age of sixteen a sufficient knowledge of surgery to procure him an appointment as Assistant (Sous Aide) to the army of the Sambre and Meuse. In 1797 he came to Paris, where he sought the acquaintance of Richat, who soon became his friend, and gave him assistance in his professional studies. In 1801, he carried off the first prize at the Ecole de Santé; and in 1802 he disputed with the celebrated Dupuytren (Concours). Elected in his twenty-sixth year Surgeon to the Hopital Beaujon, he became attached to la Charité in the same capacity in 1810, associated with Boyer, whose daughter he subsequently married. In 1812, he again contested for public prizes with Dupuytren, and the energy and talent which he displayed gained for him a high character. At the age of 20, he took part in a large work—Anatomie Descriptive; the fifth volume of which is entirely from the pen of Roux. Subsequently he endeavoured to bring out, upon a different plan, a similar work, of which the first volume only was completed. His public duties and private practice prevented the accomplishment of this task. In 1809, he published a volume upon various subjects, showing that his mind was inclined more especially to surgery. His Médecine Opératoire is not yet finished. In 1813, M. Roux triumphed at the Hotel Dieu, and obtained the high public position which he held to his death. Although many of his works are left unfinished, owing to the perpetual public contests for honours in which he was engaged, yet Surgery owes much to his individual exertions. The closure of the fissured palate by ligature is entirely his own. The lacerated perinæum, one of the most afflicting of human infirmities, was first proved curable through the genius of Roux. He came to be understood through Europe those ingenious operations which rectify deformities of the face and of the surface of the body generally; and the section of diseased joints was practised by him with the most brilliant success. It was Roux who introduced into general use in the Hospital of Paris the union of wounds by the first intention; the treatment of aneurism by ligature upon the artery far from the tumour; the operation of extraction of the lens for cataract. These and many other points of surgery he learned to appreciate during his visit to London in 1814, where he made himself thoroughly acquainted with the practice of English surgeons, and imparted to them much that was then new on this side of the Channel. His removal upon ulcers of the leg entirely changed the mode of treating these affections in France. M. Roux enumerated among his pupils both the greater part of the French practitioners, and a considerable number of English and American students. He possessed a fearless manner of enunciating his principles, and of carrying out his practice; and all who have seen him know with what courage he fought out the last hope of benefiting his patient, or soothed his dying moments. Few have been more beloved than M. Roux. Lively, full of mirth, affectionate, and tenacious of old friendships, he was welcomed in England, as he was respected in France. The youngest students revered his name. His journeys in Italy, Germany, and England established among the highest members of the profession most intimate friendships. His success during life was complete; and at his death he left behind him which is the aspiration of all good men—a reputation without a stain, honours gained by the exercise of his talents; wealth, the tribute to his industry; and a family devoted to him in affection.

ROWLAND, RICHARD, M.D. Edin. 1827; F.R.C.P.; of Woburn-place, Russell-square, on Oct. 4, at Brighton, after a long and severe illness. Dr. Rowland was Assistant-Physician and Lecturer on the Principles and Practice of Medicine at the Charing-cross Hospital, and Author of a work on "Neuralgia;" an article in 'Tweedie's Library of Medicine' on "Bronchocele;" and also a production on "Softening of the Brain."

RUDLAND, MILES, WILLIS, L.S.A. 1823, on June 20, at Tunstall, Suffolk.

RUDGE, EDWARD, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1812; half-pay Surgeon Royal Artillery, on Nov. 29, at Fakenham, Norfolk, aged 62.

RUNCIE, GEORGE, M.D., King's College and University, Aberdeen, 1847, on Jan. 24, at his residence, 4, Carmelite-street, Aberdeen, after a lingering illness of 29 weeks.

RUSSELL, HENRY, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1825; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; at York, on July 27, aged 53. The deceased gentleman was a native of York, and the son of an influential and highly-respectable solicitor. He received his medical education at St. George's Hospital, under the able guidance of Mr. G. G. Babington, beneath whose roof he spent five years, and with whom he remained on terms of intimacy until the day of his death. At the close of his apprenticeship, he was elected House-Surgeon to the Lock Hospital, and a few years later was offered the appointment of travelling Medical Attendant to a nobleman of high rank about to leave England on a lengthened tour. Although the offer was a tempting one, Mr. Russell, by the advice of his friends at St. George's Hospital, declined it. Nor had he any cause to repent of his resolution, as very shortly afterwards he was elected House-Surgeon of that Hospital, in which capacity the experience of several years, as Assistant to some of the most enlightened surgeons of their time, highly qualified him for the independent position he was destined afterwards to occupy at the hospital of his native city. During a large portion of his tenure of office at St. George's, Mr. Russell had assiduously attended Mr. Lawrence's lectures on ophthalmic surgery, then delivered at the London Ophthalmic Hospital; and it was by Mr. Lawrence's advice and assistance that, on subsequently settling at York, Mr. Russell managed, after some trouble and delay, to establish there a public ophthalmic institution. This in time became an acknowledged boon to York and the surrounding country, and to himself eventually the source of a widely-spread reputation as a successful ophthalmic surgeon. In 1834 Mr. Russell was, after a sharp contest, appointed Surgeon to the York County Hospital. In 1842 he became the Senior Surgeon, and at the same time Lecturer on Surgery at the Medical School, and he continued in the most conscientious performance of his duties until his health had entirely given way. At York and in its neighbourhood Mr. Russell's practice soon increased, almost beyond his weak physical powers. His patient's welfare was the sole end and aim to which he addressed his mind and heart. Mr. Russell was distinguished rather for soundness of judgment than for what is commonly understood as brilliancy of talent. He was neither an inventor of new methods, nor a great lover of innovation in practice, but he carried out the traditions of his eminent London teachers with a discriminating tact, to the value of which his hospital colleagues and other professional friends still bear ready and ample testimony. But his health, always delicate and fluctuating, began, several years ago, gradually to decline, and his strength to waste away, through the exhausting influence of osteo-necrosis, with purulent secondary deposits. He sunk progressively during the past spring and summer, and died on July 27, asphyxiated through the bursting of an extensive pulmonary abscess. He died as he had always lived, a firm and steadfast Christian "in spirit and in truth," and herein, no less than in the many good works which spring from this faithfulness, a bright model for the rising generation of medical men. His remains were followed to their last earthly home by the entire medical profession at York—a spontaneous and graceful tribute of respect to his unblotted memory!

RUSSELL, JULIUS GRANGER, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1851; on May 11, after a few hours' illness, at Handsworth, Birmingham. aged 26. The deceased, whose early death is much regretted, was a Member of the Queen's College Medico-Chirurgical Society.

RYAN, Surgeon, Bombay Army, in England. (Date unknown.)

SALTER, JOHN MORGAN, B.A., M.R.C.S. Eng. 1854, drowned in Bala-klava Bay, on Dec. 14, from the wreck of H.M.S. 'Prince,' of which he was Surgeon. Though so young, the deceased was a B.A. of the London University, and was admitted a member of the College of Surgeons so recently as the 15th May last. The death of Mr. Salter has cast quite a gloom over King's College, of which institution he was a most promising pupil, and from his quiet, gentlemanly deportment, had secured the affection of professors, pupils, and all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Mr. Salter leaves two brothers in the profession to deplore the loss all have sustained in his death. He was a nephew of Thomas Bell, Esq., F.R.S., the distinguished naturalist.

SANDON, JAMES HAROLD BLAIR, Medical Superintendent of the Dorset County Lunatic Asylum, on Aug. 23, at Forston, near Dorchester. aged 33.

SAVAGE, JOHN W., M.R.C.S. Eng. 1843; L.S.A. 1836; at West Bromwich, Staffordshire. aged 40. (Date unknown.)

SCHOFIELD, GEORGE REYNOLDS, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1846; L.S.A. 1848; on Oct. 7, at Wortley, near Leeds, aged 29. The deceased was the eldest son of Geo. Reynolds Schofield, Esq., surgeon, of Armley, and was also Medical Officer of the Carlton Union.

SHANKS, ARCHIBALD, M.D., Deputy Inspector-General of Army Hospitals, and Principal Medical Officer in the Colony, on Aug. 28, at Hobart Town, Van Dieman's Land.

SHAW, COURTLAND SKIMER, M.D., Marischal College, Aberdeen, 1831; M.R.C.S. Eng. 1834; at his residence, Vittoria House, Cheltenham, on Oct. 3, aged 42. Dr. Shaw was the only surviving son of Colonel Shaw, of Tenby, Pembrokeshire, and for several years carried on a general practice at his native place. About twelve years ago he took up his residence at Cheltenham, and there remained until his decease. The Cheltenham Looker-on says—'The death of Dr. Shaw, an event which took place early on Tuesday morning, has during the last few days produced throughout Cheltenham an expression of very general and sincere regret. Possessed of an extensive practice as physician and surgeon, he was uniformly and, we believe, deservedly esteemed by a large circle of patients; while the interest he took in most public matters calculated to promote the welfare and prosperity of the town caused him to be highly respected by all classes of the community. To the Horticultural and Floral Association especially the death of Dr. Shaw will be a very serious loss; for to his untiring exertions in connection with the society are to be attributed the success and celebrity of its exhibitions during the last two or three years.'—Dr. Shaw was also a Magistrate and Deputy-Lieutenant for the County of Pembroke.

SHAW, JOHN, L.R.C.S. Edin. 1817; L.S.A. 1818; on Oct. 3, at 62, Mount Pleasant, Liverpool, aged 57.

SHEGOG, FREDERICK Y., M.D. Glasgow, 1837; L.R.C.S. Ireland; Surgeon of the 88th Regiment, at Varna, Turkey, of cholera, on Aug. 30, aged 33, sincerely regretted by all who knew him. The exertions of Dr. Shegog, when the epidemic had been raging, were of the most extraordinary kind. He was by the beds of his patients night and day; and by his care, skill, and kindness, he saved many a life. Mild, unassuming, indefatigable, and amiable, he added to nobleness of heart great decision and energy. His remains were followed to the grave by the Regiment—officers, men, and women.

SHELTON, JOSEPH CHARLES, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1834; L.S.A. 1835; on May 12, at his residence, Foregate-street, Worcester, aged 42.

SHEPPARD, JAMES POOK, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1808; F.R.C.S. (Hon.) 1843; M.S.A. 1813; on Feb. 20, after a long illness, at Worcester. The deceased gentleman was well known as the Secretary to the Provincial Medical and Surgical Association, and in the discharge of the duties of that office, his zeal and devoted attachment to the interests of the Association, the gentlemanly tone of his correspondence, and his unvarying courtesy in conducting business, were well known by all with whom he was brought in contact. Mr. Sheppard had suffered from severe illness for a long time previous to his decease, but during the past two months had gradually been daily growing weaker. On Friday the 17th, he was attacked with sickness and diarrhoea, which terminated fatally on the 20th.

SHERRAD, RICHARD, at 62, South Moulton-street, on December 18, 1858. The deceased was in practice prior to the Act of 1815.

SKAE, EBENEZER, M.D. Edin. 1838; L.R.C.S. Edin. 1833; on Sept. 13, at his residence, 5, Argyll-square, Edinburgh. Dr. Skae was the Surgeon to the Eye Dispensary at Edinburgh, and a member of the Medico-Chirurgical and Obstetric Societies. He contributed in 1840 a paper to the Edinburgh Medical and Surgical Journal on the "Pathology of Tic Doloureux;" and another on "Poisoning by Tartar Emetic" to the Northern Journal of Medicine, in 1844; besides these he supplied various other papers to the Medical Journals.

SMITH, HENRY, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1838; on March 12, at Notte-treet, Plymouth, aged 39.

SMITH, JOHN, Lic. Fac. Phys. and Surg. Glasgow, 1825, on Nov. 16, at Jenny, Stirlingshire. Though Mr. Smith had been in a bad state of health or some time, his death was quite unlooked for. He was a Fellow of the Glasgow Faculty of Medicine, and Parochial Surgeon of the parishes of Jenny and Dunipace.

SMITH, THOMAS, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1831; on Feb. 24, after a few days' illness, at Lew-down, near Launceston, aged 43. Mr. Smith was the Medical Officer of the Tavistock Union, and, from his long residence and extensive practice in the neighbourhood, he was well known and much esteemed.

SMITH, WILLIAM, M.D., late of the 17th Regt., at Hillhead, near Forres, Morayshire, on Oct. 18, sincerely regretted.

SMITH, WILLIAM, F.R.C.S., on Nov. 26, at Swansea, aged 76. The deceased had been for many years Assistant to the late Mr. Clive.

SMYTH, PHILIP PETER, L.S.A. 1823; at Devonshire House, Bow. (Date unknown.)

SOWERBY, G. B., F.L.S., a well-known naturalist. (Date unknown.) Mr. Sowerby published several works on recent and fossil conchology, besides contributing papers to a Journal devoted to zoological science, of which he was one of the publishers and proprietors.

SPENCE, WILLIAM, on Feb. 11, at Dalton-in-Furness, Lancashire. The deceased had retired from practice, in which he had been engaged prior to the Act of 1815.

SPILLAN, D., M.D., the author of several elementary works, and translator of Andral's "Clinique Médicale," expired on June 20, in St. Pancras Workhouse, whither he had been placed but a day or two previously, on account of the extremely destitute condition of his family, who are at the present moment wanting the common necessities of life. We hear that Mr. Stone, of the Royal College of Surgeons, has kindly consented to receive subscriptions and donations in behalf of the widow and children.

STAFFORD, RICHARD ANTHONY, F.R.C.S. (Hon.), 1843, Surgeon-Extraordinary to the late Duke of Cambridge, and Surgeon to the Marylebone Infirmary, at his residence, 28, Old Burlington-street, on Jan. 15, aged 52. Mr. Stafford was the third son of the Rev. Egerton Stafford, Rector of Hachcombe, and of Thenford, Northamptonshire, and commenced the study of his profession in 1820, as a student at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, where he soon obtained the special notice of Abernethy, who conceived so well of his talents and application, that in 1823-4 he appointed him House-Surgeon to the Hospital, and honoured him with his friendship until his death. In 1825 he was admitted a Member of the College, and in the following year obtained the Jacksonian prize, awarded to him by the Council for his essay on the "Nature and Treatment of the Diseases, Distortions, and Injuries of the Spine." In 1843 he was elected a Fellow of the College, and a few years since became a Member of the Council, from which he retired, at the expiration of a year or two, on account of ill-health. Mr. Stafford was the author of several valuable contributions to the advancement of surgical knowledge, amongst which may be named "Diseases of the Urethra, a Division of the Stricture by Lancetted Stilettes," "The Deep and Excavated Ulcer," "Long-continued Contraction of the Knee Joint," "Angular and Lateral Curvature of the Spine," "Diseases of the Prostate Gland."

STANGER, THE HON. WILLIAM, M.D., F.G.S.; at D'Urban, Natal, March 14. Dr. Stanger was only in his forty-second year, and seems to have fallen a victim to an ill-judged application of the so-called hydropathic treatment. He had travelled from Maritzburg to Port Natal on horseback, and in order to relieve the fatigue he felt, was induced to submit to the application of the "wet sheet." The next day inflammation of the lungs took place, which carried him off in one week. Dr. Stanger was born at Wisbeach, in Cambridgeshire, and educated at Edinburgh, where he took his degree of Doctor of Medicine. He subsequently visited Australia, returned to England and settled in London, where he commenced the practice of his profession. His knowledge of natural history and his enterprising character recommended him to those who were engaged in fitting out the Niger expedition, which turned out so disastrously in 1841. During the voyage up the Niger, Dr. Stanger was one of the few who were not prostrated by the terrible fever which raged on board the ships, and it was mainly owing to his energy, in conjunction with Dr. Macwilliam, that one of the steamers was brought down the river. Although not attacked with the fever, his strong frame never wholly threw off the effects of exposure to the pestilential swamps of the Niger. The scientific results of this expedition were small, and nobody regretted this more acutely than Dr. Stanger, who had anticipated a rich harvest along the banks of the river. On his return to England he obtained the appointment of Surveyor-General to the Colony of Natal. Here his services were of great importance to the colony, and perhaps there is no individual in that community whose loss could be so deeply felt. Dr. Stanger performed the duties attached to his office laboriously and conscientiously, and had little time afforded him to make to form his numerous observations on Natural History. One of his contributions to this science was the discovery of a plant belonging to the family of Cycads, possessing characters differing from any hitherto found in that family. This plant has been named, after him, Stangeria, and a very interesting specimen is now producing its peculiar fruit in the Royal Gardens at Kew.—Athenæum.

STOCKS, J. ELLERTON, M.D., F.L.S.; of the Bombay Medical Service, at Cottingham, near Hull, on Oct. 30. Dr. Stocks is best known in the scientific world by his travels and explorations in Beluchistan and Scinde, in which latter country he spent the greater part of the term of his service, first as vaccinator, and latterly as inspector of drugs. So great was Dr. Stock's knowledge of the native character, and such was the confidence he inspired in those around him, that he was enabled to penetrate further into Beluchistan than any previous traveller had done since our armies had quitted Afghanistan, his singleness of purpose and remarkable tact disarming suspicion even amongst the most jealous of the native princes. Dr. Stocks was appointed by the Bombay Government to the important office of Conservator of Forests, during Dr. Gibson's absence on furlough, and on that gentleman's return he visited Europe on furlough, chiefly for the purpose of publishing the result of his scientific investigations. He arrived in England during the winter of 1853, bringing extensive collections of plants, which were temporarily deposited at Kew, where he resided for some time, devoting much of his time to the arrangement of his herbarium, and the preparation of a work on the geography, natural history, arts, and manufactures of Scinde. Having completed the arrangement of his herbarium, he started upon a tour in the North of Europe, hoping to return with improved health and renewed vigour to his winter's labours. At the expiration of the period he had assigned to his absence, his friends were anxiously looking forward to his return to Kew, when they received the sad intelligence of his decease. During his stay at Cottingham he was seized with an apoplectic stroke, from which he partially recovered; but a second, after an interval of ten days, carried him off. He was thirty-two years of age, and was son of the late B. Stocks, Esq., formerly manager of the Hull branch of the Bank of England. Dr. Stocks was distinguished for literary and scientific attainments, and was most sincerely loved by all who knew him.—Hull Packet.

STONE, THOMAS, M.D.; on May 23, at Charlotte-street, Fitzroy-square. As a medical student, Dr. Stone was the friend and associate of Professor Wilson Hogg, and Lockhart, and is said to have been not an infrequent contributor to the celebrated "Noctes Ambrosianæ" of Blackwood's Magazine. After graduation, Dr. Stone was appointed Inspector of Hospitals in Sir De Lacy Evans's Expedition to Spain. As an alumnus of the University of Edinburgh few men were more distinguished; and no member of the Royal Medical Society of Edinburgh, from 1828 to 1831, can fail to remember how his wit and talent gave zest and interest to the evening meetings of that popular Institution. Associated with Professor Sir William Hamilton, Dr. Stone effectively assailed the theories of the phrenologist in his examinations of the skulls of "Daft Jemmie," the murderer Burke, and the miscreant Hare. Of late years the deceased devoted himself to psychological researches. To the Psychological Journal Dr. Stone was an extensive contributor; and although he rarely paraded his name before the public, many elaborate papers, both in public journals and in more private works, might have had his name appended to them. After his return from Spain he settled in Spring Gardens, and the pages of the Polytechnic Review, of which he was both proprietor and editor, testify alike to his genius and varied talent. For some years Dr. Stone was Private Physician to the Earl of Pembroke, and accompanied his lordship through a lengthened tour on the continent. He was for some time Medical-Superintendent of Wyke-house Asylum, Brentford, and latterly of Haydock-lodge, near Manchester.—Med. Times and Gazette.

STUBBS, WILLIAM, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1807; at Braunston, Northamptonshire. (Date unknown.) Mr. Stubbs was Medical Officer of the Daventry Union.

SYMONDS, JOHN, late of Oxford, at Clifton, on Aug. 21, aged 76. Mr. Symonds had for 38 years held the appointment of Surgeon to the Oxford Dispensary and Lying-in Charity.

TAIT, WILLIAM, M.D., many years Physician to the Royal Naval Hospital, Yarmouth, at Boulogne-sur-Mer, on Sept. 21.

TAYLOR, WILLIAM. Surgeon, from dropsy of the head, on June 19, at his residence, 53, Upper Stamford-street, aged 58.

TENNISON, JOSEPH, Surgeon, in the Honourable East India Company's Service, after a very long voyage with troops. (Date unknown.) The deceased formerly resided at South Hackney.

THOM, ALEXANDER, First-class Staff-Surgeon, formerly of the 11th and 86th Regiments and late Principal Medical Officer at the Mauritius, on July 6, at 1, Warwick street, Charing-cross, of paralysis. By the death of Staff-Surgeon Thom, the British Army has been deprived of one of the most talented energetic, and efficient officers of its medical service, to which he was an ornament, and at a time, too, when his great practical experience of the diseases of military life in foreign climates, and his acknowledged superiority as a superintending and directing Medical Officer, might have become available for economising the valuable lives of our officers and soldiers now serving in the East. The merit and services of Mr. Thom were well known to, and fully appreciated by, the present chief of the Army Medical Board, under whom he had served two years at Chatham, before he exchanged with the Surgeon of the 85th Regiment, then in Scinde. Dr. Smith's ever-ready forwardness to advance Mr. Thom's prospects in the service, and his kind attention to him during his last moments, are all gratifying proofs how richly he considered him deserving of public reward. Having been selected by his chief for the important and onerous task of bringing up arrears of public medical business at the Mauritius, though labouring under indifferent health at the time, he did not shrink from the duty which had been assigned him. Leaving Bombay, where, for some time after the death of Dr. Kinnis, he had been acting as Deputy-Inspector of Hospitals, he assumed the office of Principal Medical Officer at the Mauritius on the 10th of April 1842. The estimation in which his services, military and civil, were held by the authorities of this settlement was evidenced by the complimentary Government order issued on his departure for England, and by the address from the Meteorological Society of the island, requesting him to accept the office of Honorary President, with a vote that his portrait should be hung in the rooms of the society. Apart from his duties there, as Principal Medical Officer to the troops, were those appertaining to his office of Chief Medical Adviser to the Government; and between these his labours were so greatly increased, that he felt a sacrifice, it is feared, to his keen sense of public duty and his untiring energy. Mr. Thom served with distinction in Portugal, the Ionian Islands, and in India. Next to his professional studies the subject of meteorology was his favourite pursuit. His well-known work on Storms was published in London, 1845, at the pressing request of Captain Beecher, Assistant Hydrographer to the Admiralty, and of Captain Stokes who had just returned from a survey of the Eastern Seas. Its publication led to many gratifying testimonials from the scientific men of the day, with many of whom afterwards the author kept up a friendly correspondence. Only three years ago, a Captain of the Royal Navy of Holland, on arriving at Calcutta, and hearing that Mr. Thom was at Bombay, wrote to him, saying how anxious he had been for an opportunity of expressing to him the great value and utility of his work which he himself had translated into the Dutch language, and which was now, by order of the King of Holland, used by every ship of the Dutch Navy. He mentioned, moreover, that, by closely adhering to the directions in the work, he had just passed through a most fearful hurricane without losing a spar or a sail. His excellent Report on Cholera, as it affected the troops at Kurrachee, but more particularly the men of H.M.'s 86th Regiment, during June 1846, was published, by order of the House of Commons, in March, 1846. The dreadful mortality of this epidemic, which, in a few days, destroyed 700 fighting men and several thousand civilians, deeply impressed the profession and the public; and the Report, which embraces its history, has been acknowledged to be a masterly production. Mr. Thom's career is proof of how much a man, by persevering industry, can accomplish for the honour of his profession, and for the benefit of his fellow-creatures. His body is interred in the Kensal-green cemetery.

THOMPSON, GEORGE, Surgeon, at Newport, Isle of Wight, on Sept. 23. Mr. Thompson was a licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons in the service of the Hon. E. I. Company, and Superintendent of the Madras Eye Infirmary.

THOMSON, JAMES, M.D., of the Royal Navy, at Balaric View, Belfast, aged 91. (Date of decease unknown.)

THOMSON, J., M.D., Assistant-Surgeon (1848), 44th Regt., of cholera, on Oct. 5. Amongst the many thousands who have fallen victims to this disease in the East, the name of Dr. Thomson will stand forth prominently. He was a native of Cromarty, in Scotland, and a man of untiring patience, great skill, and cool courage. After attending to the wounded soldiers of his own country, on the field of battle, he undertook the charge of 750 wounded Russians who were lying helpless on the field after the dearly-bought victory of Alma. Although he must have been aware of the several instances of cold-blooded treachery on the part of the Russians, some of whom stabbed the generous and devoted English surgeons who bound their wounds, yet Dr. Thomson, with his servant, dared to remain alone with 750 of their enemies. With their own hands they buried a large number of the dead who were left on the field, and administered to the wants of those who were wounded. Dr. Thomson having completed his duty, returned to his regiment, but, being thoroughly prostrated by fatigue and anxiety, he, at the early age of thirty, fell an easy victim to cholera, which carried him off in a few hours.

TILLY, CHARLES WATKINS, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1842; on Aug. 27, of cholera, whilst discharging his duties as Resident Medical Officer of the Westminster General Dispensary, aged 35. The decease of this gentleman has caused much regret, he being greatly respected and esteemed.

TRANT, NICHOLAS, Surgeon, late of County-terrace, New Kent-road, at 5, Kennington Oval, on Dec. 14, 1853, aged 43.

TREVOR, ANDREW, formerly Surgeon of the 33rd Regiment, at Gloucester-place, on July 7, aged 82. Mr. Trevor was a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons.

TROLLOPPE, THOMAS, L.S.A. 1819; on Oct. 8, at Weather-field Hall, Braintree, Essex, aged 57. The deceased was Medical Officer of the Braintree Union.

TROTTER, CHARLES, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1830; L.S.A. 1834; on Sept. 15, 1853, at his residence, Holmfirth, near Huddersfield.

TURLE, JOHN, M.D., on July 22, at 8, River-terrace, Islington, aged 24. Dr. Turle, born April 22, 1830, was the eldest son of Mr. John Turle, of Holloway, a surgeon who had retired from practice too early to be of practical benefit to his sons. This, however, did not prevent the subject of the present notice always looking on the medical profession as his future destiny in life; and, though he prosecuted the ordinary classical studies with that unremitting perseverance which characterized him through life, yet much time was given by him even when a mere boy to chemistry and other auxiliary studies. Before entering regularly on his medical studies, he acquired much useful professional knowledge in the practice of Mr. Robinson, of Edgware, who has always given strong testimony to the high opinion he formed of the talents and character of his assistant. After this he matriculated and passed a session at the University of Edinburgh, as it had always been determined that he should take his degree there. During the session he regularly attended the practice of the Infirmary, and the lectures of Jameson, Goodsir, &c. On his return to London he followed the usual routine of medical study at University College. The first medal he competed for and gained here being for Materia Medica, no doubt decided him in the preference he afterwards showed for this branch of medical study. After taking the diploma of the College of Surgeons, he served a preliminary dressership, and after a house-surgeoncy under Mr. Erichsen, from whom, as well as from Drs. Jenner and Parkes, under both of whom he acted for some time as physician's assistant, he gained that esteem which he found in every relation he held through life. At the expiration of his term of office he carried off from worthy competitors the gold medal awarded by the Society of Apothecaries for Therapeutics, on which occasion, as well as on his taking the licence immediately afterwards, he received the highest compliments from his examiners. He graduated at Edinburgh during the ensuing year (1853), choosing for the title of his Thesis, "The Disulphate of Quina, its Action and Uses;" his attention having been particularly drawn to the use of his medicine in continued fever whilst acting under Dr. Jenner. The subject, though not decided on many weeks before the day on which it was to be sent in, he followed up with such vigour and assiduity, as to produce an elaborate treatise, in which he advanced and ably supported some entirely new views in regard to the modus operandi of this drug. For this he gained a gold medal, the highest honour awarded by the University, and was highly complimented by several of the professors, one of whom begged him to devote the whole of his attention to Therapeutics, declaring that it was a study in which he must ere long hold one of the first positions. Dr. Turle's first intention was to have published his prize treatise immediately on his return to town from a tour in the Highlands. The revision and additions necessary for this purpose, however, were interrupted, first, by the long and fatal illness of his sister, which, while it gained him the valuable acquaintance of Dr. Billing, absorbed the whole of his attention until her death; next, by the occupation dependant upon the choice and purchase of a practice, and afterwards by the employment of mind and body necessarily entailed by the first entry in practice of a young man anxious to establish himself as early as possible. It was when he had overcome all these difficulties, and just as he had fallen into the regular routine of a general practice, and was about to complete the sum of his domestic happiness, that he was seized in the midst of apparently perfect health with the most severe attack of typhus that the writer has ever witnessed. From the time of invasion to his death, which took place on the thirteenth day, his former self was lost to his distressed friends. Dreading as such a fate, at the early age of 24, must appear to most men, to his staunch as he had always been in his duty to his God, his family, and (as for which he died) his patient, it would, had he foreseen it, have been a glory.

†TURNBULL, GAVIN, late Surgeon in the service of the Hon. E. Company, at Jersey, on Oct. 23.

†VIVIAN, JOHN FREDERICK, M.R.C.S. Eng. 1851, late of Kirby, near Ulverstone, at Curzon Park, Chester, on Dec. 25, 1850, aged 27. The deceased was Surgeon to the Burlington Slate Works, Kirby.

WALLICH, NATHANIEL, M.D., F.R.S., at his residence, 5, Upper Gowt street, on April 28, aged 69. This distinguished Indian botanist was a native of Denmark, and first visited India in 1807, in the capacity of Surgeon to the Danish Settlement of Serampore, in Bengal. On the taking of the place by the East India Company, Dr. Wallich became a prisoner of war, but gradually raised himself from this condition until he became the superintendent of the botanical garden at Calcutta, which post he held for nearly thirty years. He was the author of several botanical works. In 1820, in conjunction with Dr. Cary, he published "Flora Indica," and, shortly after, the "Tentamen Floræ Nepalensis." In 1832 he completed his magnificent "Plantæ Asiaticæ Rariores," a standard work of reference, containing nearly 300 coloured figures and descriptions of Indian ornamental plants. Dr. Wallich had several times been obliged to leave Calcutta for the improvement of his health, but in 1846 his constitution was so shattered that he was compelled to return to Europe, and took up his abode in London, where he continued until his decease. But even here he was not idle; he took an active interest in the proceedings of the Royal and Linnean Societies, of which, as well as of the French Institute, and most of the principal scientific societies both at home and abroad, he had long been a member. He was also a Knight of the Danish orders of Dannebrog and the Slesvig Cross. Being an excellent linguist, much of his leisure during the last few years of his life was occupied in the translation from the German, Danish, and Swedish languages of numerous scientific Memoirs, some of which were communicated to the Linnæan Society; they appeared in "Hooker's Journal of Botany," to which he was a frequent contributor. His latest work on systematic botany, entitled "Initiatory attempt to define the species of Hedychium," appeared in Hooker's Journal at the close of 1853. The Linnæan Society, on May 2, passed a resolution, adjourning their meeting in respect to his memory. The remains of Dr. Wallich, accompanied by the President and several of the Fellows, were interred in the Kensall-green Cemetery.

WALTON, JAMES, M.R.C.S. Eng. and L.S.A. 1836; on September 10, very suddenly, at his residence, 104, Cavendish-street, Ashton-under-Lyne, aged 44.

WATSON, JOHN, B.A., M.D. Glasgow, 1851; Lic. Fac. Phys. and Surg. Glasgow, 1852; after a few hours' illness, of cholera, on July 11, at Glasgow. Dr. Watson was educated at the University of Glasgow, and after a distinguished career he graduated in Arts, and subsequently with honourable distinction in Medicine. For a considerable period he filled the office of House-Surgeon to the Infirmary, where he gained the esteem of all connected with the Institution by his zeal, assiduity, and unwearied anxiety to alleviate the sufferings of the sick entrusted to his care. Before settling in Glasgow he was for some time in active practice in Kileyth, his leaving which was universally regretted, more especially by those who had known him professionally. Dr. Watson was naturally modest and retiring in manner, and of a singularly sweet and amiable disposition. Ever zealously active in the pursuit of knowledge, he possessed in a pre-eminent degree all the qualities which insure confidence and command respect.

WEBB, MATTHEW, Surgeon, on June 6, at Haybridge, near Wellington, Salop, aged 71. Mr. Webb was in practice prior to the act of 1815, and was Honorary Surgeon to the Wellington Dispensary, and Surgeon to several collieries.

WEBB, PHILIP BARKER, Surgeon, of Milford-house, Surrey, at 15, Avenue Marbœuf, Paris, on Aug. 31, of cholera, aged 62. The death of Mr. Webb will be felt as a great loss to the scientific world, to which he was well known as the author of several valuable botanical works.

His extreme exertions while labouring under much debility, during the late epidemic, hastened his dissolution. Respected by all who knew him, his prompt attention and kindness to the poor, whom he visited in his districts, secured for him their hearty good wishes for his recovery.

Life Assurance:

SHOWING ITS CLAIMS TO THE CONSIDERATION OF
ALL CLASSES OF THE COMMUNITY,

AND ESPECIALLY OF

THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

THE importance of LIFE ASSURANCE, or INSURANCE—the two words meaning the same thing—requires but little consideration to be thoroughly appreciated.

When we reflect that out of a population of 30 millions only 300 thousand Policies are issued, it is evident that the system is yet only in infancy.

It is now, however, making rapid progress, and, doubtless, ere long will have a supporter and advocate in every thoughtful man, and especially among the members of the Medical Profession. Already the facilities offered for effecting every description of Life Assurance are so numerous, that the wonder is, there should be found any prudent person unprovided with a Policy. Not a contingency seems to have escaped the thought and ingenuity of the Actuaries and Secretaries of the various Offices,—not an argument left unused that is calculated to awaken an interest in a subject so clearly important to ALL classes of the community; and the laudatory and honourable emulation that exists among the Conductors of the various Offices, characterised by the most gentlemanly and delicate feeling towards each other, is as highly creditable to them as it is a safeguard and encouragement to the public, proving, perhaps more than anything else, the stability, vastness, and importance of the field of usefulness that is thus open to them all.

Instances abound, and are in the cognizance of us all, in which the stern realities of Life Assurance are exemplified in the destitution and want of those unhappy families in which the provider of their daily wants neglected to avail himself of its advantages; and, on the other hand, the converse of the picture may have been seen, where, by timely and prudent realising them, the bitter pang of poverty has been averted from the helpless widow and children. [It may be imagined what blessings have been evoked for those whose thoughtfulness had mitigated the sorrow, and preserved the delicate and helpless from the charity of the world! Who, indeed, can point to one who on his death-bed ever regretted making this proper and timely provision? It would be impossible to estimate the pleasure the knowledge of such a provision has shed over the last moments of the affectionate husband and father. The subject has been already so frequently and fully dilated on, and its importance urged by the reality of cases the most heart-rending, that it is not our object further to set forth its claims, but rather, by appealing to reason, to com-

it to the earnest consideration and advocacy of ALL, especially that important section of the community, the Medical Profession. It is peculiarly the lot of Medical men to mix with the various classes around them. They are in very many instances looked up to as authorities, and possess an influence that ought to be used to the advancement and furtherance of such an object as Life Assurance. No greater kindness could be shown to those with whom they are brought in contact than the timely suggestion of such measures as are calculated to avert the pangs of poverty after death, and no mode of effecting this desideratum is so easy and free from inconvenience as Life Assurance. We will not insult the understanding of men in a learned Profession by asking if they are in favour of Life Assurance, for the answer must be from all observant men in the affirmative. But the question is—Do you recommend Life Assurance to your patients? Have you ever induced one of them to insure his or her life? If not, we must take leave to place before you some questions which, if acted on, will bring you, we will venture to say, to a higher honour and credit beyond that which is due to you from the ordinary routine of your avocations.

The Medical man is paying his final visit to the father of a family whose life he has saved by the mysteries of his art, and his last words consist of congratulations on the patient's recovery. Had the patient died, his wife and family would have been left penniless. What final leave-taking could or would it be said that the Medical man was exceeding his duty, rather would not he gain additional renown if he mingled with his congratulations a few brief words on the risk his patient had run in neglecting the advantages of Life Assurance? Again, is it possible to depict in words the gratitude of the widow and children if, in the interval of this first and a subsequent fatal illness, the admirable advice of the Medical man has been followed :

“ Look on this picture, and on that ! ”

Surely, too, with the Clergyman it cannot be beyond his duty to expatiate on the obligations due from the father of a family to the he will leave behind—not only to urge upon him the virtues of prudence and forethought, but the means by which the best results be obtained from their practice. Life Assurance can be enforced by so many arguments that success must follow his recommendations. We can imagine no more painful position than for a Clergyman to be a witness of the hopeless poverty of a family he has once seen in comparative affluence, more especially if the reflection should strike his mind that he was on such terms with the provider of his wants, when living and in health, as to have induced him to insure his life.

So much do we consider the furtherance of the principles of Life Assurance to be in the hands of the Medical Profession and the Clergy, that we hold it to be the duty of the one never to depart from a convalescent patient without drawing attention to the advantages of Life Assurance ; and of the other, in dilating on the uncertainty of life, to show even from the pulpit the obligation of parents to provide against the poverty of their families by resorting to this easy and certain means of escaping so painful a calamity. This is not a position or station in life, from the highest to the lowest, that is not provided for by the various Offices ; nor is there a mode of Insurance that cannot be effected. For instance :

1. You can insure your life for any sum, from 20*l*. to 20,000*l*. upwards.
2. You can insure your life for any sum to be paid to your should you live at a specified age, or to your representatives in case of your decease prior to that period.

You can insure your wife's life, provided she is possessed of an annuity that ceases with her life, and thereby secure it for your children or yourself.

You can insure your child's life for any sum to fall due at 7, 14, or 21, or any age you like to appoint, and in this case the premium is arranged either for all the money paid to be returned, provided the child dies before the age specified, or for it to become the property of the office.

You can insure without participating in the profits of the office, in which case the annual premium is lower.

Or you can insure to participate in the profits, by which plan the annual premium is gradually reduced, and ultimately altogether ceases, or the profits may be added to the policy.

You can insure your life for any sum by a single payment.

Or if your income is progressive you can insure for any sum, and only pay half the premium, the remainder being a debt on the policy, bearing interest:

Or another way, you can insure your life for a large sum at a very low premium at first, and then gradually increase it.

You can, by an annual payment, secure an annuity payable to yourself at a certain age, and to continue as long as you live.

You can insure your life against railway or other accidents.

You can insure for any sum in case of shipwreck on a voyage to any part of the world.

There are few who cannot yearly save something out of their me; and such a sum, whether it be little or much, invested in life, is the safest possible mode of investment, as in the event of death the amount is secured to relatives, whilst each year the sum becomes more valuable, and ultimately, if insured to participate in the profits, becomes not only free of annual payment, but ends in becoming as good as a bank-note. The certainty with which the tables connected with Life Assurance are calculated renders it free from the slightest risk to the Insurer; and we find in the 12th Annual Report of the Registrar-General, that the attention of Government has been given to the subject, especially with reference to the elaborate tables, &c., calculated and explained by Mr Farr, their object being to encourage this species of industry and prudence amongst the working classes, to whom Life Assurance offers the safest investment for their savings at the greatest interest.

Indeed it is impossible to conceive a subject fraught with so general interest to every class of the community, or more pregnant with important results. The rules, too, on which it is founded are deserving of a passing remark. It is proved that in any given number of persons there is an average amount of sickness during life—for example, take ten persons, among whom it is known that during their joint lives there will be fifty weeks of illness, but then it does not follow that each person will be ill five weeks—no, some of these almost or altogether escape, while others will have as many years more illness as the former have less of the five weeks. This fact is good in almost everything in the world—any given number of persons will live so many years amongst them, though some will die early in life, while others will exceed its usual limits, still they will live the time between them. It is the same with regard to accidents, either by sea or land, by fire, or by any other cause.

It is with pleasure, therefore, that we embrace an opportunity of advocating the claims of Life Assurance through a medium peculiarly suited to the subject—viz., the 'Medical Directory'—a work in great request by every Life Office, by whom it is liberally supported, great value acknowledged ; so that hardly a communication is received from any Medical man, or a fee paid for an opinion, without first ascertaining his qualifications and standing by reference to the 'Directory.'

It is also well known that every Medical man is personally interested in the correct registry of his name in this work, and is almost always referring to its pages for some matter connected with the profession. As the various Offices invariably turn to the 'Directory' for information relative to the Medical Profession, so the members of the Medical Profession naturally turn to the 'Directory' for any information respecting the Life Offices. In fact, 'Insurance Directory' is an essential feature of the 'Medical Directory,' and the utmost pains have been taken to render it complete.

It presents to the notice of the reader Offices embracing every description of Life Assurance, together with the leading features of each, and any peculiar advantage or novelty they may offer, thus presenting a selection to meet the requirements of every Insurer. Scarcely an Office worthy of public confidence is omitted ; and we are authorised to state that the Secretary of each will be happy at all times to afford the fullest information, either on personal application or by letter.

THE INSURANCE DIRECTORY, AND INDEX TO PROSPECTUSES.

One-half of the "whole-term" premium may remain on credit for seven years, or one-third of the premium may remain for life as a debt upon the policy at 5 per cent., or may be paid off at any time without notice.

Largest possible Return for their Investment.
2. The Equitable Assurance of Diseased Lives.

The usual mode of granting Annuities is merely to consider the Age of the Individual, without any regard to whether he has a Disease tending to shorten Life, or is hereditarily afflicted, or is otherwise situated so as to shorten materially his chance of Life.

This, however, is not just to the Annuitant, for it is not right that the man who is tainted with Consumption should get no more for his investment than a perfectly sound Life. The one may live only ten years, the other thirty, and thus, for the same amount of purchase-money,
the former should derive treble the income.

The ATHENÆUM LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY having completed a valuable and unique set of Tables for Diseased Lives, on unquestionably scientific data, is enabled to transact this peculiar business with the same facility as the ordinary—each Life being taken at the proper age on a specific Table, classifying the stage of disease, and exemplifying the probable duration of life. These principles they are ready to apply, and appeal to the Medical Profession for their aid and operation.

Each Medical Gentleman who assists the aim proposed, will be considered a private Agent, and for the Report, demanding some medical information, will receive, above the ordinary commission, a handsome "ad valorem" fee, on the completion of a proposal.

Prospectuses, with further particulars, and Tables for average Lives, can be had on application to the Manager.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

In this Branch—the essential qualifications of Life Assurance at this time—Perfect Security, and a Participation in the Profits by means of the Bonus System are combined. Policies may be effected for the whole term of Life by yearly or yearly payments, or by payment for a limited number of years only.

The following Statement of SUMS PAID on various Policies (printed with the consent of the Representatives of the Claimants) exhibits the BONUS or ADDITION ATTACHED THERETO respectively, and confirms the very satisfactory result of the principles on which the Company's business is conducted. It will be seen therefore in many instances the BONUS HAS EXCEEDED THE AMOUNT OF THE ORIGINAL PAID

A VALUATION up to Christmas, 1854, is now being made, and the result will be declared.

The next VALUATION will be made at Christmas, 1859; and Policies effected at that date will, if the parties be then alive, participate in proportion to the time they may then have been in force.

That the INCOME of this branch of their business for the year 1853 exceeded £174,000
 That the INVESTMENTS for the Life Policy Holders now amount to £1,483,499;

And as evidence of the advantage to Families of Life Assurance, The Company has actually paid 3,275 Claimants, from 1808 to the close of 1853, the sum of £2,733,076, of which a very considerable part was for Bonuses.

Persons Assuring for the whole term of Life, for £100 and upwards, in Great Britain or Ireland respectively, will be entitled, at the end of every FIFTH YEAR, if the person be then living, to participate in the SURPLUS PREMIUMS, either by addition to the Policies or by an equivalent reduction in the future payments of Premium, at the option of the Assured.

The marked testimony in favour of Life Assurance evinced by the Legislature in the exemption from Income-tax of the Premiums paid for a benefit of a surviving family, is deserving the most serious attention of all classes; not only on account of the actual saving, but also on account of the high estimation in which it proves that the system of Life Assurance generally is held by the Government of the country.

CHARLES JAMES THICKE, Resident Secretary.

The Directors of the British Mutual Life Assurance Society, in order to encourage parties desirous of making small investments, or obtaining loans from £50. to £500, beg to invite attention to the

which have been established upon the following principles:—

Each Class consists of Members, who each subscribe 1*l.* per month for fifty months for every £50 of the Capital Fund or Stock of the Class to which he belongs. Each Member to subscribe not less than 10*s.* (for £25), nor more than 20*s.* (for £250) per month.

The funds so raised are advanced each month by way of anticipation to that Member who may be willing to give the greatest bonus for the priority of the advance—i.e. for receiving at once, instead of waiting till he has completed his subscriptions, the ultimate amount of the sum he may subscribe for, such bonus to be paid in equal monthly proportions extending over the remaining period of duration of the Class.

The Member so entitling himself to the priority will simply have to give a Bond, joined by two approved sureties, or, if more convenient to himself, such other security as shall be approved by the Trustees of his Class for the due payment of his future subscription and bonus.

Several Classes have been already established, and others are now in course of formation, and will shortly commence operation. Persons desirous of joining, or of obtaining any further information, may apply at the Offices of the British Mutual Life Assurance Society, 17, New Bridge-street, Blackfriars.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

This Institution adopts both the Proprietary and Mutual systems of Life Assurance, and the Policy-holders in both branches are fully protected by the large Subscribed Capital of the Company.

In the Proprietary Branch, Assurances are granted at the lowest Rates of Premium consistent with the security of the Establishment. Such Assurances may be effected in a great variety of ways, to suit the circumstances and convenience of the Assured. Among others, where the Policy is made payable "On the Assured attaining Sixty years of age, or on Death, if that event should happen previously," is particularly deserving of attention.

In the Mutual Branch of this Institution, the Policy-holders are entitled to the entire Profits of the Branch, which are divided at the expiration of every fifth year. These profits may be applied either in reduction of the yearly premiums until the ensuing period of division, or in additions to the sums assured.

Prospective allowances are at each division set apart for those Policy-holders who are not immediately entitled to participate in the profits, but who will have paid five yearly premiums before the next ensuing division; thus affording to the Assured all the advantages of an Annual Division of Profits.

The Business of the Company comprises Assurances on Lives and Survivorships, the Purchase of Life Interests, the Sale and Purchase of Contingent and Deferred Annuities, Loans of Money on Mortgage, &c.

This Company was established in 1807, is empowered by the Act of Parliament 53 Geo. III., and regulated by Deed enrolled in the High Court of Chancery. The Company was originally a strictly Proprietary one. The Assured, on the participating scale, now participate quinquennially in four-fifths of the amount to be divided. To the present time (1853) the Assured have received from the Company, in satisfaction of their claims, upwards of 1,400,000*l*. The amount at present assured is 3,000,000*l*. nearly, and the income of the Company is about 125,000*l*. At the last Division of Surplus, about 120,000*l*. was added to the sums assured under Policies for the whole term of Life. The lives assured are permitted, in time of peace, and not being engaged in mining or gold digging, to reside in any country,—or to pass by sea (not being seafaring persons by profession) between any two parts of the same hemisphere—distant more than thirty-three degrees from the equator, without extra charge. All Policy Stamps and Medical Fees are now paid by the Company. By recent enactments persons are exempt, under certain restrictions, from Income Tax, as respects so much of their income as they may devote to Assurances on Lives.

The Annual Reports of the Company's state and progress, Prospectuses and Forms, may be had, or will be sent, post free, on application at the Office, or to any of the Company's Agents.

IMPERIAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

1, OLD BROAD-STREET, LONDON. INSTITUTED 1820.

Samuel Hibbert, Esq., Chairman.

William R. Robinson, Esq., Deputy-Chairman.

The Scale of Premiums adopted by this Office will be found of a very moderate character, but at the same time quite adequate to the risk incurred.

Four-fifths, or 80 per cent. of the Profits are assigned to Policies every fifth year, and may be applied to increase the sum insured to an immediate payment in cash, or to the reduction and ultimate extinction of future Premiums.

One-third of the Premium on Insurances of 500*l.* and upwards, for the whole term of life, may remain as a debt upon the Policy, to be paid off at convenience; or the Directors will lend sums of 50*l.* and upwards, on the security of Policies effected with this Company for the whole term of life, when they have acquired an adequate value.

SECURITY.—Those who effect Insurances with this Company are protected by its subscribed Capital of 750,000*l.*, of which nearly 140,000*l.* is invested, from the risk incurred by members of Mutual Societies.

The satisfactory financial condition of the Company, exclusive of the Subscribed and Invested Capital, will be seen by the following Statements:—

At the close of the last Financial Year the sums Assured, including Bonus added, amounted to	-	-	-	£2,500,000
The Premium Fund to more than	-	-	-	800,000
And the Annual Income from the same source, to	-	-	-	109,000

Insurances, without participation in Profits, may be effected at reduced rates.

This Society is established on the tried and approved principle of Mutual Insurance. The funds are accumulated for the exclusive benefit of the Policy-holders, under their own immediate superintendence and control. The profits are divided annually, and applied in reduction of the current Premiums. Policy-holders participate in Profits after payment of five Annual Premiums. The Annual General Meeting of this Society was held on the 30th May, 1849, when a Report of the business for the last year was presented, exhibiting statement of most satisfactory progress. It appeared that the Assurances in force considerably exceeded those effected in any previous year; the number of Policies issued being more than 460, and the annual income thereon being upwards of 7,500*l*. It also appeared that, except in 1849, when the visitation of cholera took place, the claims arising from deaths were, in every year, below their estimated amount.

The Members present at the Meeting were fully satisfied with the Report, and resolved unanimously that a reduction of 31½ per cent. should be made in the current year's Premium payable by all Policy-holders now entitled to participate in the Profits.

A credit is allowed for half the Annual Premiums for the first five years.

The following Table exemplifies the effect of the present reduction.

Perfect security is guaranteed by an ample paid-up Capital, subscribed by persons of the highest character and respectability.

The Policies are indisputable unless procured by fraud, and claims are promptly and liberally settled.

Policies may be effected without loss of time, the Directors together with the Medical Officer being in attendance at the Office every day.

Although the principal portion of the Society's Policies are on first-class lives, its peculiar feature consists in the Assurance, at moderate rates, of the lives of individuals of regular and temperate habits whose proposals have been declined by other offices.

Policy-holders may obtain loans on real or personal security. The Directors have advanced upwards of £175,000 to the Members since July, 1848.

The Funds of the Society are invested in the most advantageous manner, so as to promote security, and to afford the largest possible Benefit to the Assured at the periodical divisions.

The management of the Office is conducted in the most economical manner, as is shown by the Annual Reports.

Nearly Six Thousand Proposals for Assurance were received during the six years ending July, 1854, amounting in the aggregate to upwards of Two Millions and a Half sterling! and the Directors were enabled to invest Ninety Thousand Pounds in such period, chiefly from accumulated Premiums. The Income in July, 1853, amounted to £38,478 5s 6d.

Medical Fees allowed by this Company.

Under the provisions of an Act of Parliament, recently obtained, this Company now insures to future Insurers a LOW RATE OF PREMIUM without participation in the profit, or a moderate scale of Premiums with FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE PROFIT to be derived from all Assurances hereafter effected.

The divisions of Profits, which heretofore have been made Septennially, will in future be made QUINQUENNIALY, the first of such divisions to be declared in June, 1854, when all Participating Policies, which shall have subsisted at least one year at Christmas, 1854, will be allowed to share in the Profits.

At the several past Divisions of Profits made by this Company, the Reversionary Annuities added to the Policies from One-Half the Profits amounted, on an average of different years, to about One per Cent. per Annum on the sums insured, and the total Bonuses added at the four Septennial Divisions exceeded 770,000*l*.

LOANS granted on Life Policies to the extent of their values, provided such Policies shall have been effected a sufficient time to have attained in each case a value not under 50*l*.

UNSOUND LIVES.—Persons who are not in such sound health as would enable them to insure their lives at the Tabular Premiums, may be insured at such extra Premium the Directors may deem adequate to the increased risk thereby incurred.

Every Renewable Policy is held in force during the 30 days allowed for its renewal, provided the Premium shall be paid within that period.

A Policy taken out on Own Life is held to be valid in case of suicide, death by falling, or by the hands of justice, to the extent of any bona fide interest acquired therein by other parties.

Age admitted in all cases upon proof being furnished satisfactory to the Directors. Appearances taken any day, but the usual day of appearance is Friday, at one o'clock.

Appearances also taken by appointed Agents of the Company in most parts of the United Kingdom and Continent of Europe, without Fine for non-appearance in London.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.—The important advantages offered by the and constitution of the Life Department of this Society are:

That Insurers are protected by a large invested Capital, upon which there is no interest to pay, and for which no deduction of any kind is made; which enables the Directors to give the whole of the Profits to insuring Members. That the Profits are divided annually amongst Members of five years' standing, and applied towards reducing Life Insurance to the lowest possible rates of Premium.

The abatement of Premium on all Policies of five years' standing was 1842, 1843, and 1844 at the rate of 45*l.* per cent. in each year; in 1845,
1846, 1847, and 1848, 50*l.* per cent. in each year; and in 1849, 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, and 1854, 52*l.* 10*s.* per cent. in each year; and it is expected that an equal abatement will in future be annually made.

Persons insuring their own lives, or the lives of others, may become members. Persons who are willing to forego participation in the profits can insure at a lower rate than that charged to Members.

The following Table will show the effect of the Reduction of Premiums made by the Society on Members' Policies that have been five years in force.

Age when Insured.	Sum Insured.	Annual Premium for first Five Years.	Reduced Premium.
30	100	2 13 5	1 5 6
40	100	3 7 11	1 12 3
30	500	13 7 1	6 7 0
40	500	16 19 7	8 1 3
45	1,000	34 19 2	18 10 1
40	2,000	67 18 4	32 5 2
45	5,000	194 15 10	92 10 6

This system of reducing the Premiums affords immediate benefit to Members, and enables them to insure a further sum upon their lives for to more than one-third of the present policy, without any additional outlay.

No charge for Policy Stamps.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Insurances are effected on every description of property at the usual rates.

CAPITAL AND RATE OF INTEREST.—The capital of 250,000*l.*, which has been enlarged for the purposes of its profitable Loan System on real securities, is divided, for the convenience of investment and transfer, into 1*l.* shares, of which 10*s.* only will be called.

The interest upon the paid-up capital is 5 per cent., payable half-yearly, in April and October, and may be received free of charge either through a country banker or from the Agents of the Company.

DEPOSIT INVESTMENTS.—By which depositors of large or small amounts secure the profits arising from their money being advanced on a safe system of gradually redeeming mortgages of real property, whilst they avoid the trouble, expense, and risk of themselves taking individual securities.

MODE OF INVESTMENT.—The funds of the Company, as they cumulate, are advanced to such of the persons insuring as may require them for the purchase, erection, or mortgage of property; such advances to be repaid by quarterly instalments (of principal, interest, and premium in one sum), over a course of years to be agreed upon, the payments to cease in the event of the death of the borrower, and the property handed over to his representatives, free from mortgage and from all claim for future instalments.

ADVANTAGES TO POLICY HOLDERS.—Seventy-five per cent. of the whole profits of the Company, after the payment of five per cent. upon the Capital and Investment Fund, will be divided amongst the Policy holders. Those assured for the whole term of life will participate in all the benefits of the Loan System. The Life Assurance under the system being for the term of the Loan only, the risk expires immediately after the Loan is paid off, and the premiums received therefrom will, together with the profits from the usual sources of Life Assurance business, form an accumulated Fund, from which large additions in the shape of Bonus will be continually made to Policies.

ADVANTAGES TO SHAREHOLDERS.—The Funds of the Company being lent upon real securities, and those of a like nature, accompanied always by an Assurance on the life of the Borrower for the period of the Loan, yield a high rate of interest over and above the 5 per cent. payable half-yearly. The profits arising from this and other lucrative sources of the Company's business will be distributed after the first division, annually, in the shape of Bonus amongst the Share and Policy holders, according to the terms of the Deed of Settlement.

Medical Officer.—Stephen H. Ward, Esq., M.D., 28, Finsbury Circus.

Solicitors—Messrs. Simpson and Cobb, 62, Moorgate-street.

During the year ending 5th April, 1854, 938 New Policies have been issued by the Society, assuring 457,000*l.*, and yielding in annual Premiums 14,326*l.*

Since its commencement in 1839 the Association has issued 7,334 Policies, assuring sums to the amount of nearly Three Millions of Pounds.

The annual Income of the Association, as at 5th April, 1854, was 80,000*l.*

The distinguished feature of the Institution is, that the Profit or Surplus arising in the course of the business is enjoyed by the Policy-holders during life.

On the 5th April in every year, the precise state of the affairs is ascertained by a detailed valuation of the Assets and Liabilities. The divisible Surplus is then apportioned to all Policy-holders of Six Years standing, and the share of each is handed to him in Cash, when he pays his next premium.

The payments from the Surplus amounted, for the years 1845, 1846, and 1847, to 30 per cent. of the Premiums, and in 1848, 1849, 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, and 1854, to 35 per cent. of the Premiums — that is to say, a Policy-holder paying a Premium of 100*l.* received back from the Office 35*l.*; and another, paying a Premium of 50*l.*, received from the Office 17*l.* 10*s.* in each of these years. The effect of this has been to reduce Premiums of 100*l.* to 65*l.* and those of 50*l.* to 32*l.* 10*s.*; and all the others in the same proportion.

The LIFE ASSOCIATION OF SCOTLAND is the only Scottish Office which has adopted this system.

This Corporation has granted Assurances on Lives for a period exceeding 130 years, having issued its first policy on the 7th June, 1721. Two-thirds, or 66 per cent. of the entire profits are given to the Assured.

Policies may be opened under either of the following plans, viz.—

At a low rate of premium, without participation in profits, or at a somewhat higher rate, entitling the Assured, either after the first five years, to an annual abatement of premium for the remainder of life, or, after payment of the first premium, to a participation in the ensuing quinquennial Bonus.

The high character which this ancient Corporation has maintained during nearly a century and a half, secures to the public a full and faithful declaration of profits.

The Corporation bears the whole expenses of management, thus giving to the Assured, in consequence of the protection afforded by its Corporate Fund, advantages equal to those of any system of Mutual Assurance.

Premiums may be paid Yearly, Half-yearly, or Quarterly.

All Policies are issued free from Stamp Duty, or from charge of any description whatever, beyond the Premium.

The fees of Medical Referees are paid by the Corporation.

Annuities are granted, payable Half-yearly.

Every facility will be given for the transfer or exchange of Policies, or any other suitable arrangement will be made for the convenience of the Assured.

Prospectuses and all other information may be obtained by either a written or personal application to the Actuary or to the Superintendent of the West-End Office.

BUSINESS AND PROGRESS.

At the last Annual Meeting, held on the 30th November, 1854, it was shown that there had been issued no less than 2,130 Policies during the last twelve months, covering Assurances to the amount of 1,027,500*l.*, and yielding Annual Premiums, amounting to 50,110*l.*

By the Annual Report for 1853, it appeared that the number of Policies then in force was 3,434, insuring 1,337,500*l.*, and yielding an income of 55,207*l.*

The number of Policies now in force is 5,248

The Amount insured is £2,298,027 8*s.* 2*d.*

The Income from Premiums is 100,510 9*s.* 1*d.*

This very large increase is owing partly to a general accession of business, and partly to the transfer to this Company of the business of the New Oriental Company, which included 1,011 Policies, insuring 538,532*l.*, with a Revenue of 27,351*l.*

The whole of the new Assurances effected during the year amount to 1,119, assuring 534,188*l.* 3*s.* 1*d.*, yielding an income of 22,758*l.*, showing an excess over the new business of last year of 197 Policies, assuring 132,012*l.*

It also appeared by the Auditors' Report and the Balance Sheet submitted to the Proprietors in November, 1853, that the accumulated Assets then amounted to 91,912*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*; whereas in 1854 they amounted to 135,557*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.* The accumulated capital, therefore, has increased during the last Financial Year by 43,645*l.* 0*s.* 5*d.*

Last year it was shown that owing to the recent rapid extension of the business of the Society, about 60 per cent. of all the Assurances were effected within the two preceding years, so that nearly two-thirds of the Policies then in force were scarcely over one year's average duration, but from the augmentation which has since taken place, 40 per cent. of the existing Policies are only of eight months' duration.

The whole of the Policies now in force have not a greater average duration than two years.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

The first division of Profits was made in 1848, by which nearly two per centum per annum on the average was added to those Policies participating in the profits of the Society.

The second Bonus was declared in 1853, and the following abstract will show the gross amount of the two Bonuses added to different kinds of Policies effected in the years 1841 and 1842.

Date, Age, and Class of Policy.				Original Sum Assured.	Amount of Bonuses added.			Sum now As- sured under the Policy.

		1842		1000	373	3	4	1373	3	4

It thus appears that the liberal and equitable system by which the Profits are distributed amongst the Assured, enable the Policyholders to derive peculiar advantages by assuring in this Society. The Profits are divided every five years.

GENERAL ADVANTAGES.

Assurances are effected at home or abroad, on either healthy or diseased lives, at as moderate rates as the most recent data will allow.

No extra premium is required on Healthy Lives in the Army or Navy unless in actual service.

The Policies issued by this Society give greater facilities to parties going to or residing in Foreign Climates than those of any other Company.

Premiums for India and the Colonies very moderate.

In all cases where satisfactory proof is given that the causes for an increased rate of premium have ceased, a reduction in the premium is made.

Policies issued free of stamp duty and every other charge, except the Premium.

Notices of Assignment are registered and acknowledged without charge.

A Capital of Half-a-million sterling, fully subscribed, affords a complete guarantee for the fulfilment of the Company's engagements.

Prospectuses, Forms of Proposal, and every other information, may be obtained on application to any of the Society's Agents in the country, or of

The Medical Attendant consulted as the Medical Adviser and Examiner of the Society, and awarded a fee of £2 2s., when the sum assured amounts to £250, and £1 is when under that sum. The Medical Practitioner also receives for business introduced by him the usual commission of ten per cent. on the first payment, and five per cent. on the payments of subsequent years.

The Society also claims the support of the Medical Profession on the following grounds:—

1. For several years the "Medical, Legal, and General," was the only MUTUAL LIFE Assurance Society connected with the Medical Profession.

2. The rates are lower than those of any other Medical Life Office.

3. Persons desirous of Assuring Diseased or Rejected Lives will find that from the experience acquired by this Society it is enabled to accept such lives at rates both equitable and safe.

4. From the outset the expenses of management have been kept within the narrowest limit, consistent with the efficient working of the establishment.

Annuities, endowments, and every form of assurance contingent upon Life transacted at moderate rates.

This Corporation has granted Assurances on Lives for a period exceeding 130 years, having issued its first policy on the 7th June, 1721. Two-thirds, or 66 per cent. of the entire profits are given to the Assured.

Policies may be opened under either of the following plans, viz.—

At a low rate of premium, without participation in profits, or at a somewhat higher rate, entitling the Assured, either after the first five years, to an annual abatement of premium for the remainder of life, or, after payment of the first premium, to a participation in the ensuing quinquennial Bonus.

The high character which this ancient Corporation has maintained during nearly a century and a half, secures to the public a full and faithful declaration of profits.

The Corporation bears the whole expenses of management, thus giving to the Assured, in consequence of the protection afforded by its Corporate Fund, advantages equal to those of any system of Mutual Assurance.

Premiums may be paid Yearly, Half-yearly, or Quarterly.

All Policies are issued free from Stamp Duty, or from charge of any description whatever, beyond the Premium.

The fees of Medical Referees are paid by the Corporation.

Annuities are granted, payable Half-yearly.

Every facility will be given for the transfer or exchange of Policies, or any other suitable arrangement will be made for the convenience of the Assured.

Prospectuses and all other information may be obtained by either a written or personal application to the Actuary or to the Superintendent of the West-End Office.

BUSINESS AND PROGRESS.

At the last Annual Meeting, held on the 30th November, 1854, it was shown that there had been issued no less than 2,130 Policies during the last twelve months, covering Assurances to the amount of 1,027,500*l.*, and yielding Annual Premiums, amounting to 50,110*l.*

By the Annual Report for 1853, it appeared that the number of Policies then in force was 3,434, insuring 1,337,500*l.*, and yielding an income of 55,207*l.*

The number of Policies now in force is 5,248

The Amount insured is £2,298,027 8*s.* 2*d.*

The Income from Premiums is 100,510 9*s.* 1*d.*

This very large increase is owing partly to a general accession of business, and partly to the transfer to this Company of the business of the New Oriental Company, which included 1,011 Policies, insuring 538,532*l.*, with a Revenue of 27,351*l.*

The whole of the new Assurances effected during the year amount to 1,119, assuring 534,188*l.* 3*s.* 1*d.*, yielding an income of 22,758*l.*, showing an excess over the new business of last year of 197 Policies, assuring 132,012*l.*

It also appeared by the Auditors' Report and the Balance Sheet submitted to the Proprietors in November, 1853, that the accumulated Assets then amounted to 91,912*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*; whereas in 1854 they amounted to 135,557*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.* The accumulated capital, therefore, has increased during the last Financial Year by 43,645*l.* 0*s.* 5*d.*

Last year it was shown that owing to the recent rapid extension of the business of the Society, about 60 per cent. of all the Assurances were effected within the two preceding years, so that nearly two-thirds of the Policies then in force were scarcely over one year's average duration, but from the augmentation which has since taken place, 40 per cent. of the existing Policies are only of eight months' duration.

The whole of the Policies now in force have not a greater average duration than two years.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

The first division of Profits was made in 1848, by which nearly two per centum per annum on the average was added to those Policies participating in the profits of the Society.

The second Bonus was declared in 1853, and the following abstract will show the gross amount of the two Bonuses added to different kinds of Policies effected in the years 1841 and 1842.

Date, Age, and Class of Policy.			Original Sum Assured.	Amount of Bonuses added.			Sum now As- sured under the Policy.
			£	£	s.	d.	£	s.	d.
Healthy Lives Assured at	Age 30	{ 1841	1000	165	14	2	1165	14	2

		{ 1842	1000	373	3	4	1373	3	4

It thus appears that the liberal and equitable system by which the Profits are distributed amongst the Assured, enable the Policyholders to derive peculiar advantages by assuring in this Society. The Profits are divided every five years.

GENERAL ADVANTAGES.

Assurances are effected at home or abroad, on either healthy or diseased lives, at as moderate rates as the most recent data will allow.

No extra premium is required on Healthy Lives in the Army or Navy unless in actual service.

The Policies issued by this Society give greater facilities to parties going to or residing in Foreign Climates than those of any other Company.

Premiums for India and the Colonies very moderate.

In all cases where satisfactory proof is given that the causes for an increased rate of premium have ceased, a reduction in the premium is made.

Policies issued free of stamp duty and every other charge, except the Premium.

Notices of Assignment are registered and acknowledged without charge.

A Capital of Half-a-million sterling, fully subscribed, affords a complete guarantee for the fulfilment of the Company's engagements.

This Society is conducted on the basis of Mutual Assurance, and there being no proprietary body to share the profits with the Assured, the entire advantages belong exclusively to the Members, who are enabled to effect Assurances on their Lives at the least possible expense.

The Society possesses a large accumulated and invested Capital, affording the fullest security to parties Assuring at this Office.

Assurances can be effected for any sum from £50 to £5,000.

Parties may assure a fixed sum payable at death, but the annual premium to cease at any given period.

Assurances can also be effected whereby parties may secure a sum payable to themselves on attaining the age of 60, or any given age, which sum would be payable to their representatives in case of death previous to that age.

To meet the convenience of Assurers who may prefer the payment of their premiums once a quarter, special rates are chargeable; to others who desire to leave a portion of the Premium unpaid, and chargeable upon the policy when it becomes a claim, facilities are afforded on terms which (with any other information), can be obtained at the Office.

THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT BENEFITS ARE AFFORDED BY THIS COMPANY:—

1st.—A guaranteed Return will be made at any time for the surrender of existing whole term Policies, effected by even rates, of 40 per cent of the amount of ordinary Premiums received thereon. This is an advantage which it is believed has not hitherto been afforded by any other Assurance Company.

2nd.—A person desirous of surrendering his Policy may receive, instead of a payment in cash, a new Policy for an equivalent sum, not subject to further payment of Premium.

3rd.—Credit given for one-third of the Premiums upon whole term Policies.

4th.—Notices of assignments received and registered, and acknowledged if required.

5th.—No claim will be disputed, except in case of palpable fraud: an unintentional error will not vitiate a Policy.

6th.—No entrance money or fee of any kind, nor any charge made for Policies.

7th.—Loans are granted on deposit of Policies of five years' standing to the extent of their value.

8th.—No appearance before the Court of Directors required.

The Income for 1853 was 55,365*l.* 10*s.* 5*d.*

The Accumulated Funds on 31st Dec. 1853, were 267,981*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.*

Prospectuses, Forms of Proposal, and every information, may be obtained at either of the Offices as above, or from any of the Agents throughout the kingdom.

FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE PROFITS DIVIDED EVERY FIVE YEARS.

The Directors particularly invite attention to the very large Bonus declared in Jan. 1852.

The reduction of Premium then averaged 35.22 per cent. on the Premiums payable during the next five years.

The Reversionary Bonus averaged 60 per cent. on the Premiums received during the preceding Five Years, or 9 per cent. on the sums assured.

Upon the Policies which had been full five years in existence the Reversionary Bonus averaged 24 per cent. per annum on the sum assured—a result which has been seldom equalled, and will bear comparison with that of any Office.

The following Table illustrates the Bonuses declared—

		Average Reduction of Premium.	Average Reversionary Bonus.
1st Division—1842	- - -	16.833 per cent.	31 per cent.
2nd " 1847	- - -	21.333 " "	53½ " "
3rd " 1852	- - -	35.22 " "	60 " "

Policies effected by the Participation Scale prior to 31st December, 1845, will participate in the next Division of Profits in 1847.

This Society is established on the just principle of Mutual Life Assurance; without entailing on its members the liability incurred in other institutions of a similar character, it embodies every improvement in the principles and practice of modern Life Assurance. The justice and liberality of its principles, and their suitability to the wants of the public, have obtained for it a large and rapidly increasing business. The Policies being indisputable, entail no trouble or inconvenience to the survivors. Every Policy is made payable to the holder, by which means it may, by simple indorsement, be negotiated with the same facility as bills of exchange, and without the exposure, trouble, and expense attending the ordinary mode of assignments. The payment of premiums is arranged to suit the convenience of all classes of Assurers.

This Society has now been established upwards of Forty-six Years, upon principles of MUTUAL ASSURANCE, during which period it has to claimants on terminated Policies upwards of 3,500,000*l.* sterling, addition to which nearly One Million and a Quarter sterling has been gained by way of Bonuses; while the accumulated Capital, for meeting engagements (and which is almost wholly invested on Real and Government Securities), exceeds 2,000,000*l.*

There is no Proprietary to divide with the Assured the profits of this institution, which is one of the very few purely Mutual Insurance Offices. In addition, however, to the entire profits of the Society, persons effecting insurances will be entitled to participate in the Benefits to be derived from the Reserved Fund, now amounting to 209,510*l.* 6*s.* 11*d.*, and which, by affording all the protection of a Proprietary Capital, will at the same time increase instead of diminishing their future Bonuses.

The rates of Premium are below those of most Insurance Offices, and for the age of forty-five not less so than 10 per cent., a benefit in itself equivalent to an Annual Bonus.

One-half of the first five Annual Premiums may remain as a permanent reserve upon Policies granted for the whole duration of life.

Insurance is provided by the constitution of the Society that the Insured shall be free from all responsibility; and to guarantee the engagements of the Society, a fund of 550,000*l.* has been subscribed by a numerous and opulent Proprietary; which fund has been further increased by the accumulation of an additional reserve, now amounting to 96,800*l.* Returns of Three-fourths of the Profits of the Company are periodically made to parties insuring, who have thus from time received from the Society sums amounting in the aggregate to nearly 380,000*l.*

The rates of Premium are in no case higher than those charged by the principal Offices, making no returns to their Insurers.

The business of the Company exceeds 62,000,000*l.*, and, owing to the liberality with which its engagements have been performed, is rapidly increasing. The duty paid to Government for the year 1853 was 73,971*l.*; the Amount Insured on Farming Stock was upwards of 8,974,629*l.*

NEW RATES OF PREMIUM.—The Directors of this Society, with a view of meeting the wants and wishes of the large class of persons who prefer the present advantages of reduced Premiums to a prospective bonus in the shape of an addition to their Policies, have constructed a new scale based on the safest and most approved data, viz., the Experience Table recently compiled by a Committee of Actuaries, from the records of sixteen of the leading London Offices.

The Society now offers the following advantages:—
The lowest scale of Premium which can be safely adopted.

EXAMPLE TO ASSURE £100 FOR WHOLE LIFE.

Age 20.....14. 13s. 1d. | Age 30.....21. 2s. 10d. | Age 40.....21. 18s. 6d.
Other ages at proportionate rates.

Undoubted security, guaranteed by a large capital; an influential proprietor; a long standing of the Office, and the satisfactory results of its business.

Facility in settlement of claims. Liberty to travel in any part of Europe, without extra Premium in time of peace.

Loans equivalent to the value of the Policies.

To those who desire to secure the advantages of a prospective bonus, by an additional outlay, the deed of settlement assigns four-fifths of the Profits.

Bonuses may be commuted for equivalent reductions of Premium at the option of the Assured, by which arrangement the amount originally assured may be kept constant continually decreasing cost.

Insurance effected on joint as well as on single lives, for short terms or otherwise, and to meet any specified contingency.

The age of the life assured is admitted on the Policy at the time of effecting Assurance, or at any other time, on production of satisfactory proof.

Every information and assistance will be given to Assurers, either at the Office, 7, Waterloo-place, London; or by the Society's agents, established in all parts of the Kingdom.

FIRE, LIFE, and MARINE ASSURANCES may be effected with the Corporation on advantageous terms.

The Assured are exempt from liabilities of partnership, and payment of their claims is guaranteed by a large invested capital-stock.

In the Life Department, assurances are granted with participation in profits, or, at lower premiums, without such participation.

The reversionary Bonus on Life Policies has averaged 2 per cent. per annum on the sum assured, or 46 per cent on the premiums paid.

Any sum not exceeding 10,000*l.* may be assured on the same life.

The Corporation bears the cost of policy stamps and medical fees, and requires no entrance-money. The Assured are subject to no expense on the premium. No extra charge is made for service in the Militia.

Loans are granted on Life Policies to the full extent of their values.

The expenses of management, being divided between the different branches, are spread over a larger amount of business than that transacted by any other office. The charge upon each individual policy is consequently reduced to a sum so small as to account for the magnitude of the Bonus, which has been declared, and to afford a probability that a similar rate will be maintained at future divisions.

This Corporation affords all the advantages of modern practice, with the stability of an office safely-constituted under Royal Charter and special Acts of Parliament, and tested by the experience of nearly a century and a half. There is but one older Life-office in existence.

Further particulars may be obtained on application at the offices of the Corporation ; or to the agents appointed in all the principal towns in the Kingdom.

FIRE BRANCH.—Persons assured by this Company are not subject to any covenants or calls to make good losses which may happen to themselves or others, nor do they depend upon an uncertain fund or contribution, the Capital Stock of this Company being an unquestionable Security to the Assured in case of Loss or Damage by Fire.

LIFE BRANCH.—The important advantages afforded by the Company in the Life Branch will include the following, viz.:—1st. The Guarantee of an Ample Capital and Exemption of the Assured from Liability of Partnership. The Assured neither having to depend on an uncertain fund, nor being in any way accountable for the payment of claims.—2nd. Moderate Premiums: The Tables of Premiums avoid, on the one hand, an unnecessarily High Rate of Payment by the Assured, on the other the danger resulting from inadequate charges.—3rd. Large Participation of profits by the Assured, amounting to Two-thirds of its net amount, which may be applied at the option of the party effecting the Assurance—1st, by an immediate payment of the sum so apportioned; 2nd, by an equivalent reduction of the future premiums; or 3rd, by an equivalent increase of the sum assured.—4th. Small charge for Management.

The following Results were shown in the Report to the Shareholders at the last Annual Meeting, August, 1854:—

The Company has received in Fire Premiums alone, during the year 1854, no less than	£112,564 4 4
The Paid-up Capital at the date of meeting was	276,915 0 0
There is, in addition to this amount, a Surplus Fund (after paying a dividend) of ..	57,658 14 6

Total Paid-up and Invested Capital

MEM.—The above amounts are irrespective of an ample sum, kept apart, to cover the Life liabilities of the Establishment.

Extract from J. H. Hartnoll's Letter to the President of the Board of Trade.—"I fear that the comments which have been made from time to time in the 'Post Magazine,' on the success of the Royal Insurance Company, have had the mischievous effect of creating a desire in many of the new Life Offices to 'try their luck' in the Fire line. Several engraftments of the kind have already been made, others are announced, and more are privately talked of. The results that are exhibited in most of the preceding summaries of accounts, are not, however, very encouraging for such experiments. It is as hazardous to enter upon a 'little Fire Insurance business,' as the good old Duke used to say it was to enter upon a 'little war.'"

Extract from the 'Reporter,' Sept. 1854.—"A career of uninterrupted success and profit has, up to this hour, attended the twin departments of this great Insurance Confederation. . . . We have little more to say with respect to the 'Royal,' an institution which, from its very commencement, we have held up as one of the brightest and most successful instances of legitimate enterprise in this most important walk of life."

Extract from the 'Post Magazine,' Aug. 12, 1854.—"The accounts show that its business was not procured by those laborious and costly efforts by which New Insurance Companies frequently struggle to obtain a footing. To the evidence of this success that has been afforded by the preceding analysis of the Company's accounts may be added the statement made by the Chairman in his address, that "the present bona fide paid up invested Capital is very nearly 400,000*l*," and the declaration by the Manager, Mr Percy M. Dove, that "the amount of Premiums this year will in all probability exceed 120,000*l*!"

The Division of Profits is fair and popular, the additions being from the date of the assurance. The investigations are made every seven years, but all the advantages of yearly bonus are attained by provision being made at each investigation for annual additions to such Policies as may become claims before the next investigation.

New entrants admitted to every advantage.

The Bonus may, at the option of the Assured, be applied thus:—It may be added to the sum assured, payable at death; commuted into a present payment; or applied in reduction of the future annual premiums, tables for which may be had at the Offices, and from the Agents.

A liberal allowance made for Surrender of Policies.

New Tables have been framed, which will be found lower than those of most other Offices.

This Office presents the following advantages :—The security of a large paid-up Capital; very moderate Rates for all ages, especially young lives; no Charges whatever, except the Premium; all Policies indisputable.

By the recent Bonus, four-fifths of the Premium paid was in many instances returned to the Policy-holders. Thus on a Policy of 1,000*l.* effected in 1846, Premiums amounting to 153*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.* had been paid, while 123*l.* 7*s.* was the Bonus added in 1853.

Fourteenpence saved weekly, and paid to this Office quarterly or half-yearly, will secure to a person 25 years of age the sum of 100*l.* on his attaining the age of 55, or at death, should that event occur previously.

Rates are calculated for all ages, climates, and circumstances connected with Life Assurance.

UNCHALLENGEABLE POLICIES AND FREE RESIDENCE IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD.

When a person formerly assured his life, he generally looked to the rate of premium, the prospects of Bonus, and the general character of the Office, but seldom gave attention to the "Terms and Conditions" of assurance. Within the last few years however,—indeed since 1851, when this Company promulgated the system of "Select Assurance," admission to which renders Policies indisputable and unchallengeable on any ground whatever,—the question of "Terms and Conditions" has become a most important point of consideration, and the day is quickly approaching when no one will hold a policy from an office which does not give similar advantages. What a boon is it to heirs of entail, to borrowers of all descriptions, to marriage trustees, in short to all classes, to know, that whatever may happen, wherever the Assured may go, the claim will be met at death, subject to one simple condition, that the annual premium duly stipulated be punctually paid.

ADVANCES ON THE SECURITY OF POLICIES—AND SURRENDERS.

The Directors have also been led to consider the position of the Assured with reference to Loans on the security of their policies, and to Surrenders,—and, in both these respects, they have lately adopted rules of the most liberal character, allowing surrender value on Participating Policies from the commencement of the Assurance, while the same sum which would be given for surrender will be given on loan without expense beyond the trifling stamp duty, and at a rate of interest which landed securities alone command. Thus at present the rate is 4 per cent., and the Directors have followed this course on the simple and unwearied view, that the loan, being on the security of a Policy with the Company, and within its value, should not require a higher rate of interest than the security of land. With these facilities, no policy need be forfeited, except by carelessness, so long as the Assurance is of sufficient value to authorise an advance equivalent to the premium.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

A very large portion of the Profits of this Company is allocated periodically to the Assured on the principle of a Tontine. Divisions have already taken place at four periods—viz., 1835, 1840, 1845, and 1850; and next year, 1855, a Fifth Division will be made from the Profits which have arisen during the five years from 1850 to 1855.

The following Table shows the Additions, as made at the periods above-mentioned:

Life Assurance Companies may be placed among the most useful institutions of modern times, and their increase shows that their value is daily becoming more appreciated. A very large proportion of the property of this kingdom is comprised in Entailed Estates, Estates held by persons as Tenants for Life, Church Property, Pensions, Annuities, Money receivable under Wills, &c.; all showing the importance of these Societies to the more opulent classes, while, in the middle ranks of society, there are now but few whose means of supporting their families depend upon their own personal exertions, or are derived from incomes which cease at their deaths, who do not gladly seize upon the means thus afforded them of leaving some provision for the future maintenance of their surviving dependants; in short, there are but few situations in life in which it is not desirable, at some period, to enter into a contract for Assurance.

ONE-FIFTH of the ascertained Profits of the five preceding years is divided between the Policy-holders and Shareholders; three-fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The Annual Reduction of the Premiums arising from a participation in the Profits of the Society has averaged considerably above 40 per cent., and in no One Year has it fallen below that amount.

The following Table will show the operation of the reduction made by the Society on those Policies upon which six Annual Premiums have been paid :

Age when Policy was issued.	Sum Assured.	Original Premium.	Reduced Annual Premium for the Current Year.
	£	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
20	1,000	19 6 8	11 12 0
30	1,000	24 8 4	14 13 0
40	1,000	31 10 0	18 18 0
50	1,000	42 15 0	25 13 0
60	1,000	66 11 8	39 19 0

Thus it will be seen that the benefits arising from the Division of Profits will be experienced by each Whole Life Assurer on the payment of his Seventh Annual Premium. This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable Bonus by effecting a new Policy. Policies are granted in London, and by resident Committees at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, on Indian risks, at very advantageous rates, calculated from the records of the East Indian Government, showing the true risk of life during residence in India, and after retirement from foreign service.

Life Assurance Companies may be placed among the most useful institutions of modern times, and their increase shows that their value is daily becoming more appreciated. A very large proportion of the property of this kingdom is comprised in Entailed Estates, Estates held by persons as Tenants for Life, Church Property, Pensions, Annuities, Money receivable under Wills, &c.; all showing the importance of these Societies to the more opulent classes, while, in the middle ranks of society, there are now but few whose means of supporting their families depend upon their own personal exertions, or are derived from incomes which cease at their deaths, who do not gladly seize upon the means thus afforded them of leaving some provision for the future maintenance of their surviving dependants; in short, there are but few situations in life in which it is not desirable, at some period, to enter into a contract for Assurance.

ONE-FIFTH of the ascertained Profits of the five preceding years is divided between the Policy-holders and Shareholders; three-fourths to the former, and one-fourth to the latter. The remaining four-fifths are set apart to enter into the average of the succeeding years, and thus to provide against unforeseen contingencies.

The Annual Reduction of the Premiums arising from a participation in the Profits of the Society has averaged considerably above 40 per cent., and in no One Year has it fallen below that amount.

The following Table will show the operation of the reduction made by the Society on those Policies upon which six Annual Premiums have been paid :

Age when Policy was issued.	Sum Assured.	Original Premium.	Reduced Annual Premium for the Current Year.
	£	£ s. d.	£ s. d.
20	1,000	19 6 8	11 12 0
30	1,000	24 8 4	14 13 0
40	1,000	31 10 0	18 18 0
50	1,000	42 15 0	25 13 0
60	1,000	66 11 8	39 19 0

Thus it will be seen that the benefits arising from the Division of Profits will be experienced by each Whole Life Assurer on the payment of his Seventh Annual Premium. This system of reduction in the Premiums affords immediate benefit to the Assured, or enables them to secure a considerable Bonus by effecting a new Policy. Policies are granted in London, and by resident Committees at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, on Indian risks, at very advantageous rates, calculated from the records of the East Indian Government, showing the true risk of life during residence in India, and after retirement from foreign service.

All Policies indisputable after Three Annual Payments.—The Benefits of Life Assurance extended to Impaired Lives.

LIFE.

The business of this Office embraces all Classes in every condition of Life within the United Kingdom, its Colonies and Dependencies; the Court of Directors being thus empowered by the Letters Patent.

No extra rates charged for residence in Europe or the temperate climates of the globe. Premiums may be paid yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, or in one sum, or for a fixed period.

Short period Policies exchanged for Whole Life Policies, on payment of the extra rates, and re examination as to health.

DISTINCTIVE ADVANTAGES.

Assurers in this Office have an immediate, certain, and transferable Interest, in all payments on Whole Life Participating Policies after three years. Such Policies specially empower the owner, on surrender of the original, to claim a Policy freed from future payments (but still participating in Profits) for the amount fixed by Table C, with a right to revive the original Policy, with all its equities, on payment of arrears of Premium, and re-examination of health; thus avoiding the heavy loss frequently sustained from inability or disinclination to keep up a Policy.

The actual Age of the Assured calculated.

The inconveniences from assignments of Policies removed by a Power of substitution.

The peculiarities of the health and habits of Assurers confidential with the Medical Members.

GUARANTEE FOR FIDELITY.

Objections to simple Guarantee Societies obviated by the combination of a Life Policy with the Guarantee Policy, the former being granted at a diminished rate, so that the honest employed obtains an immediate benefit from the payment by his employer of the Guarantee Premium.

The Assured in this class who may be deprived of their situations will be entitled to claim either immediate Annuities to themselves, or Free Policies under Table C; thus they, or their representatives, will reap the full value of these payments, either at once, or at death.

EXAMPLES UNDER TABLE C.

* Thus, a party owning a Policy of £1,000, taken out at age 35, having paid £283 6. 8d., would be entitled at the end of ten years to claim a new Policy for £250 (increased by the amount of the Bonus), free from all further Premiums, and still participating in the Profits of the Association.

The Council of the Medical Benevolent College gratefully acknowledge the warm and extensive support which this much-needed Institution has met with, and continues to enjoy, at the hands of the Members of the Medical Profession and of the public at large. They have a pride and a pleasure in again availing themselves of an opportunity of recording their especial thanks to the Honorary Local Secretaries, to whose energy and zeal in the cause, so much of its success has been due. The portion of the Building contracted for, will now shortly be roofed in, and will therefore at an early period be ready for the reception of inmates. But the numerous applications that are constantly being made for admission prove most palpably that the accommodation will be far beneath the requirements of the case. The Council beg to remind their friends that owing to the extraordinarily high price of building materials, as well as of labour, they were, at the time of entering into the contract, reluctantly compelled to limit the accommodation for Pensioners, much more than was originally intended, and they are of opinion, that greater provision is imperatively demanded. In reliance upon the merits of their cause, which is truly one of the whole Medical Profession, and of all who have ever derived benefit from its Members; in full confidence and faith that the work, so well begun, will with its growth take a firmer hold in the affections, and receive a proportionately increasing support, from their countrymen; the Council have boldly resolved to build additional Residences, by means of which it will be possible to receive, in the course of the ensuing year, a fair proportion of the deserving Applicants as Pensioners. The untiring zeal recently again displayed by the Medical Profession, in the service of their brethren while labouring under the scourge of Cholera, often at a sacrifice of health and even of life, may reasonably be urged as a new ground upon which to ask the Public for their generous support of the Medical Benevolent College; the number of claims upon the Institution will thus receive a further increase. The Council trust that those who enjoy affluence, will not withhold their contributions; that those who cannot spare from their own incomes, will use their influence with their friends; and that all will contribute as much as in them lies, by word or deed, to realize in full, a plan, which will rebound to the credit and honour of all engaged in the enterprise.

By order of the Council,

EDWARD HENRY SIEVEKING, M.D. Hon. Sec.

HERBERT WILLIAMS, ASSISTANT SEC.

3rd. To raise a Benevolent Fund by devoting to that object the profits arising from the general operations of the Society.

INSANITY.

WEST MALLING-PLACE, NEAR MAIDSTONE, KENT.

This Establishment has been conducted for upwards of a century with considerable success.

The Mansion is situate in a picturesque and healthy locality, combining cheerfulness with retirement. The Pleasure Grounds are extensive and a variety of amusements, adapted to the taste and conditions of the Patients. This Establishment is under the immediate direction of the present proprietor, Dr. Lowry, to whom all communications are to be forwarded.

MUNSTER HOUSE, NEAR FULHAM,

THREE MILES FROM HYDE-PARK CORNER.

For the Care and Recovery of Nervous, Epileptic, and Insane Gentlemen.

Proprietor, Mr. CYRUS ALEXANDER ELLIOTT, Surgeon, late of Cowper House, Old Brompton.

ESTABLISHED 1825, BY MESSRS. ELLIOTT AND CO.

MUNSTER HOUSE, once the Hunting Seat of his Majesty King Charles II., contains twenty-nine rooms, and is situated on the road from London to Fulham, in the highest and healthiest part of the parish, and upon a gravelly soil. The pleasure grounds are eight acres, entirely walled in, ornamented with fountains and gold fish, statuary and rock work, terraces and and parterres, conservatories and summer houses, and studded with noble trees and flowering shrubs; the whole offering most cheerful inducements for recreation, exercise, and amusement, which consists of a Bowling-green and Bowling-alley, Swings and Rocking-horses, Billiard and Reading-rooms, with Newspapers, Periodicals, and Musical Instruments, and a Library well stored with books.

An additional House (not seen in the view) has been built, containing a Hall, large and lofty Dining, Sitting, and Bed-rooms, seventeen separate rooms, Washing and Bath-rooms; the whole erected, arranged, heated, ventilated, and lighted with gas, under the sanction and advice of the Commissioners in Lunacy.

This Establishment has the advantage of being near to London, and yet as rural as any of our country villages. It is easy of access for Professional and other visits, by the Putney Omnibuses, every ten minutes from the Bank and London-bridge Railway Station, and it is also within three-quarters of a mile of the Putney Station upon the Windsor Railway.

EFFRA HALL, NEAR THE CHURCH, BRIXTON,

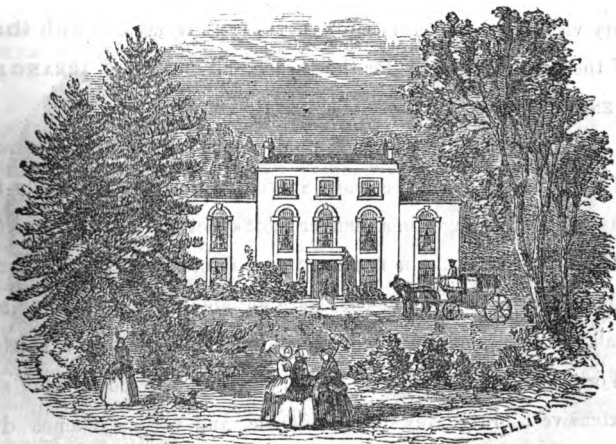

THREE MILES FROM THE BRIDGES.

For the Care and Recovery of Nervous, Epileptic, and Insane Ladies.

ESTABLISHED AT COWPER HOUSE, OLD BROMPTON, 1825,

By MESSRS. ELLIOTT AND Co.

Proprietors, Mr. CYRUS ALEXANDER ELLIOTT, AND Co.

The House, surrounded by its Lawn, walled-in Gardens, Meadow, and Orchard of Five Acres, has long been admitted to be one of the most beautiful and secluded residences in this well-known healthy locality, proverbial for its pleasant walks and varied scenery. The greatest care has been taken to render this Establishment a Domestic Home, rather than an Asylum in the general acceptation of the term; and being exclusively for the reception of Females, a greater extent of Liberty and recreation is available than can possibly be obtained in houses where both sexes are admitted. The additions and detached buildings have been erected at considerable expense, on the most approved plans.

The Faculty are invited to view, in Effra Hall and Munster House, the arrangements expressly made for the various forms of Mental Disease, which have, by experience, been found to assist so materially the Medical and Moral Treatment, by affording Classification to the Insane, Quietude to the Nervous, and to the Epileptic those accommodations which are so particularly required.

Those Patients whose cases permit are allowed (accompanied) to walk and ride into the country, and attend Divine Worship; and if change of air is considered requisite, will, by the request of their friends, be sent to the Sea Coast, where the proprietor has a cottage always in readiness.

Omnibusses pass Effra Hall every Five Minutes, from the City and Oxford-street.

For the Terms, which are strictly moderate, and Attendants, apply to the Medical Superintendent as above, or to Munster House; and to W. V. Pettigrew, M.D., F.R.C.S. of England, 7, Chester-street, Grosvenor-place.

MENTAL DISEASES.

ACOMB-HOUSE, YORK.

Mr. J. W. METCALFE, anxious that his Residence should maintain its truly HOME character, receives ONLY TWELVE PATIENTS, of the better class. Entertained as friends or temporary visitors, their PROFESSIONAL TREATMENT accords with that of the best Institutions for the Insane, all DOMESTIC ARRANGEMENTS being strictly those of a private family.

The HOUSE and GROUNDS in no degree present any appearance of restraint, and all necessary surveillance is so ordered as to ensure its advantages in a manner most quiet and least painful to those requiring it. For EXERCISE and AMUSEMENT the Gardens afford sufficient space to such as are not able to enjoy the varied walks and rides of the adjacent country; a large Billiard Table, Work-room, with a Turning Lathe, together with Books from an extensive Library, Newspapers, Music, and various Games diversifying the means of occupation. Such patients as are able accompany the family to church.

The SITUATION of Acomb House, on a sandy soil, and in the very healthy village of Acomb, is peculiarly favourable, and combines the advantages of the country with those of the town (from which it is about two miles distant).

The TERMS vary, according to the nature of the case, and accommodation required.

Mr. Metcalfe was a pupil with the late Wm. Hey, Esq., of Leeds; for some time Senior House-Surgeon of the South Hospital, Liverpool, and during many years Resident Medical Superintendent of the York Asylum.

Communications to be addressed as above.

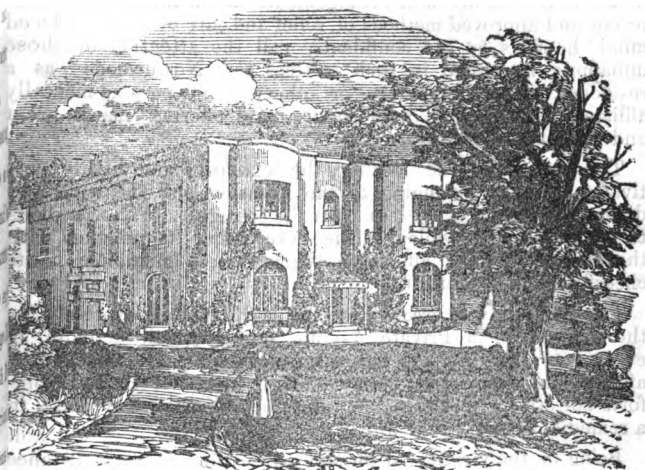

HENDON HOUSE.

HENDON, NEAR HAMPSTEAD.

(SIX MILES FROM LONDON.)

AN ESTABLISHMENT FOR A SELECT NUMBER OF NERVOUS AND INSANE LADIES.

Proprietor, Miss DENCE, late of "Wood End," Hayes.

THE COMMISSIONERS IN LUNACY THUS REPORT ON HENDON HOUSE:

"The different apartments are clean, and in the best order—very appropriately and elegantly furnished, and comfortable in all respects.

"The grounds which surround the house are very pleasing, well kept, and altogether excellently adapted for the purposes of exercise and recreation out of doors."

The patients at Hendon House are regularly attended by a gentleman of considerable professional experience; and they have also the advantage of visits from London Physicians.

Separate apartments, with special attendance, and the use of a carriage are assigned to ladies whose circumstances require such an arrangement.

Hendon was noticed in the Registrar-General's Report on Cholera as "one of the healthiest districts in the county of Middlesex."

N O R T H W O O D S,

NEAR BRISTOL.

An Establishment for the admission of a limited number of INSANE PATIENTS of the higher classes of society.

DR. DAVEY (Member of the Royal College of Physicians of London), having succeeded to the proprietorship of the Asylum above named, formerly in the occupation of DR. HENRY HAWES Fox, deceased, and having now completed a variety of important alterations and improvements, &c., whereby the whole of its internal economy and arrangements are adapted to the most recent and approved methods of relief and cure of the disordered mind, he feels he can confidently call the attention of those unhappily interested in such matters to "Northwoods" as a residence, either temporary or otherwise, for persons mentally afflicted, both replete with comfort and offering many great and peculiar advantages.

The beauty of the locality, the extensive and highly cultivated grounds belonging to the Mansion, and the wide and diversified prospect, not less than the contiguity of Northwoods to the mouth and valley of the Severn, and its junction with the Bristol Channel, afford, in themselves, a guarantee of its cheerfulness and salubrity.

The Building was erected by the late Dr. Fox, expressly for the purpose of a Private Asylum, and adapted, therefore, in every way, for the due CLASSIFICATION OF THE INSANE: it affords, likewise, to its inmates many conveniences and comforts not otherwise attainable; and the importance of these, in a remedial sense, will be directly apparent.

Being in the vicinity of Bristol and within an easy distance of the Yate station on the Bristol and Gloucester line of railway, it is of course readily accessible.

The non-restraint plan of treatment is here fully carried out; and all the resources of the humane system, for so many years practised by Dr. DAVEY at the Middlesex County Lunatic Asylums at Hanwell and Colney Hatch, are in full operation. The arrangements of the entire household, general and domestic, are made and carried through with one object, viz., the personal well-being of the invalid inmates of the Establishment. Carriage, and in some cases, horse exercise, cheerful society, and a variety of amusements, as reading, music, billiards, &c., are provided; and recreation out of doors is much encouraged.

Dr. DAVEY resides with his family at Northwoods, and devotes the whole of his time to the care, comfort, and melioration of his patients.

N.B. Particulars may be learned on application to Dr. DAVEY, at Northwoods, near Bristol; or (by appointment) at his Chambers, 52, Park-street, Bristol.

PRIVATE INSTITUTION FOR THE TREAT- MENT OF THE INSANE, SANDYWELL PARK, NEAR CHELTENHAM, GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

CONDUCTED BY DR. HITCH

(Many years Physician to the Gloucester County Lunatic Asylum).

SANDYWELL PARK has been long known as one of the most admired and healthful residences in the county of Gloucester. The Mansion is situated in a finely-timbered Park of 120 acres in extent, with Gardens, Plantations, and a Farm attached to it. It is on the Cotswold Hills, overlooking the Vale of the Severn, amidst varied and beautiful scenery; and though only five miles from Cheltenham, is perfectly secluded, and affords every facility of access without publicity.

The Mansion has been much improved and considerably enlarged, and by means of additional buildings has been made to consist of two houses attached to each other, effecting not only a separate residence for the two sexes, but a complete classification of patients, with accommodations for either sex, on any required scale; whilst the arrangements are such as to afford separation or social intercourse, according to the varied condition of each invalid, or the wishes of the relatives or friends.

This Institution, therefore, possesses all the requisites for the successful treatment of every form of mental disorder. It embraces the means of domestic quiet, privacy, and security from observation, without close confinement; facility for exercise of all kinds in the open air, and of amusements within doors, suited to the wants as well as to the tastes and habits of the invalid; and as the Physician and his family reside in the house, and live with the patients, the establishment assimilates itself to that of a country gentleman, with this advantage, that it combines the solace of domestic life, and the benefits of social communion, with the indispensable watchfulness of the medical eye.

There are also separate houses on the Estate for those Patients whose friends wish them to avoid association with others.

A Chaplain is also attached to the Establishment.

The Commissioners in Lunacy report, at their visit in March, 1848, "That the arrangements appear to be extremely judicious, and that altogether they have never seen any Private Establishment with which, in point of situation, construction, and means of varied exercise and amusements, they have had greater reason to be satisfied."

For any other particulars, or for terms (which will depend on the accommodations required), applications made to Dr. HITCH, Sandywell-park, near Cheltenham, will receive every attention.

PRIVATE LUNATIC ASYLUM, FARNHAM-HOUSE, FINGLAS.

RESIDENT MEDICAL ATTENDANTS.

JAMES DUNCAN, SEN., M.D., and

NUGENT B. DUNCAN, M.B., F.R.C.S.I.

This Establishment, which has now been opened upwards of thirty-eight years, is situated about three miles from Dublin, and presents many advantages as a place of residence for persons labouring under mental diseases.

The house itself is placed in a cheerful situation, where it commands an extensive view of the Dublin Mountains; while the extent of its accommodation admits of a regular classification of the inmates according to the nature of their malady.

There is a house for the reception of a limited number of females (with gardens and exercising grounds entirely separated from the male establishment), who are attended exclusively by females.

Several large and distinct exercise-grounds are attached to the various divisions of the building, so that no intercourse between the patients of the different classes is permitted to take place, which might have an injurious effect upon any of them. There are also separate buildings for the removal of the noisy patients.

The medical Attendants reside constantly in the Asylum, and thus, besides devoting their own time and energies to promoting the comfort and recovery of the invalids entrusted to their care, by their very presence tend to prevent the occurrence of those abuses which so often arise from the ignorance or improper conduct of ordinary attendants.

A billiard-table, spring-board, and other exercises suitable to the house, are provided for the use of the inmates, when the state of the weather prevents their going out; while other occupations engage their attention in the various exercise grounds.

Newspapers, Periodicals, and the use of an extensive Library, are permitted to such patients as may be capable of deriving advantage from them.

Music, cheerful society, and interesting amusements occupy the evening.

Provision is also made for the regular attendance of Chaplains of the different Persuasions and their performance of Divine Service in the house—while those whose state admits of it, attend Public Worship in the neighbourhood, and are taken on excursions, and to places of public amusement.

Further particulars may be known on application to Dr. DUNCAN, either at the Asylum, or 39, Marlborough-street.

NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISORDERS.

EASTGATE HOUSE, LINCOLN.

A Private Establishment for the residence of a limited number of Ladies of the upper classes. Conducted by Mr. R. GARDINER HILL, M.R.C.S. Eng. (originator of the system of non-restraint in Lunacy), and Mrs. HILL.

"Mr. Gardiner Hill, with a promptitude, decision, and boldness, which ought to be had in perpetual remembrance, set the great example of living without restraints altogether, acted upon this large and wise principle, and succeeded."—Dr. Conolly's Lecture, Royal Institution, April 23, 1853.

"In advocating the claims of Dr. Conolly, I have never overlooked those of Mr. Hill, as the originator of the non-restraint system in our Asylums. In proof that Dr. Conolly himself does justice to Mr. Hill's merits, Dr. Conolly suggested to me, long ago, whether some portion of his subscription might not appropriately be devoted to the recognition of Mr. Hill's claims."—Letter from Sir John Forbes, M.D., Physician in Ordinary to Her Majesty's Household, Jan. 6, 1851.

"The Governors never expressed a wish for the extinction of restraint; they never expected it; not one of them deemed it possible. It was Mr. Hill who had the courage to broach the original and invaluable idea, that the use of instruments might be wholly dispensed with."—Sir Edw. F. Bromhead, Bart., Vice-President of the Lincoln Asylum."

"The real honour belonged to Mr. Hill, of the Lincoln Asylum."—Dr. Charlesworth.

BEST FOOD FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS.

ROBINSON'S PATENT BARLEY

Is the only genuine article by which pure Barley Water can be made in ten minutes. It produces an excellent mucilaginous beverage, more palatable than that made from Pearl Barley. Mothers, during the anxious period of suckling, will find it cooling and nutritious. In constitutions when stimulant and fermented liquors are inadmissible, it is an ample and productive source of comfort both to the parent and infant. It is also strongly recommended for light suppers, food for infants, and makes a most delicious custard pudding; for which purpose it has been used by families of the first distinction, and will be found suitable for the invalid or healthy, the infant or aged. It is also highly esteemed as an adjunct with new milk for the breakfast table.

ROBINSON'S PATENT GROATS.

The nourishing qualities of Oats, from which Groats are made, are in this country so well known as to need but little remark. In Scotland the food generally used is from this source—the result is a strong and healthy population. Many eminent Physicians speak of Oatmeal as of a cooling nature, and consequently prescribe it in fevers; but it is no less beneficial as a general food when deprived of the bitterness and unpleasant qualities, which produce heartburn and acidity in the stomach. The process by which Robinson's Patent Groats are made, entirely obviates this latter objection. They are the purest flour of the oat that it is possible to produce; thus they are pre-eminent as a food for children—giving energy to the robust and strength to the delicate. They are equally serviceable to those labouring under indigestion, and form an excellent supper for the invalid or healthy during the winter months.

The addition of a caution is too often unheeded, perhaps because it is so commonly added to an announcement of this kind; but the recent inquiries into the composition of the various articles of food show that the purchaser may often be imposed upon. ROBINSON, BELLVILLE, and CO., would therefore, while courting the fullest scrutiny into the quality of their Patent Barley and Patent Groats, desire to caution the Public not to be imposed on by receiving an article similar in external appearance but wholly different in other respects to that bearing their name.

The Proprietors of Robinson's Patent Barley and Patent Groats, desirous that the public shall at all times purchase these preparations in a perfectly sweet and fresh condition, respectfully inform the public that every packet is now completely enveloped in the purest Tin Foil, over which is the usual and well-known paper wrapper.

NEWFOUNDLAND COD-LIVER OIL

IS MADE FROM THE TRUE COD LIVER,

“Morrhua Vulgaris.”

Vide “Yarrell’s British Fishes,” vol. ii. page 103.*

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

Gentlemen,—We have great pleasure in informing you that we have just returned, having completed our sixth voyage in personally superintending the manufacture of Cod-Liver Oil, at St. John’s, Newfoundland, and we can confidently recommend it as being fully equal in quality to our former year’s supply, and that it will sustain the reputation which our make has so long enjoyed. This season’s Oil has been carefully prepared from the finest selected livers, without any other process than the slight application of steam heat at a low temperature, under the immediate superintendence of Charles Fox.

Newfoundland affords no other livers for the preparation of the Oil than the True Cod—Morrhua vulgaris—which statement can be confirmed by reference to merchants of the highest respectability residing in London, Liverpool, Bristol, Greenock, Bridport, &c.; and that the Dorse Gadus Callarius (a species of cod), or variable Cod of Northern Europe, is not to be seen there (vide “Yarrell on British Fishes,” vol. ii. page 151), or are any other fish taken to obtain the livers from; and owing to the great personal care bestowed in the manufacture of our Oil, patients will find it perfectly sweet in taste, and free from any unpleasant heat in the throat after taking it. If it is minutely compared with any other oil offered to your notice, it will be found to possess these excellent qualities in giving out brilliant colour when tested with sulphuric acid, abounding in bile, gastric juice, &c., giving the character to our Oil we so justly maintain. It is with pleasure we record having made and sold upwards of one hundred and twenty-five thousand gallons—say 125,000 gallons.

Newfoundland Cod-Liver Oil of our make, pure and genuine, at a moderate price, may be obtained of every respectable Chemist in the United Kingdom.

We have the honour to remain,

Gentlemen,

Your obedient servants,

CHARLES FOX and COMPANY.

Cliff House, Scarbro’, 12th Dec., 1854.

* We also with pleasure refer you to an able and well-written description of the “Cod Proper, and Newfoundland Fisheries,” also an eulogium on the Oil, written by the Rev. C. Badham, M.D., in his recently published work, entitled “Ancient and Modern Fish Tattle.”—J. W. Parker and Son, London.

DAPHNE MARINA SALT FOR BATHS

Will be found a most beneficial addition to hot, tepid, or cold Baths, where it is desirable to promote cuticular and capillary action.

The feeling of warmth and vigour, and the increased appetite, which in several days follow the use of this saline composition in a full bath exceeds the effects of sea-bathing; while local bathing of rheumatic or weak parts with this salt has been found most effectual in restoring a normal state. Recommended by Dr. Andrew Ure, F.R.S., &c.

Sold by the Proprietor, C. MEINIG, 103, Leadenhall-street, and 213a, Piccadilly, London, and by all his Agents in Town, Country, and the Colonies.

N.B. Mr. Meinig will be happy to supply sample packets to any Medical Gentleman who may wish to test this valuable preparation.

Extracts and Editorial Note from the New York Journal of Medicine.)

" March 1st, 1850.

" BROWN'S CANTHARIDINE TISSUE.—It presents peculiar claims to our notice in the inflammatory diseases of females and children, in whom the unpleasant consequences which so often follow the application of the Emp. Cantharides are most apt to occur. We have found it a reliable and peculiarly safe vesicant, and from the many trials we have given it, we are satisfied that it deserves the attention of the Medical Profession.

" Accompanying this article is a very simple and neat dressing."

" June 24th, 1850.

" Mr Dalrymple presents his compliments to Mr. Brown, and is much obliged to him by his kindness in sending Specimens of his Preparation for Blistering, &c. Mr. D. delayed answering his present until he had had an opportunity of testing it in practice, and is most happy to acknowledge its utility, elegance, and cheapness, and he has recommended it with great satisfaction.

" Army Medical Department, Jan. 16, 1847.

" The principal Medical Officer of the General Hospital, Fort Pitt, Chatham, reports that Mr Brown's Blistering Tissue has been used extensively in the Military Hospital—has been found effective as a Vesicatory, when carefully applied, and has not been productive of any degree of Strangury.

PATENT GUTTA PERCHA SOLES.

THE GUTTA PERCHA COMPANY have pleasure in requesting the attention of the Public to the following selection of extracts of letters from Medical Men relative to PATENT GUTTA PERCHA SOLES :—

From Dr. Conquest, F.L.S., London.

“The peculiar non-conducting and electric properties of Gutta Percha render it invaluable equally in cold and hot weather, when affixed to the soles of boots and shoes. I would urge every one to use it who appreciates the inestimable blessing of health.”

From John Taylor Gordon, Esq., M.D., London.

(Heretofore Physician to his late Majesty, and to H. R. H. the Duke of Cambridge, but now retired.)

“I find them the pleasantest wear imaginable—more durable than leather, and truly valuable on the score of health, as they preserve the feet from wet and cold.”

From Alfred Snee, Esq., F.R.S., London.

Senior Surgeon to the Royal General Dispensary, Surgeon to the Bank of England, &c.

“Gutta Percha is far preferable to leather for the soles of boots and shoes; it keeps the feet warm and dry—very important requisites for the maintenance of health.”

From J. C. Cumming, Esq., M.D., London.

“It is, compared with leather, a slow conductor of heat; the effect of this is, that the warmth of the feet is retained, however cold the surface may be on which the person stands.”

From A. Turabull, Esq., M.D., London.

“I have great pleasure in bearing testimony to the very high value of Gutta Percha Soles in preserving the health, but more especially of those who are subject to chilblains—all plans hitherto have been inferior to Gutta Percha for the prevention of that disease.”

From William Huxtable, Esq., Surgeon, Hackney.

“I consider them for winter use infinitely superior to leather, and one of the greatest boons which Providence has bestowed on us for years. By their use you are protected from the effects of cold and damp, which is the fruitful source of many diseases.”

DURABILITY OF GUTTA PERCHA TUBING.

Many inquiries having been made as to the durability of Gutta Percha Tubing, the Gutta Percha Company have much pleasure in giving publicity to the following letters from parties who have had it in use for a considerable length of time:—

From Sir Raymond Jarvis, Bart., Ventnor, Isle of Wight (2nd Testimonial).

“In reply to your letter received this morning, respecting the Gutta Percha Tubing for pump service, I can state, with much satisfaction, it answers perfectly. Many builders and other persons have lately examined it, and there is not the least apparent difference since the first laying down, now several years; and I am informed that it is to be adopted generally in the houses that are being erected here.”

From C. Hacker, Esq., Surveyor to his Grace the Duke of Bedford, Woburn Park (2nd Testimonial).

“Office of Works, Woburn Park.—Gentlemen: In answer to your inquiries respecting the Gutta Percha Tubing for pump suction, I find that the water has not affected it in the least, although it will eat lead through in two years. We have adopted it largely, being cheaper than lead, much easier fixed, and a more perfect job.”

Submarine & Subterranean Telegraph Wire insulated with Gutta Percha.

Every variety of Gutta Percha Articles, such as Mill Bands, Tubing, Soles, Sheet, Pump Buckets, Fire Buckets, Bosses, Union Joints, Flasks, Bottles, Bowls, Chamber Vessels, Toilet Trays, Curtain Rings, Galvanic Batteries, Talbotype Trays, &c. &c., manufactured by the Gutta Percha Company and sold by their wholesale dealers in town and country.

F. WALTERS'S HYDRO-PNEUMATIC ENEMA SYRINGE.

The great objection to all Enema Syringes hitherto invented is the trouble which they give in using. This is entirely avoided by the use of the HYDRO-PNEUMATIC ENEMA SYRINGE. Instead of having to draw up and depress the piston continually during the whole time, it is only necessary to depress it twice. Being made in the form of a telescope, when out of use it is less than half the size of any other syringe which holds the same quantity of fluid. Manufactured entirely of solid metal which will not corrode, it is not likely to get out of order. F. Walters will be happy to show it, and explain its use to all who will call on him for that purpose. Price 35s., with the usual professional discount.

WALTERS'S RAILWAY URINALS, FOR TRAVELLERS AND INVALIDS.

This instrument is adapted both for Ladies and Gentlemen: it is made of solid India-rubber, so that it is not decomposed or acted upon in the slightest degree by the urine. There is a valve which prevents the return of the fluid, and it can be worn with perfect comfort, either day or night, without being perceived by the closest observer.

HOT FOMENTATIONS.

WALTERS'S INDIA-RUBBER BAGS for hot water will be found the most convenient and useful application for all cases of cholera, and whenever it may be necessary to apply heat to any part of the body. It is well known that, whatever may be the treatment for this disease, it is most important that the abdomen and the feet should be kept warm. Price from 12s. 6d.; by post, 15s.

NEW TRUSS FOR HERNIA.

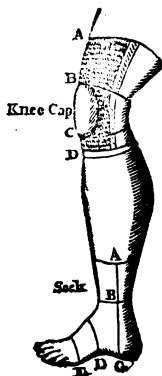

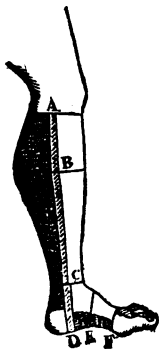

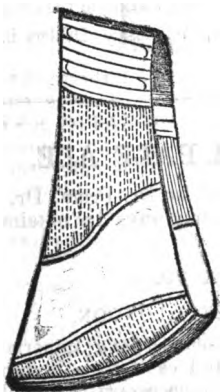

F. WALTERS begs to call attention to his New Truss, with improved water pad. The advantage of water is extreme softness, and the certainty of the pressure being always in the proper place. This Truss has received the approbation of the most eminent Surgeons, many of whom pronounce it the most perfect ever yet produced. Manufacturer of Trusses, Enema Syringes, and Anatomical and Surgical Instruments. Elastic Stockings to draw on without lacing. Suspenders for Riding and Hunting.

Begs respectfully to solicit the attention of the Medical Profession to the following Preparations, manufactured in his Laboratory, under his immediate superintendence; particularly that he has commenced preparing COD-LIVER OIL, of which, during the season, the preceding day's manufacture may be had the following morning. In consequence of the great caution exercised in obtaining the Liver quite fresh, and the delicacy observed in preparing it, his Oil will be found free from the least unpleasant smell or taste, and perfectly agrees with the description which Dr. Williams and others state genuine Cod-Liver Oil should possess. W. T. also recommends his

STRUVE'S MINERAL WATERS,

ROYAL GERMAN SPA, BRIGHTON,

UNDER HER MAJESTY'S ESPECIAL PATRONAGE.

STRUVE and CO. beg to direct attention to the above establishment, where for nearly thirty years past all the most efficient Mineral Waters have been prepared, and have been admitted by the best English and foreign authorities to be identical in physical properties and medicinal effects with the natural ones. Numerous attempts are, however, made to impose inferior preparations upon the public, by using Struve and Co.'s old bottles, imitating their labels and stamps, and by the use of the designation "Brighton Seltzer," "Brighton Fochingen," &c., while a careful analysis of some of these, stated to be prepared "according to the most accurate analysis," has shown the total absence of iron in the professed chalybeates, and a general disregard to their true chemical composition.

STRUVE and CO. beg to state that they have not the remotest connection with any of these parties; and respectfully request the Public to observe carefully that the name of "STRUVE" is on the label as well as on both sides of the red stamp over the cork, which has the words "ROYAL GERMAN SPA, BRIGHTON," beneath the Royal Arms.

The frauds alluded to relate more particularly to the Seltzer, Fachingen, and Vichy Waters. Orders for Struve's Bottled Mineral Waters continue to be executed by George Waugh and Co., Chemists to the Queen, 177, Regent-street, London, and by numerous other respectable houses in London and other towns, where a prospectus may be obtained gratis.

WEAK, CONTINUOUS CURRENTS OF GALVANISM;

AS EVOLVED FROM

MEINIG'S PATENT PORTABLE

GALVANIC ELECTRO-GENERATOR

CONSTRUCTED

WORN ON THE BODY, UNDER THE GARMENTS,

SUPPLYING

VITAL AND FUNCTIONAL ENERGY TO ANY PART TO WHICH IT IS APPLIED.

Mr. MEINIG begs to call the attention of the PROFESSION to his ANNUAL REPORT of this Discovery, just publishsd, which contains between 400 and 500 cases of chronic, rheumatic, nervous, and functional disorders, relieved and cured solely by wearing these small portable apparatuses for a shorter or longer period. Many of these cases are reported by medical men of long standing, and it is now proved beyond the possibility of doubt, that these mild and continuous currents of Electricity, when kept up for some time, constitute a remedy, perfectly distinct from, and infinitely more effective in chronic cases than the galvanic treatment by shocks or violent impulses, hitherto followed; while the prescription and use of these small apparatuses, is unattended by any trouble or inconvenience whatever.

Galvanism, as evolved from these portable Electro-Generators, acts as a gentle and most congenial stimulant of the whole vitality of the parts to which it is applied; and the range of diseases, in which a local stimulus of this nature is attended with the most beneficial results, may be said to be almost unlimited; for this form of Galvanic stimulation is never followed by reaction or weakness; it is applied directly to the parts on which it has to act, independently of digestive or other functions; strongly or weakly, continuously or intermittently, at option; and the Apparatus is now so perfect, that the patient can modify its action instantly, according to his sensation of the current, without undressing, and without trouble or inconvenience of any kind.

The invention has already been honoured by the unqualified approval of many eminent Members of the Profession; as of Dr. Golding Bird, Sir James Eyre, Mr. Ure, of St. Mary's Hospital, Dr. Spurgie, of the Foundling Hospital, &c. &c.; and Mr. MEINIG will be happy to afford every facility to Medical Gentlemen for the extensive trial and use of a remedy, which he is fully confident will, in a few years, take a very prominent place among therapeutic agents.

The comfort afforded by the use of these Hydrostatic Beds or Mattresses brought them into very general use, especially in cases of bed-sores, and threatened with sloughing, or in which sloughing has actually taken place, affections, paralysis, fever, fractures, consumptive, and other invalids.

The Medical Profession of the United Kingdom, France, Germany, America, and India report most favourably of them.

TESTIMONIAL FROM

The late Dr. JONATHAN PEREIRA,

Professor at the University of London, Author of "The Elements of Materia Medica and Therapeutics," &c., &c.

"My dear Sir,—I was very glad to find from you, when I had the pleasure of seeing you in London, that you were interested commercially in Cod-Liver Oil. It was fitting that the Author of the best analysis and investigations into the properties of this Oil should himself be the Purveyor of this important medicine.

"I feel, however, some diffidence in venturing to fulfil your request by giving you my opinion of the quality of the oil of which you gave me a sample; because I know that no one can be better, and few so well, acquainted with the physical and chemical properties of this medicine as yourself, whom I regard as the highest authority on the subject.

"I can, however, have no hesitation about the propriety of responding to your application. The oil which you gave me was of the very finest quality, whether considered with reference to its colour, flavour, or chemical properties; and I am satisfied that for medicinal purposes no finer oil can be procured.

"With my best wishes for your success, believe me, my dear Sir, to be very faithfully yours,

(Signed)

"JONATHAN PEREIRA,
 Finsbury-square, London, April 16, 1851."

BANK OF DEPOSIT, NATIONAL ASSURANCE AND INVESTMENT ASSOCIATION,

3, PALL MALL EAST, LONDON.

Established A.D. 1844.—Empowered by Special Act of Parliament.

CAPITAL STOCK, £100,000.

This Association is composed of two distinct and separate branches:—
the one comprising the business of a BANK OF DEPOSIT for the Investment of Capital; the other the ordinary transactions of Life Assurance.

BANKING DEPARTMENT.

The object of this Department is to afford a safe and easy mode of Investment, and to effect important improvements in the present system of Monetary economy, both as regards the security afforded to the Public and the rate of interest realised.

The plan of the Bank of Deposit differs materially from that of ordinary Banks, or Savings' Banks, in the mode of investing Capital—ultimate profit and security being the main objects regarded, the Board of Management principally employ their Funds in Loans upon vested Life Interests and other similar securities, and in the purchase of well-secured Reversions, a class of securities which, although not immediately convertible, it is well known yields the greatest amount of profit, combined with the most perfect safety.

RATE OF INTEREST.

The present rate of Interest is five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly; and the Board of Management confidently anticipate that a careful and judicious selection from securities of the above description will enable them to continue this rate to the Depositors.

INVESTMENT ACCOUNTS.

Money is received daily, between the hours of TEN and FOUR o'clock.
Investment Accounts may be opened with Capital of any amount, and increased from time to time, at the convenience of Depositors.

A Stock Voucher, signed by two Directors, is given for each sum deposited.

INTEREST.

The INTEREST is payable in JANUARY and JULY, and for the convenience of parties residing at a distance, may be received at the Branch Offices, or through Country Bankers.
